2018 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

STATE CHAMPIONS • ACC CHAMPIONS • COTTON BOWL CHAMPIONS

Clemson posted an undefeated 15-0 record, becoming the first team to accomplish the feat since Penn in 1897. The Tigers won each of their final 10 games by 20+ points.

Clemson finished its sixth undefeated season (1900, 1906, 1948, 1950, 1981, 2018) and fourth perfect season (1900, 1948, 1981, 2018) in school history.

Clemson had a 15-0 record against a schedule that included a school-record 12 games against teams that finished with winning records.

Clemson's roster included 26 members who had already earned degrees before the game was played, including two with master's degrees.

The last time Clemson did not win at least one postseason game was in 2010, when Clemson lost in the Meineke Car Care Bowl after not qualifying for the ACC Championship Game.

WITH ITS VICTORY IN THE 2024 ACC CHAMPIONSHIP GAME, CLEMSON HAS WON AT LEAST ONE POSTSEASON GAME EACH OF THE LAST 14 SEASONS.

ERA-TRANSCENDING EXCELLENCE

In the 2025 offseason, Pick Six Previews examined the winningest teams over various time horizons. Clemson is one of only six schools to rank among the 15 best in wins in each of the examined time spans alongside Alabama, Georgia, Michigan, Ohio State and Penn State.

SEASONS OF 9+ OR 10+ WINS

Though Clemson's streak of 12 consecutive 10-win seasons concluded in 2023, Clemson won each of its final five games of the 2023 season to conclude the year at 9-4. A year later, Clemson posted its 14th consecutive season with nine or more wins in 2024, tying for the third-longest streak in major college football history.

5.	Georgia	71-19	.789

Note: Includes postseason play

For the last quarter-century, Clemson's ACC success has not been a roller-coaster ride of lofty heights and deep lows. The last time Clemson finished a season below .500 in regular season conference play was in 1998, when Tommy West's 3-8 squad went 1-7 in ACC play. Clemson's 26-year streak of being .500 or better in conference play is tied for the longest active streak in the country and tied for the fourth-longest of any streak since 1966.

Note: Power conference schools (1992-24)

In 2020, Clemson and Oklahoma's six-year streaks of outright titles made the two programs the first among current power conference programs to win at least six straight outright titles since Oklahoma (12 from 1948-59) as part of the now-dissolved Big 8 Conference.

As a counterpoint to conjecture that Clemson's in-conference success is limited to its membership in the ACC, Clemson owns a better winning percentage against the SEC in the College Football Playoff era than 12 of the SEC's current members.

SIGN & DEVELOP

While proud of his incoming classes, Head Coach Dabo Swinney has long stated that a true ranking of a recruiting class cannot and should not be published until four years later when the group can be evaluated on performance rather than potential.

Much to Swinney's delight, The Athletic has annually assumed that role for the classes of 2014-20, re-ranking each recruiting class four years later to account for on-field performance.

For its re-rankings, The Athletic uses the following grading scale: 5 points: All-American, award winner, top-50 NFL Draft pick; 4: Multi-year starter, all-conference honors; 3: One-year starter or key reserve; 2:

CFP STAPLES

In the 10-year history of the four-team format from 2014-23, only 15 programs earned at least one College Football Playoff berth. Clemson ranked second in CFP berths, CFP title game appearances, total CFP wins and CFP titles in that span.

Clemson returned to the College Football Playoff in 2024 in the format's first year of expansion to 12 teams and is one berth shy of Alabama (8) for most in history.

THE CLEMSON FOOTBALL STANDARD

CLEMSON CONTINUES TO BE A MODEL IN THE CLASSROOM AND ON THE FIELD UNDER HEAD COACH DABO SWINNEY.

Career backup; 0: Minor or no contribution, left the program. The outlet also adds a bonus to each program's class average, derived from its total number of wins from 2017 through 2020 (e.g.: For re-ranking the Class of 2017, Clemson won 51 games, so its class average received a bonus of 0.51).

Even in its current stretch of recruiting success, Swinney has pointed out that Clemson often falls in rankings, as its commitment to not oversigning leads to smaller recruiting classes, as well as noting that much of Clemson's on-field success is a function of the program's development, citing All-Americans like former three-star Isaiah Simmons or former two-star Nolan Turner. The re-rankings illustrate Clemson's impressive track record of talent identification, culture fit, resource allocation and player development.

CLEMSON RECRUITING RANKINGS AND RE-RANKINGS (VIA THE ATHLETIC)

Class	Rank	Re-Rank	Diff.	Record
2014	16	6	+10	50-7
2018	7	2	+5	49-6
2019	10	5	+5	45-9
Average	10.2	4.0	+6.2

Note: Initial rank according to 247 Composite

On average, Clemson ranked 10.2 in the 247 Composite team rankings across the 2014-20 recruiting cycles. Upon re-ranking those groups, despite having little room for improvement while recruiting at a Top 15 clip in that span, Clemson ranked 4.0 on average in the re-rankings, a ratings bump of roughly six spots. Each of those Clemson classes averaged at least 10 wins a season during their careers.

HOME SWEET HOME

Clemson produced an ACC-record 40-game winning streak in games played at Memorial Stadium from 2016-22, breaking the conference record of 37 set by Florida State under Bobby Bowden from 1992-2001. Clemson's 40-game home winning streak in that span was one of only 15 home winning streaks of 35 games or more in FBS history.

LONGEST HOME WINNING STREAK (FBS HISTORY)

Rk	School	Years	Streak
1.	Miami (Fla.)	1985-94	58
2.	Alabama	1963-82	57
3.	Harvard	1890-95	56

Clemson has won at least five home games in each of the last 19 years, the nation's longest active streak.

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

- Clemson posted a 99 percent NCAA Graduation Success Rate in 2023 and 2024, tied for the highest ever recorded among public Power Five football programs in the 20 years the NCAA has tracked the metric.
- Through the spring of 2025, of the 406 players who completed their athletic eligibility at Clemson and/or graduated early in Dabo Swinney's 16 full years as head coach, 400 (98.5 percent) have earned a degree during their time at Clemson.
- Clemson broke program multi-year NCAA Academic Progress Rate records in three straight years from 2017-19 (987 in 2016-17, 992 in 2017-18 and 993 in 2018-19) before the NCAA suspended APR reporting during the COVID-19 pandemic. Upon reinstatement of APR reporting in June 2022, Clemson shattered its multi-year APR record with a 999 covering the 2017-18 through 2020-21 academic years.
- Most recently, Clemson posted a 995 multi-year APR covering 2020-21 through 2023-24, fifth-best in the FBS. Clemson, Air Force and Northwestern are the only FBS programs to produce a 990+ multi-year APR in each of the last six reported cycles.
- Clemson is the only program in the country to have finished among the Top 25 in APR among FBS schools and the AP Top 25 in every reported APR cycle over the last 14 seasons.
- Prior to the suspension of APR Public Recognition Awards during the COVID-19 pandemic, the NCAA recognized Clemson with its annual honor, which is bestowed upon programs ranking in the Top 10 percent of their respective sports, for nine of the award's last 10 reported academic cycles. Only 37 of the 130 FBS programs earned at least one APR recognition across the 2009-10 through 2018-19 academic years. Only 30 of the programs earned it multiple times. Clemson, Duke and Northwestern were the only ones to earn the award 9+ times in that 10-year span.
- Clemson became the first FBS program since the NCAA created the APR metric in 2003 to win a national title and an APR Public Recognition Award in the same year multiple times (2016 & 2018).
- In 2018, Christian Wilkins became Clemson's first William V. Campbell Trophy winner, collecting the award known colloquially as the "Academic Heisman Trophy." He became the fifth player in the award's history, and the first in the College Football Playoff era, to earn the honor and a national title in the same season, joining Alabama's Barrett Jones (2012), Miami's Joaquin Gonzales (2001), Florida's Danny Wuerffel (1996) and Nebraska's Rob Zatechka (1994).
- Chad Carson and Kyle Young were first-team Academic All-Americans in the 2000 and 2001 seasons. Clemson was the only Division I school in the nation with two first-team picks each year. Young was a first-team Academic All-American from 1999-01 and became just the second ACC player in history to be a three-time, first-team selection.
- Dalton Freeman was a 2012 All-American on and off the field. He was a first-team All-American by AFCA and second-team Academic All-American by CoSIDA.
- In 2023, Will Shipley became the first Tiger scholarship player on record to graduate in three years with a 4.0 GPA. The two-time Academic All-American was believed to be the first FBS player with 4,000 all-purpose yards and graduate with a 4.0 in three years.

BOWL HISTORY

- Clemson enters 2025 having earned a bowl berth in each of the last 20 seasons, the longest streak in the ACC and the fourth-longest streak in the nation. The 20-year streak nearly triples the second-longest streak in school history (seven from 1985-91).

- Clemson's 27 all-time bowl wins are tied for the 11th-most in college football history.
- Clemson won a bowl game every year from 2012-16 against a program led by a head coach who won a national title at some point in his career. That includes two in 2016, when the Tigers beat Urban Meyer (Ohio State) and Nick Saban (Alabama). Clemson added an additional win over Saban's Alabama squad in 2018 and one over Ryan Day's Ohio State team in 2019.
- Fifteen of Clemson's 27 bowl wins have come against coaches who have won the FBS National Championship at some point in their careers. That includes recent wins over Les Miles (LSU) in 2012, Urban Meyer (Ohio State) in 2013 and 2016, Bob Stoops (Oklahoma) in 2014 and 2015, Nick Saban in 2016 and 2018 and Ryan Day in 2019. A 16th win can be claimed with that figure when including national championships at all levels, as Clemson defeated Notre Dame's Brian Kelly, who won two Division II titles at Grand Valley State, in the 2018 Cotton Bowl.
- Clemson's first bowl game was a 6-3 victory over Boston College and Head Coach Frank Leahy in the 1940 Cotton Bowl.
- Clemson is 8-2 in its history in bowl games against Nebraska, Ohio State and Oklahoma, three of the top-eight programs in college football history in terms of wins. Clemson is the only program to have beaten Oklahoma three times in bowl play and is one of only three schools with multiple bowl victories over the Sooners to its credit. The Tigers are 4-1 vs. Ohio State and 1-1 vs. Nebraska. Including a 1-0 bowl mark against Notre Dame, 1-0 record against Penn State and 2-2 bowl record against Alabama, Clemson is 12-4 in bowls all-time against the eight winningest programs in major college football history.
- Between both bowl games and conference title games, Clemson has won at least one postseason game in 14 straight years, the longest streak in FBS history.
- Hall of Fame Head Coach Woody Hayes suffered his final loss versus Clemson in the 1978 Gator Bowl. Overall, Clemson has 15 bowl wins against head coaches who are enshrined in the College Football Hall of Fame (Frank Leahy, Don Faurot, Andy Gustafson, Woody Hayes, Tom Osborne, Joe Paterno, Barry Switzer, Don Nehlen, Phillip Fulmer and two each against Nick Saban, Urban Meyer and Bob Stoops).

CHAMPIONSHIP TRADITION

- The Tigers earned national championships in 1981, 2016 and 2018. In 1981, Clemson was the only school in the nation with a perfect record (12-0). It included three wins over top-10 teams (Georgia, Nebraska, North Carolina), the only team to beat three top-10 teams in 1981.
- The 1981 team had five All-Americans, including first-team selections Jeff Davis, Terry Kinard and Perry Tuttle. Thirty-one players on the 1981 squad were eventually drafted by the NFL and 22 players eventually played in the NFL. Twenty-three different players on the 1981 roster were First-Team All-ACC selections at one time during their Clemson careers.
- Clemson won its second national title in 2016 with a 14-1 record. The Tigers played the nation's toughest schedule that year, beating six teams that finished in the top 25 of the AP poll. The Tigers defeated No. 3 Louisville, No. 2 Ohio State and No. 1 Alabama over the course of the season.
- Clemson earned its third national title in 2018, becoming the first major college team to post a 15-0 record since Penn in 1897. Clemson won each of its final 10 games by 20+ points and defeated No. 3 Notre Dame and No. 1 Alabama in the College Football Playoff by a combined score of 74-19.
- Clemson has earned an ACC-best 10 conference championship game appearances and is 9-1 in those contests. Clemson's .900 all-time winning percentage in conference championship games is the second-best in the nation (Oklahoma, 11-1, .917).
- Clemson won the 2011, 2015, 2016, 2017, 2018, 2019, 2020, 2022 and 2024 ACC titles under Dabo Swinney. His nine titles are the most since the institution of the ACC Championship Game.
- From 2015-20, Clemson became the first team in ACC history to win six consecutive outright conference titles (2015-20). Clemson and Oklahoma's six-year streaks of outright conference titles those years made the two programs the first among current power conference programs to win at least six straight outright titles since Oklahoma (12 from 1948-59).
- Every Clemson signing class under Swinney except for the incoming 2025 class has at least one ACC title to its credit in their tenures at Clemson, and every signing class from 2012-24 has earned at least one College Football Playoff berth.

COACHING SUCCESS

- Dabo Swinney has a 180-47 record in 17 seasons as head coach, passing Bobby Bowden (173 during Florida State's membership in the ACC) in 2024 as the winningest head coach in ACC history. Swinney broke Bowden's record in Tallahassee on the field bearing Bowden's name.
- In 2023, Swinney passed Frank Howard (165) to become Clemson's all-time winningest coach.
- Swinney's 161 victories from 2008-22 trailed only Urban Meyer (165) for the most wins through the first 15 seasons of a head coaching career in FBS history.
- Swinney earned his 150th career win in only his 186th career game as head coach. He became the sixth-fastest coach in FBS history to 150 wins, trailing only Urban Meyer (176), Gil Dobie (180), Barry Switzer (180), Fielding Yost (184) and Joe Paterno (184). Swinney became the fourth fastest to 150 wins in the modern era.
- Swinney won 12 coach-of-the-year honors in the 2015 season, two ACC and 10 for national coach of the year. That included national coach of the year by Associated Press, ESPN, Sporting News, Walter Camp Foundation and the American Football Coaches Association. He also won the Bear Bryant Award in 2015, 2016 and 2018, becoming the first three-time winner in the award's history. Swinney also won the Gene Stallings Award and FCA Coach of the Year in 2014 and the Bobby Dodd Award in 2011. Swinney was inducted into the state of Alabama Hall of Fame in 2018 and was selected as honorary coach of the AFCA Good Works Team in 2019.
- A Clemson assistant coach was a Frank Broyles Award finalist in four straight years from 2015-18 and won the award in back-to-back years. Brent Venables was a finalist in 2015 and won the award in 2016. Tony Elliott won the award in 2017. Jeff Scott was a finalist in 2018 (and semifinalist in 2019). The wins by Venables and Elliott in 2016-17 represented the first time two different coaches from the same school won the award in consecutive years. Clemson hired 2022 Broyles Award winner Garrett Riley in 2023.
- Four former Tiger coaches (John Heisman, Frank Howard, Jess Neely and Danny Ford) are in the College Football Hall of Fame.
- Howard ended his career with 165 victories, and his 30-year tenure is still fifth-longest in NCAA history for a head coach serving at one school. His victory total was extraordinary considering Clemson played just 38 percent of its games at home during Howard's tenure.
- Danny Ford coached Clemson to the 1981 national championship and won six bowl games in his Tiger career. He was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2017. He was the consensus national coach of the year in 1981, and he remains the youngest coach (33) to win a national championship. He was inducted into the Clemson Ring of Honor in 2013.

EXPOSURE

- Clemson games account for four of the 12 most-watched college football games since the 2018 season.
- Clemson played in the most-watched game of five of six seasons from 2015-20, including when its 2020 semifinal game against Ohio State outdrew the national championship.
- Even as the industry transitions toward streaming, 139 of Clemson's last 140 games in the last 10 years have aired on linear television.
- Clemson has played in the featured contest on ESPN's College GameDay 30 times, including 22 times since the start of the 2015 season. Clemson is 17-5 in those contests.
- In the 2022 season, Clemson became the first program since the 2015 Oklahoma Sooners to appear in the ABC prime-time television window in three consecutive weeks.
- The interest in watching Clemson play hasn't been limited to television broadcasts. Clemson continues to provide one of the great in-venue experiences in all of sports, as Clemson enters 2025 having been ranked in the Top 20 in the nation average home attendance at Memorial Stadium for 44 straight seasons and has led the ACC in average home attendance each of the last 15 years. In 2024, Clemson led the nation in attendance per capita, as its 80,806 average attendance at Death Valley was equivalent to 457 percent of the city's population.
- The first game on ACC Network was Clemson vs. Georgia Tech from Death Valley on Aug. 29, 2019.

HALL OF FAME

- Eight members of Clemson's program have been enshrined in the National Football Foundation College Football Hall of Fame, including four coaches and four student-athletes.
- Clemson's Hall of Fame tradition began with John Heisman, who coached Clemson from 1900-03 and was Clemson's first inductee as part of the Class of 1954. Clemson Head Coach and Administrator Jess Neely was inducted in 1971. Frank Howard followed with his induction in 1989. Danny Ford, who led Clemson to the 1981 national championship at the age of 33, entered the Hall in 2017.
- Multi-sport legend Banks McFadden was the first Clemson player enshrined, earning induction in 1959. Two members of Clemson's 1981 national championship defense, Terry Kinard (2001) and Jeff Davis (2007), went on to earn induction after the turn of the century. The duo made Clemson's 1978 recruiting class the first in ACC history to produce two Hall of Famers.
- Of the roughly 5.78 million individuals who have played college football since Princeton first battled Rutgers on Nov. 6, 1869, only 1,111 players and 237 coaches have been immortalized in the Hall. Selection to it puts these Tiger legends who earned the distinction in the top 0.02 percent of those ever to play or coach college football.

- C.J. Spiller earned induction in the Class of 2021 in his second year of eligibility. "For him to get in on his second attempt is such a compliment to the respect for his college football career," said Dabo Swinney on Spiller's induction.
- Clemson had a special night in New York City on Dec. 11, 2001. That evening, Terry Kinard was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame and Kyle Young was a recipient of a National Football Foundation Scholar-Athlete Award. Clemson was the only school in the nation with one of each in 2001.

NATIONAL HONORS

- Clemson has a history of decorated football players. It boasts 105 different players who have earned first, second or third-team All-America honors in its history.
- Clemson has produced at least one consensus All-American in nine of Dabo Swinney's 16 full seasons as head coach.
- In 2019, linebacker Isaiah Simmons became the sixth unanimous All-American in Clemson history, joining Terry Kinard (1982), Gaines Adams (2006), C.J. Spiller (2009), Da'Quan Bowers (2010) and Christian Wilkins (2018).
- In 2018, Wilkins joined William Perry, Levon Kirkland, Anthony Simmons and Sammy Watkins as three-time Tiger All-Americans. Clelin Ferrell joined Terry Kinard as the only two-time, first-team AP All-Americans in Tiger history with his second consecutive selection. Ferrell also won the Ted Hendricks Award as the nation's top defensive end, joining Da'Quan Bowers as one of two Hendricks Award winners in school history.
- In 2018, Clemson swept honors for ACC Coach of the Year (Dabo Swinney), ACC Player of the Year (Etienne), ACC Offensive Player of the Year (Etienne) and ACC Defensive Player of the Year (Clelin Ferrell), becoming the first school to do so since Maryland in 2001. Expanded to include Trevor Lawrence's selection as Offensive Rookie of the Year, Clemson was the first program to secure all those conference honors since Florida State in 1997.
- The 2019 season marked the second straight year in which Clemson captured ACC Player of the Year (Travis Etienne), ACC Offensive Player of the Year (Etienne) and ACC Defensive Player of the Year (Isaiah Simmons). It marked the fifth time that one team swept all three awards since the inception of the offensive and defensive honors in 1993, but it represented the first time a program had accomplished a sweep of the three awards in consecutive years.
- Vic Beasley was a two-time first-team All-American and the first Tiger since Bennie Cunningham to be a two-time All-American, Clemson graduate and first-round pick (1976 NFL draft). Christian Wilkins and Clelin Ferrell later accomplished the feat in the 2019 draft, as did Travis Etienne in the 2021 draft.
- Sammy Watkins, who was the No. 4 overall pick of the 2014 NFL Draft, was the first player in Clemson history to be named a first-team All-American by at least one service in three different seasons. Wilkins became the second such player in school history in 2018.
- When Watkins was named a first-team All-American as a first-year freshman in 2011, he followed Georgia's Herschel Walker (1980), San Diego State's Marshall Faulk (1991) and Oklahoma's Adrian Peterson (2004) as the fourth first-year freshman non-kicker in history to earn AP First-Team All-America honors.
- Clemson has had eight players win 11 national position awards since 2010: Da'Quan Bowers (Bronko Nagurski Award and Ted Hendricks Award in 2010); Dwayne Allen (Mackey Award in 2011); Deshaun Watson (Manning Award and Davey O'Brien Award in 2015 and 2016, Archie Griffin Award in 2015, Unitas Award and Chic Harley Award in 2016); Ben Boulware (Jack Lambert Award in 2016); Christian Wilkins (Willis Award in 2017); Trevor Lawrence (Archie Griffin Award in 2018); Clelin Ferrell (Ted Hendricks Award in 2018); and Isaiah Simmons (Butkus Award in 2019).
- Clemson has had at least one All-American in 45 of the last 48 years. In Dabo Swinney's 16 full seasons as head coach, he has had at least two All-Americans 15 times and 36 different players have made a first-team All-America squad. Sammy Watkins, Vic Beasley, Deshaun Watson, Clelin Ferrell, Christian Wilkins and Travis Etienne were all multi-time first-team selections.
- Clemson has had at least one First-Team All-ACC player each of the last 48 years, the longest streak in ACC history. Clemson has had at least 10 All-ACC selections in nine of the last 10 years. In those 10 years, all other ACC teams have produced 10+ selections in a single season a combined seven times.
- Clemson had a conference-leading nine players (Joe Bostic, Jerry Butler, Bennie Cunningham, Jeff Davis, Steve Fuller, Terry Kinard, Michael Dean Perry, William Perry and Anthony Simmons) named to the ACC's 50-Year Anniversary team. All nine were All-Americans during at least one season at Clemson and played in the NFL.

NFL DRAFT PICKS

- Dabo Swinney has coached 86 draft picks since becoming Clemson's head coach, most of any active head coach in that span. His 18 first-round selections are the second-most among active coaches in that time.
- Clemson has had at least one first-round draft choice in 10 of the last 13 years. Clemson is one of only five schools with at least one first-round pick in at least 10 of the last 13 drafts, alongside Alabama, Florida, Georgia and Ohio State.
- Clemson is one of only six schools to have produced multiple draft picks in each of the last 23 NFL Drafts (LSU, Michigan, Oklahoma, Ohio State and USC).
- Since 2013, Clemson has produced first-round picks from the QB, RB, WR, DE, DT, LB and DB position groups. The only other school with at least one first-rounder at all those positions in that span is Alabama.
- Clemson has produced nine first-round picks from its defensive front seven (DL and LB) since 2015, the second-most of any school in the nation.
- Clemson has had at least three selections in 16 of its 17 drafts since Dabo Swinney was elevated to head coach. Clemson is one of six schools to have produced three or more picks at least 16 times in that span alongside Alabama, LSU, Ohio State and Oklahoma.
- Clemson has produced multiple defensive draft picks in 14 of the 17 drafts of the Dabo Swinney era. Clemson, LSU, Alabama, Ohio State and Georgia are the only programs to produce multiple draft picks from their defenses in at least 14 drafts in that span.
- In the 2019, 2020 and 2021 NFL Drafts, Clemson produced multiple first-round picks in three consecutive drafts for the first time in program history. Clemson and Alabama were the only schools to produce multiple first-round picks in each of those three drafts.
- In 2021, Trevor Lawrence became the program's first No. 1 overall pick, making Clemson the 51st program ever to produce a No. 1 pick. Clemson joined NC State and Florida State as the only ACC programs to have a No. 1 pick while a member of the conference (four other current ACC schools had No. 1 picks prior to joining the conference).
- With Trevor Lawrence and Travis Etienne both being selected by the Jacksonville Jaguars in the first round in 2021, the duo became the first QB/RB duo from a single school ever drafted by the same franchise in the first round of an NFL Draft in the Common Draft era.
- In 2019, Clemson produced three players selected as defensive linemen from a single school in a single draft for the first time in NFL Draft history. (Note: In 2006, NC State's Mario Williams, Manny Lawson and John McCargo went with the Nos. 1, 22 and 26 picks, respectively, though Lawson was officially submitted as a linebacker.) Clemson's entire starting defensive line from 2018 was drafted in the first four rounds in a span of the draft's first 117 picks.
- Clemson has had at least one player chosen by 30 of the 32 NFL franchises since 2003. The lone exceptions in that time frame are the Patriots, who last selected a Tiger in 1991, and the Panthers, who have never selected a Clemson player.
- Clemson's 2018 national championship roster produced 23 draft picks and 19 undrafted free agent signings. Clemson's 11 defensive starters alone accounted for five first-round picks, a second-round pick, a third-round pick, two fourth-round picks and a college free agent signing.
- Clemson has had at least one player selected in 23 consecutive drafts since 2003, the second-longest streak in school history behind a 24-year streak across the 1951-74 NFL Drafts.

NFL INFLUENCE

- Thirty-six former Tigers have combined to win 46 Super Bowl championship rings as members of an active roster that season, including most recently the Philadelphia Eagles Will Shipley, Jeremiah Trotter Jr. and K.J. Henry, Kansas City Chiefs receivers Cornell Powell and Justyn Ross, Los Angeles Rams offensive lineman Tremayne Anchrum, Tampa Bay Buccaneers punter Bradley Pinion and Kansas City Chiefs players Bashaud Breeland, Dorian O'Daniel and Sammy Watkins across the 2019-24 seasons. Clemson's leader is Jeff Bostic, who started on three Super Bowl championship teams with Washington.
- Clemson is one of only 10 programs to produce a member of a Super Bowl roster in each of the last nine years, a group that also includes Georgia, LSU,

THE CLEMSON FOOTBALL STANDARD

Florida State, Washington, NC State, Michigan, Oklahoma, Auburn and Florida.

- Clemson had five former players under contract with the Philadelphia Eagles and Kansas City Chiefs for Super Bowl LIX, one of only four such programs.
- In 2019, Clemson's three members of the Chiefs' Super Bowl LIV title-winning team represented three of the 46 players (6.5 percent) on Kansas City's active game day roster for the Super Bowl. Clemson's three members of the Super Bowl champions tied for the second-most in school history, matching the 1981 49ers and 1986 Giants. It was Clemson's most members of a Super Bowl championship team since setting a school record for the 1987 NFL season, when Obed Ariri, Dan Benish, Jeff Bostic and K.D. Dunn all contributed to Washington's second Super Bowl championship. Including practice squad members, Clemson had three members of the Philadelphia Eagles' title team in 2024.
- Grady Jarrett had 3.0 sacks for the Atlanta Falcons against Tom Brady and the Patriots in Super Bowl LI after the 2016 season.
- Brian Dawkins retired in 2011 as one of the greatest safeties in the history of the game and was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 2018. A 1996 Clemson graduate, Dawkins was an All-American on Clemson's 1995 team. He was named to the Pro Bowl nine times in his career, including the 2012 Pro Bowl after his final season.
- Levon Kirkland was named to the NFL All-Decade team (1990s) for his play with the Pittsburgh Steelers. Dawkins was named to the All-Decade team for the 2000s for his play with the Philadelphia Eagles.

NFL LEGACIES

- Brian Dawkins had his No. 20 retired by the Philadelphia Eagles during the 2012 season. Dawkins played 13 seasons for the Eagles and was a seven-time Pro Bowl selection during his Eagles tenure. He became Clemson's first Pro Football Hall of Famer in August 2018.
- The late Dwight Clark had his No. 87 retired by the San Francisco 49ers after he finished his career in 1987. He was a starter on the 49ers' Super Bowl teams from the 1981 and 1984 seasons. He is most famous for his game-winning catch on a pass from Joe Montana against Dallas in the 1982 NFC Championship Game. Clark was the NFL MVP in the 1982 season, the only former Tiger to win NFL MVP honors.
- Charlie Waters was a three-time Pro Bowl pick with the Cowboys. He played on two Super Bowl teams.
- Waters and Jeff Bostic were both named to ESPN's 40-Man Roster of Greatest Super Bowl players, released prior to Super Bowl XL.
- The Perry brothers (William, Michael Dean) were starters on Clemson's 1984 defense. Both were named to the ACC's 50-Year Anniversary team in 2002. William played on Clemson's 1981 National Championship team as a freshman, then on the Super Bowl champion Bears of 1985. Michael Dean played in six Pro Bowls with Cleveland and Denver, second-most among former Tigers. Both were named ACC Player of the Year during their careers. They are the only brother combination in ACC history that can make that claim.

POLL PRESENCE

- From 2015-20, Clemson finished in the top four of the AP poll each year. Dabo Swinney became the fourth coach with at least six consecutive top-four finishes since the AP poll began in 1936, an exclusive list that includes Bobby Bowden (13), Pete Carroll (7) and Bud Wilkinson (6).
- Clemson's streak represented the fifth time a program has had a run of at least six top four finishes in the AP poll. Miami (Fla.) had a seven-year run from 1986-92 with two different head coaches leading the program.
- Clemson has finished ranked in the final AP poll in each of the last 14 seasons, tied for the sixth-longest streak in the poll's history. The 2024 season marked the 38th year that Clemson ranked in the final poll.
- Clemson was ranked in the top 25 of 107 consecutive AP polls from 2014-21, a school record and the second-longest active streak in the nation prior to its conclusion.
- Clemson ranked in the top five of 57 consecutive polls from 2017-21, the second-longest Top 5 streak in the history of the AP poll, which dates to 1936. Clemson also produced a school-record streak of 97 consecutive polls in the AP Top 10, the third-longest streak in poll history.
- The Tigers have beaten an AP-ranked opponent 35 of last 39 years, including 53 top-25 wins in the last 22 years. Dabo Swinney has recorded a Clemson-record 43 top-25 wins in his head coaching tenure.
- Clemson beat four top-25 teams in 2015 and five in 2016. The 2017 team broke that record with six. Clemson has won seven games against AP Top 25 teams over the last three seasons.

1981 NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP SEASON

NOTES

- Clemson won its first national title in any sport and the first for the ACC in football in 28 years.
- Clemson had five different players earn All-America honors, at the time more than any other Tiger team in history.
- There was no controversy concerning the voting of the national champion in 1981. Clemson ended the season as the only undefeated, untied team and was the only team with three top-10 wins.
- Head Coach Danny Ford (age 33 at the time) remains the youngest head coach in history to win the national championship.
- Clemson forced 41 turnovers in the 12 games, still a school record for turnovers forced in a season.
- During one stretch in the season, the Clemson defense held the opposition without a touchdown for 18 consecutive quarters and no opponent scored a rushing touchdown against Clemson during the first seven games of the season.
- Clemson won the national title in 1981 after going 6-5 the previous year. The Tigers were unranked in every preseason poll.
- Clemson's victory improvement of 5.5 games from the 1980 season to the 1981 season was the largest improvement in the nation.
- Only one team (Wofford) had more time of possession in a game against Clemson all season.
- Clemson had the lead at the end of the first quarter in only four of the 12 games.
- Clemson scored 316 points during the regular season of 1981, the exact same total Georgia scored during its 11-game regular season of 1980, the year the Bulldogs won the national championship.
- Good health was a big reason for Clemson's success in the 1981 season. Only five different starters missed any games during the entire season and no player missed more than two games all year. A collective total of only eight games were missed by five starters during the 1981 season.
- No opponent had a carry longer than 26 yards and no opponent had a play over 30 yards. The longest touchdown play against Clemson was 25 yards, on a halfback option pass from Mike Rozier to Anthony Steels (Nebraska) in the Orange Bowl.
- During offseason conditioning in the summer of 1981, Strength Coach George Dostal constructed a simple sign for his strength training facility..."1982 Orange Bowl, Clemson vs. Nebraska."
- The Clemson senior student who was in charge of pep rallies in 1981 was Jane Robelot, who later went on to anchor CBS This Morning.
- The day after Clemson won at North Carolina, placekicker Donald Igwebuike flew to Maryland, where Clemson's No. 3 soccer team beat Maryland 4-0 to clinch the ACC title. Igwebuike played on two ACC title teams that fall, both of which finished in the top 10 in the nation.

- National champions for the second time in school history and the first time since 1981.
- The Tigers finished with a 14-1 record after beating previously undefeated and top-ranked Alabama 35-31 in the CFP National Championship Game on Jan. 9. Clemson's 14 wins tied the FBS record for victories in a season. It was the second year both Alabama and Clemson finished with 14-1 records.
- Clemson won the national championship while playing the nation's most difficult schedule according to the NCAA. Tiger opponents were 107-51 (.677) when not playing Clemson.
- Clemson was just the sixth national champion (since 1977) to have played the nation's most difficult schedule the season it won the title.
- Clemson defeated 11 FBS schools that finished the season with a winning record, including five that totaled 10+ wins and six who finished in the top 25 of the AP poll. Those schools were No. 2 Alabama, No. 6 Ohio State, No. 8 Florida State, No. 16 Virginia Tech, No. 21 Louisville and No. 24 Auburn. The six wins over teams that finished in the AP top 25 were the most in school history.
- For the sixth straight year, Clemson finished at least the same in its final poll as its preseason ranking by AP. Clemson was No. 2 in the preseason AP and coaches polls, then finished No. 1.
- Clemson beat top-ranked Alabama to win the national title, the first time Clemson defeated the No. 1 team. In the CFP semifinal, Clemson defeated No. 2 Ohio State 31-0. It marked the first time Clemson beat a No. 2 ranked team. Clemson was 0-9 in history when playing teams ranked in the top two, then defeated both in consecutive games just nine days apart.
- Clemson defeated No. 3 Louisville earlier in the season, giving Clemson wins over the No. 1, No. 2 and No. 3 teams.
- Clemson was never ranked No. 1 until the final poll and had to defeat a team (Alabama) that had been ranked No. 1 in every poll entering the playoff. It marked the first time a team defeated an opponent in the championship game who had been No. 1 in every poll since 2006, when Florida defeated Ohio State to win the national championship. It also happened in 2005, when Texas defeated Southern California, and in 1983, when Miami (Fla.) defeated Nebraska.
- Clemson was the first non-SEC team to beat Auburn and Alabama in the same year since 1990, when Southern Mississippi achieved the distinction.
- Clemson had a 3-0 record against SEC teams, the first time the Tigers defeated three SEC teams in one season.
- Clemson defeated Auburn, Florida State, Ohio State and Alabama, the programs that had combined to win each of the previous seven national championships.

- Clemson's 49-point win over South Carolina was the largest margin of victory by an ACC team over an SEC team in history. It was Clemson's third straight win over its rival.
- Clemson won the ACC championship for the second consecutive year, the first time in 28 years the Tigers won back-to-back league titles.
- The Tigers defeated a school-record five top-25 teams, including three top-three teams for the first time. Clemson finished the season with three straight wins over top-25 teams, the second time the program did that.
- Clemson joined Alabama as the first two schools to advance to the College Football Playoff in consecutive years.
- Clemson had nine First-Team All-ACC players, the most for the program since 1991.
- Sixteen of Clemson's starting 22 made an All-ACC team. Clemson had five more All-ACC selections than any other team.
- Seven different players were named first, second or third-team All-American, most in school history.
- Clemson showed an ability to win close games. The Tigers were 7-1 in games decided by seven points or less, establishing a school mark for wins by seven points or less in a season.
- The Tigers posted an 8-0 record away from home, the school's best mark for wins away from home in a season. Clemson had a 5-0 record on the opponents' home fields.
- Clemson opened the season with a win at Auburn, Clemson's first win there since 1950. It was first time Clemson opened the season with a road win over a current SEC team since 1903.
- Clemson left a game at Georgia Tech with a perfect record for the first time since 1903. Clemson had lost 11 straight when entering a game at Georgia Tech unbeaten.
- Clemson opened the season ranked No. 2 in the AP poll, its highest preseason ranking in school history.
- Clemson defeated Florida State in Tallahassee, just the second win for the program at Florida State since 1989.
- Clemson was honored for its graduation success rate of over 90 percent by AFCA.
- Clemson defeated Alabama for the first time since 1905.
- Dabo Swinney became the first head coach to win the national championship by defeating his alma mater.
- Dabo Swinney joined Bud Wilkinson as the only people to play on and serve as head coach of an AP national champion.
- Dabo Swinney won the Bear Bryant National Coach-of-the-Year Award, the first coach to win it in consecutive years.
- Clemson ended Alabama's 26-game winning streak, the longest winning streak Clemson has ended in its history. The 26-game streak was the third longest in SEC history and longest since the Crimson Tide had a 28-game winning streak from 1978-80.
- Clemson trailed 24-14 entering the fourth quarter. Nick Saban had been 97-0 with a 10-point lead in the fourth quarter.
- Nick Saban was 5-0 in national championship games and 12-1 in national or league championship games prior to the contest.
- Clemson ended Alabama's FBS record-tying 16-game winning streak against AP top-25 opponents.
- Nick Saban was 106-6 when leading at halftime at Alabama. Clemson overcame a 14-7 halftime deficit.

NOTES

- Clemson won its third football national championship in school history, joining the 1981 and 2016 squads. It marked the sixth national championship in any sport in Clemson history.
- Clemson had a 15-0 record, becoming the first team to accomplish the feat since Penn in 1897.
- Clemson became the second team to win multiple national championships in the College Football Playoff era since 2014 (Alabama).
- Clemson broke the school record of 14 wins, a mark previously shared with the 2015 and 2016 Tigers.
- Clemson finished its sixth undefeated season (1900, 1906, 1948, 1950, 1981, 2018) and fourth perfect season (1900, 1948, 1981, 2018) in school history.
- Clemson became the 20th team in AP poll history to finish a season as the AP No. 1 despite never appearing at No. 1 at any point of the regular season (2018 Clemson, 2016 Clemson, 2015 Alabama, 2014 Ohio State, 2011 Alabama, 2006 Florida, 2005 Texas, 2002 Ohio State, 1992 Alabama, 1989 Miami (Fla.), 1987 Miami (Fla.), 1986 Penn State, 1983 Miami (Fla.), 1982 Penn State, 1977 Notre Dame, 1973 Notre Dame, 1970 Nebraska, 1965 Alabama, 1964 Alabama, 1946 Notre Dame).
- Clemson won the ACC title for the fourth year in a row, marking the first time in ACC history a school won four consecutive outright league titles. The Tigers joined Florida (1993-96) as the only teams to win four consecutive power conference championship games.
- Clemson posted a 15-0 record against a schedule that included a school-record 12 games against teams who finished with winning records. The Tigers played the nation's most difficult schedule, as their opponents had a 120-57 record (.642) when not playing them.
- Clemson was in the top four of every CFP poll in 2018, including a No. 2 ranking entering the bowl games, ending the season having been ranked in the top four in 24 consecutive CFP polls.
- Clemson ranked in the top four of all 15 AP and USA Today Coaches polls for the first time in school history.
- Clemson won a school-record 13 of 15 games by at least 20 points, surpassing 2013 Florida State (12) for the most by any team since 2000. Clemson won its final 10 games by 20 points or more.
- Clemson won by an average margin of 31.1 points per game, the best margin in the nation and the second-largest in school history, trailing only a 35.3-point average margin in 1900. It passed the 30.4-point average margin in 1901, a season in which Clemson won one of its five games by a score of 122-0.
- Clemson played an average of 72.5 players per game in 2018, the most of any team in the nation. No other College Football Playoff participant averaged more than 56 players per game (Alabama, 55.7; Notre Dame, 54.4; Oklahoma, 52.4).

- Clemson was second in the nation in yards per rush (6.57) and first in the nation in yards per rush allowed (2.51), becoming the first program since at least 2009 to rank in the top two in both categories in a single season.
- Clemson tied team records in wins at home (7), on the road (5), away from home (8), in regular-season conference play (8) and against conference opponents (9).
- Clemson posted a 5-0 record in road games, joining Northwestern as the only teams in the nation to go 5-0 on the road. It marked the sixth time in school history (and the third time in four years) Clemson was 5-0 on the road.
- Clemson completed the four-year span from 2015-18 with a 55-4 record, a school and ACC record that tied 2015-18 Alabama for the most wins in a four-year span in FBS history.
- With a victory over South Carolina in November, Clemson reached 100 wins in a decade for the first time in program history.
- Clemson featured five First-Team All-ACC selections and a total of 18 who made first, second or third team, more than any other school and the most in a season in school history.
- Clemson produced seven players who made an All-America team, second most in a season in school history. That included a record five first-team selections by at least one of the five major teams, the most first-team All-Americans in one season in school history.
- Clemson set a school record with 44.3 points per game, ahead of the previous record of 41.0 set in 2012. The Tigers reached 27 points in 15 straight games, a school record.
- Clemson scored a school-record 664 points, becoming the second team in ACC history to score 650 points in a single season (Florida State, 723 in 2013).
- Clemson broke the school and ACC record of 7,718 yards of offense, set in 2015, by recording 7,908 yards of offense.
- Clemson posted a school-record 527.2 yards per game, which included a record 15 games with 400 or more yards and a record-tying three 600-yard games. The Tigers set a school record by averaging 7.35 yards per play, shattering the previous record of 6.5 from 2006.
- Clemson led the country in scoring defense (13.1) for the first time in school history.
- Clemson set a school record with 54 sacks, breaking the mark held by the 2016 team (49). The 54 sacks were the third-most by any FBS team in a season since 2000.
- Clemson led the nation in sacks and tied for the national lead in tackles for loss (136).
- Clemson won the AFCA Academic Achievement Award for the first time in school history, becoming just the third program to win it and the national championship in the same year since the award began in 1981 (Notre Dame 1988 and Alabama 2017).
- In addition to the on-field success, Clemson produced team records in team GPA and number of players recording a 3.0 or better GPA (66).
- Clemson placed seven players on the All-ACC Academic team, tied for second-most in school history and one shy of the school record.
- Christian Wilkins won the William V. Campbell Trophy from the National Football Foundation, the first Clemson player to win the award known colloquially as the Academic Heisman. He joined Barrett Jones (2012 Alabama), Joaquin Gonzales (2001 Miami), Danny Wuerffel (1996 Florida) and Rob Zatechka (1994 Nebraska) as the only players to win the Campbell Trophy and a national championship in the same season.

CREDENTIALS

Arrangements for media credentials for Tiger home games must be made through the Clemson strategic communications & publicity office. Requests by accredited media members must be made through the online credentialing system (SportsSystems.com/Clemson). Online credential requests for each Clemson home game will open two weeks prior to each game and will close at noon ET on Wednesday prior to each game.

For more information on credential requests for Memorial Stadium, contact Chandler Simpson via email at mcsimp2@clemson.edu.

The Clemson University Athletics Media Credential Policy is available at ClemsonTigers.com/MediaPolicy. The policy details credential eligibility and issuance priority for national and local outlets that cover Clemson football or its opponents on a regular basis. All credential approvals are made on a game-by-game basis independent of previous approvals and/or denials, and credential decisions for each contest are not beholden to prior credentialing precedents. Due to space limitations, credential quantities may be limited to a number lower than the total requested.

All credential requests will be filled on a space-available basis. Non-working spouses, dates, relatives, non-workers and anyone 16 years of age or younger are not permitted in the press box.

Media credential holders in the press box who are not actively covering the game, or credential wearers on the sideline who are not on assignment, will be asked to leave those respective areas. Press box or sideline security will be contacted should the credential wearer not comply. Credentials used in an unauthorized manner will be revoked immediately, and organizations responsible for credentials falling into improper hands will have credentials revoked for the rest of the year or the succeeding year, at the university's discretion.

EMAIL DISTRIBUTION LIST

Notes, stats, stories and other information are emailed out on a weekly basis from the Clemson strategic communications & publicity office. Media members may contact Brian Hennessy (bhennes@clemson.edu) to be put on the email list.

PARKING

A limited number of parking spaces reserved for the media is available on a game-by-game basis. Requests for media parking passes should be specified with credential requests. Due to space limitations, not all requests will be fulfilled.

Additionally, no motorhomes, campers or oversized vehicles will be permitted in media parking.

PHOTOGRAPHERS & VIDEOGRAPHERS

Clemson follows guidelines established by the NCAA communications committee and ACC regarding sideline control to make certain the sideline is a working media area.

The following guidelines are adhered to:

1) Each photographer and runner is required to wear a photo vest.
2) Photo vests must be secured at the photographer's credential pickup at media will call outside Gate 10 (visitors tunnel). Both the credential and the photo vest must be worn on the field.
3) Prior to kickoff while recruits are present, photographers are not allowed south of the goalpost in the west end zone nor west of the south sideline 50-yard line.
4) After kickoff, no photographers are permitted in the bench area nor on the playing field.
5) Photo assistants or others holding a "sideline" pass must remain out of the photo area immediately adjacent to the playing field. This will make certain that photographers/videographers have the appropriate working area.
6) Tripods are not permitted on the sidelines.
7) The areas behind the team benches are considered bench areas and are to be used only for the passage between the north and south sidelines. This area may not be used as a photo zone.

PRESS BOX

The Bob Bradley Press Box is located on the first floor on the south side of Memorial Stadium. All radio and television booths, in addition to the press area, are on the same level. Photographers are encouraged to use the space available at field level, accessible in the visiting tunnel adjacent to the visitor locker room.

INTERVIEW REQUESTS

All requests to speak with players, coaches and staff should be directed to Ross Taylor (rt5@clemson.edu) or a member of the strategic communications & publicity staff. Media members who reach out directly to players, coaches or staff without prior approval of Clemson staff may face suspension or revocation of credentials.

2025 OUTLOOK

Head Coach Dabo Swinney charged his 2024 squad with the task of "restoring the roar in '24," and Clemson delivered its 20th 10-win season in school history, becoming only the 13th FBS program ever to reach 10 wins in 20 different campaigns. Clemson's dramatic ACC Championship Game victory against SMU propelled the Tigers to a berth in the inaugural 12-team College Football Playoff, Clemson's seventh all-time CFP berth, the second-most in the tournament's history.

This season, two-time national champion Swinney and the Tigers will attempt to re-scale college football's mountaintop on the strength of a veteran and experienced group that returns eight starters on each side of the ball for the first time in Swinney's 17 full seasons as Clemson's head coach.

OFFENSE

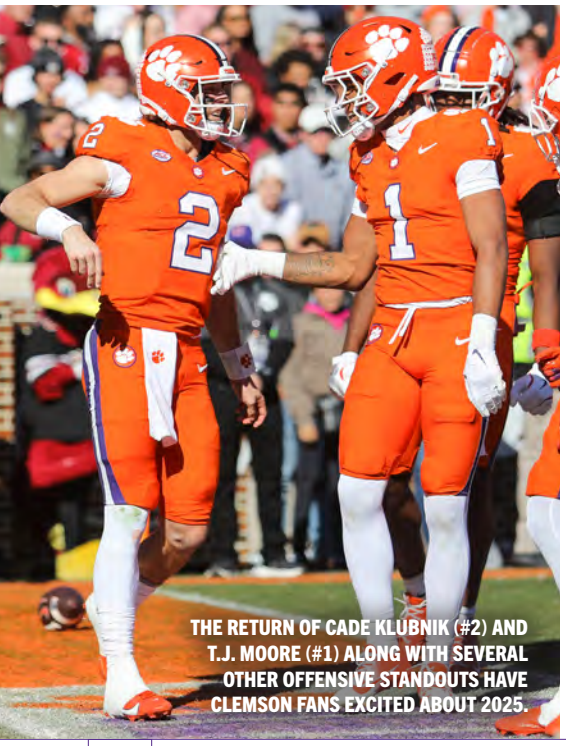
For the second straight year, Clemson's offense will return eight of its 11 primary starters from the year before, as the lone trio of Tiger starters to depart from Clemson's 2024 offense are NFL rookies Jake Briningstool, Phil Mafah and Marcus Tate. After the expiration of their eligibility, those three leave behind a talented unit that came of age in 2024 and boasts four returning primary offensive line starters and a bevy of weapons for its senior quarterback.

Now in his third season at Clemson, Offensive Coordinator Garrett Riley is tasked with further improving a Clemson offense that ranked in the top 20 nationally in total offense (11th, 451.9 yards per game) and scoring offense (18th, 34.7 points per game) a year ago.

QUARTERBACKS

Few offenses can boast a combination of an offensive coordinator and a starting quarterback in their third year together in those respective roles, but its a luxury afforded to Clemson in 2025, as senior Cade Klubnik enters his third year as the starting quarterback and his third under Riley's guidance and playcalling.

Klubnik engineered a major step forward in 2024, as the two-time ACC Championship Game MVP authored one of the most prolific seasons in school history, accounting for 43 combined passing and rushing touchdowns. Through the air, he tied Tajh Boyd (36 in 2012) and Trevor Lawrence (36 in 2019) for the second-most passing touchdowns in a season in Clemson history, all while throwing only six interceptions on nearly 500 pass attempts. For many, he entered his name into early 2025 Heisman consideration during his 2024 season finale in which he completed 26-of-43 passes for 336 yards and three touchdowns against Texas' top-ranked pass defense in the College Football Playoff.



THE RETURN OF CADE KLUBNIK (#2) AND T.J. MOORE (#1) ALONG WITH SEVERAL OTHER OFFENSIVE STANDOUTS HAVE CLEMSON FANS EXCITED ABOUT 2025.

Behind Klubnik, Clemson remains excited by the prospect of now third-year quarterback Christopher Vizzina. After redshirting in 2023, Vizzina saw action in seven games in his redshirt freshman campaign in 2024, and the spring of 2025 offered another key developmental window for the former top-50 national recruit as he eyes a potential starting spot in 2026.

Clemson's quarterback room added another dynamic player in its 2025 recruiting class, nabbing Chris Denson out of the Tampa metro area. The dual threat southpaw secured his Clemson offer in the final game of his prep career when he totaled 235 rushing yards and 202 passing yards during the state playoffs. Among Clemson's depth at the position is walk-on Trent Pearman, a two-time South Carolina Gatorade Player of the Year who starred in Clemson's 2024 Spring Game.

RUNNING BACKS

Offensive Run Game Coordinator/Running Backs Coach C.J. Spiller will enter his fifth season as Clemson's running backs coach in 2025, and it will be his first without a familiar cast of characters since 2021 signees Will Shipley and Phil Mafah are both slated to carry the ball at the professional level in 2025. In Spiller's first four years, the duo combined for more than 5,600 rushing yards, more than 7,500 all-purpose yards and a combined 61 touchdowns from 2021-24. The pair's absence in 2025 creates a golden opportunity for Clemson's current group of ballcarriers.

Based on 2024 production, the presumed incumbent would be redshirt sophomore Jay Haynes, who posted his first career 100-yard rushing game last season on only five carries against The Citadel. Haynes missed spring practice after suffering injuries to multiple knee ligaments while returning a kickoff in the 2024 ACC Championship Game.

Beyond Mafah and Haynes, Clemson's third-highest rushing totals among its backs a year ago belonged to junior Keith Adams Jr. The bruising bowling ball's style earned him the nickname "Hammerhead" from Clemson's coaching staff, and he bludgeoned his way for his first rushing touchdown amid his 30 carries last season.

One of the most intriguing storylines of Clemson's 2025 spring was the potential career reinvention of senior Adam Randall. Randall joined the Tigers in 2021 as a highly sought-after wide receiver, a position he played for his first three seasons with Clemson. However, with Clemson's depth challenged in the last year's College Football Playoff, Randall contributed at running back in the first round against Texas and ripped off a 41-yard run in the contest.

The spring also offered an evaluation window for several young candidates for the role. Jarvis Green is entering his third year after having one of South Carolina's most prolific high school careers, and he scored his first collegiate touchdown on a 25-yard reception in last year's College Football Playoff. David Eziomume redshirted a year ago, and Clemson coaches believe they've added another potent threat to the mix with the addition of midyear enrollee Gideon Davidson, the reigning Player of the Year in the state of Virginia.

WIDE RECEIVERS

Clemson's dominant decade in the 2010s was built in part by its "Wide Receiver U" reputation that spanned DeAndre Hopkins to Sammy Watkins to Mike Williams to Tee Higgins, among many others. After a three-year rash of injuries contributed to Clemson not having a receiver reach 605 yards in a season from 2021-23, good health and an infusion of young talent helped Clemson produce three separate receivers who reached that mark in 2024 under Offensive Pass Game Coordinator & Wide Receivers Coach Tyler Grisham. Including tight ends, Clemson had four 500-yard receivers in 2024, the fourth such season in Clemson history.

Though the rising tide from all contributors lifted the group's proverbial boat in 2024, Clemson's unquestioned top target was Antonio Williams, who returned from an injury-plagued second season in 2023 to post career highs in receptions (75) and receiving yards (904) and to record the Tigers' first double-digit receiving touchdown total (11) since Tee Higgins in 2019. Williams' versatility was on display in 2024, as his campaign marked only the ninth time since 1969 that a Tiger passed for a touchdown, rushed for a touchdown and caught a touchdown in one season.

Bryant Wesco Jr. and T.J. Moore made instant impacts as freshmen in 2024. While Moore's late-season surge was a bit too belated to garner national recognition, Wesco collected Freshman All-America honors. The duo ranked in the top six nationally in receiving yards by freshmen, and the pair became the first freshman duo in a power conference to each record at least 650 receiving yards and at least five touchdown catches in a single season since 2000.

The freshman duo's development accelerated in part because of season-long injury issues for Tyler Brown. In 2023, Brown earned ESPN Freshman All-America honors as a true freshman, joining DeAndre Hopkins, Sammy Watkins, Artavis Scott and Antonio Williams as the fifth freshman since 2010 to lead Clemson in receptions. He qualified for a mid-career redshirt for 2024 after being limited to only four regular season games and two postseason games.

Clemson views redshirt junior Cole Turner as a fifth starter at the position, and college football cognoscenti that were clamoring for Clemson to make bigger splashes in the transfer portal will have a keen eye toward Tristan Smith, who joined the Tigers in December following a standout season at the FCS level. He was the top receiver in the Spring Game with five receptions for 137 yards and a touchdown.

Third-year athlete Misun Kelley bounced between defensive back and wide receiver in the spring as Clemson continued to find the versatile contributor's best fit. The receiving corps also includes a first-year freshman Juju Preston among its scholarship ranks.

TIGHT ENDS

Clemson has produced three of its most productive seasons by tight ends in the Dabo Swinney era since the elevation of Kyle Richardson to its tight ends coach role prior to the 2022 season. Clemson's tight ends have combined for at least 60 catches, at least 650 yards and at least seven touchdowns in each of the last three seasons. This year, the unit finds itself in search of a new lead dog in the wake of the graduation of Jake Briningstool, who exited Clemson as the school record-holder for career receptions by a tight end.

If playing time and production from 2024 provide any clues about potential 2025 impact, a primary candidate to watch is junior Olsen Patt-Henry. A year ago, he grew into Clemson's secondary option behind Briningstool and recorded 121 yards and three touchdowns in addition to becoming a physical presence in the running game in 294 offensive snaps.

Another veteran option is redshirt junior Josh Sapp, who has recorded 13 receptions and two touchdowns over his first three seasons with the Tigers.

One of the candidates generating significant buzz inside the program is redshirt freshman Christian Bentancur. The former Illinois high school two-sport star immediately impressed his veteran teammates and coaches with his work ethic while redshirting in 2024, and last August, Swinney said Bentancur "might be as good of a kid as we've ever signed at that position." Clemson added another tight end in a similar mold in its most recent class, signing Logan Brooking, the son of 15-year NFL linebacker Keith Brooking.

OFFENSIVE LINEMEN

Clemson received instant impact from the addition of veteran offensive line coach Matt Luke in his first full season at Clemson in 2024. As he readies for his second full season with the Tigers, he will benefit from an exceedingly veteran unit that returns four of its five primary starters and has seven players who have started at least one game for Clemson.

The unit includes two of Clemson's recent iron men. Blake Miller enters his senior season having played 2,893 career offensive snaps, ninth-most in Clemson annals and 862 snaps shy of Mitch Hyatt's school record. The two-time All-ACC selection has started every game for Clemson at right tackle since his arrival, and he became the first offensive or defensive player to start every game played by Clemson during his freshman, sophomore and junior campaigns without the benefit of a redshirt year since center Ralph Jenkins from 1943-45.

Miller plays alongside a remarkable comeback story in Walker Parks, who started all 14 games for Clemson in 2024 after missing the majority of the 2022 and 2023 seasons with career-threatening ankle injuries. A veteran of 53 games and 42 starts, Parks is a self-professed Clemson lifer who said of Clemson, "If there were no eligibility restrictions, I would stay here forever," a maxim validated by his decision to utilize an extra year of eligibility for a sixth season in 2025.

Clemson's other two returning primary starters include one of the team's foremost leaders and one of its active parables of patience. Left tackle Tristan Leigh has started 23 games over the last two seasons, and his progression from five-star recruit to off-radar redshirt to trusted contributor has given him stature and respect as one of the team's most trusted leaders. Center Ryan Linthicum, meanwhile, was one of Clemson's revelations of 2024. Last spring, the then-career backup was entering his fourth year with limited experience, and he was given spring practice to audition for the role before Clemson sought veteran help at the position. Instead, Linthicum seized the role, starting all 14 games for Clemson and playing 982 snaps from scrimmage, the most of any Clemson player in 2024.

Though depth and injuries combined to limit them to four combined starts in 2024, redshirt junior Collin Sadler and junior Harris Sewell enter 2025 with a combined 40 games and 14 starts of experience along the Tiger offensive line. When healthy, Sadler provides versatility across the four tackle and guard positions, while Sewell offers tremendous value as a versatile interior piece across the center and guard spots.

Clemson had a breakout young star's trajectory take a brief detour in late 2024. As a true freshman, Elyjah Thurmon impressed when called upon to play 74 outstanding snaps in reserve on the road at Virginia Tech, and he earned a start the following week at Pittsburgh before being lost for the remainder of the season on the game's opening play from scrimmage. Whether as a starter or rotational piece, a fully healthy Thurmon stands primed to be a significant fixture in Clemson's trenches for the next several seasons.

Clemson will hope for good health for Dietrick Pennington and Ian Reed, the redshirt senior and redshirt sophomore, respectively, who have both lost time amid battles with injuries and illnesses. The unit also includes eight players in their first or second years with the program: redshirt freshmen Watson Young, Mason Wade and Ronan O'Connell, midyear enrollees Gavin Blanchard, Easton Ware, Rowan Byrne and Brayden Jacobs, and summer enrollee Tucker Kattus.

PETER WOODS ANCHORS AN EXPERIENCED DEFENSIVE LINE.

DEFENSE

In each of the first 10 years of the College Football Playoff era, Clemson posted top-30 national rankings in both scoring defense and total defense, including a national-best eight top-10 finishes in total defense in that span. And though Clemson earned 10 wins, an ACC title and a berth in the College Football Playoff in 2024, the Tigers did so despite fielding a defense that statistically ended the year around national averages (49th in points allowed per game, 69th in yards allowed per game) rather than in its typical elite stratosphere.

Enter Tom Allen. Fresh off of his unit driving Penn State to top-10 national rankings in total defense and scoring defense in 2024, Allen joined the Tigers as their defensive coordinator after helping guide the Nittany Lions to a national semifinal appearance. He inherits a talented defense with emerging stars coming of age, and he does so not a moment too soon as Clemson awaits its Aug. 30 season opener against LSU.

DEFENSIVE ENDS

Allen and Defensive Run Game Coordinator/Defensive Ends Coach Chris Rumph will have a number of goals at defensive end, but perhaps the most clear is maximizing the third year of standout edge rusher T.J. Parker. Though Parker was limited to only second-team All-ACC status, his production was statistically similar to Penn State's Abdul Carter, who earned unanimous All-America honors in his one season in Allen's system.

Clemson sought to add another veteran on the edge in the offseason and landed its top target by securing the signing of Purdue transfer Will Heldt following two productive seasons. He impressed teammates and coaches immediately in the weight room and during mat drills. His high-level experience adds a boost to a position group that also includes redshirt senior Cade Denhoff and redshirt junior Jahiem Lawson.

Clemson's depth at the position also includes seniors Armon Mason and Zaire Patterson among the veterans and redshirt freshman Darien Mayo and first-year freshman Ari Watford among its youth options. Sophomore Markus Dixon transitioned from tight end in the spring and is set to remain at defensive end this season.

DEFENSIVE TACKLES

Associate Head Coach/Co-Defensive Coordinator/Defensive Tackles Coach Nick Eason will share a similar mission to Rumph in attempting to maximize the third year of another emerging national defensive line star out of the state of Alabama: junior Peter Woods. A former five-star recruit and a 2023 Freshman All-American, Woods is preliminarily expected to move back inside more regularly after contributing at defensive end for significant stretches in 2024.

The unit received a significant boost in late January when the return for a sixth season was finalized for DeMonte Capehart. While Capehart's production has been limited slightly by playing behind Clemson's run of prolific interior linemen now all plying their crafts professionally, the heavy-handed Capehart has been a subject of fascination of the scouting community and those who have more closely examined his play and his ability.

While Woods and Capehart are expected to command the bulk of opponents' focus in the interior, Clemson feels strongly about its next wave of interior linemen. After a redshirt campaign in 2023, now-redshirt sophomore Stephiylan Green emerged as a trusted option for the Tigers in 2024, playing the third-most snaps of any Tiger defensive tackle. One of his fellow Class of 2023 signees, Vic Burley, will seek a breakout campaign after missing his entire redshirt campaign with knee injuries in 2023 and playing just shy of 100 snaps in 2024.

The group also includes Champ Thompson and Hevin Brown-Shuler, both of whom turned some heads on scout team while redshirting in 2024. That duo ceded its status as the youngest on the unit with the arrivals of midyear enrollee Amare Adams and summer enrollee Makhi Williams Lee. Among the group's veteran depth, redshirt junior Caden Story enters his fourth season having player 119 defensive snaps over 19 career games.

LINEBACKERS

Energy and enthusiasm levels are anticipated to reach full capacity in Clemson's linebacker room this year as the group now falls jointly under the purview of Allen and Clemson-legend-turned-Linebackers Coach Ben Boulware. The former All-American served as a volunteer coach in 2024 and now joins the staff in a full-time capacity to help further develop Clemson's assortment of talent at the position.

While attention on Clemson's linebackers over the last several seasons justifiably landed on multi-time All-Americans Jeremiah Trotter Jr. and Barrett Carter, one of the ACC's best-kept secrets at the position over the last couple of years has been now-senior Wade Woodaz. Despite missing two games, Woodaz actually led Clemson with 89 tackles in 2024 and posted 10.0 tackles for loss, three sacks, six pass breakups, three forced fumbles and an interception. He was one of only six power conference players to record double-digit tackles for loss, three or more forced fumbles and an interception in 2024, joining Texas' Anthony Hill Jr. and Colin Simmons, Indiana's Jailin Walker, UCLA's Kain Medrano and Texas Tech's Jacob Rodriguez.

Woodaz may once again be fighting through an immense local shadow for deserved recognition, as 2025 offers an expanded role for Sammy Brown, the 2024 ACC Defensive Rookie of the Year. Despite not being a full-season starter, he was productive in his debut campaign, as his 87 tackles were the most by a Clemson freshman under Dabo Swinney and the most by a Clemson freshman in any era since Anthony Simmons' freshman-school-record 150 tackles in 1995. His 2024 performance garnered freshman All-America honors, as he led the team or tied for the team in tackles in five of the last six games.

Beyond the two proven commodities is a talented group competing for larger roles. Junior Kobe McCloud was on-pace to be one of Clemson's key reserve linebackers and special teamers a year ago before suffering a season-ending knee injury early in the campaign. That created some extra runway for the development of Dee Crayton, who stepped up in a clutch 58-snap performance at Pittsburgh last year with several linebackers missing by virtue of injury or disqualification. Jamal Anderson returns for his third year as well, as the son of the former Atlanta Falcon of the same name has been a special teams staple for the Tigers and partially blocked a punt against Stanford last year.

The unit added more power-conference pedigree in January when Clemson signed Alabama transfer Jeremiah Alexander. His work ethic led him to being called "a lunatic" by the similarly wired Boulware. He now joins a Clemson squad that heavily recruited him out of high school, and he will once again play alongside his former high school teammate Peter Woods, with whom he won multiple state titles at Thompson High School.

The scholarship linebacker group also includes three freshmen: redshirt freshmen Drew Woodaz and C.J. Kubah-Taylor and first-year freshman Logan Anderson.

CORNERBACKS

Clemson's cornerbacks remain under the purview of the longest-tenured member of Clemson's assistant coaches, Assistant Head Coach/Co-Special Teams Coordinator/Cornerbacks Coach Mike Reed, who is now entering his 13th season at Clemson.

Reed had the privilege of coaching multi-time All-ACC cornerback and current NFL All-Pro A.J. Terrell for all three seasons (2017-19) of his Clemson career, and he now enters his third season guiding the next entry in the Terrell lineage at Clemson, junior Avieon Terrell. Terrell is moving from jersey #20 to his family's familiar #8. Last year, the second-team All-ACC selection started all 14 games and notched 64 tackles (4.5 for loss), 13 pass breakups, two interceptions, three forced fumbles, two fumble recoveries and a sack, becoming the first Clemson player under Dabo Swinney to finish a season with at least three forced fumbles, multiple interceptions and multiple fumble recoveries.

NOLAN HAUSER MADE 18-24 FIELD-GOAL ATTEMPTS AS A FRESHMAN IN 2024.

While Terrell locked down one starting corner spot in 2024, the spot opposite Clemson featured a trio of different contributors. After battling various injuries throughout his career, Jeadyn Lukus played all 14 games last year, including 10 starts, as a junior. Junior Shelton Lewis played 10 games with four starts while bouncing between the cornerback and nickel positions, and Ashton Hampton made a splash debut as a true freshman in 2024, recording a pick-six against NC State and highlight-reel one-handed snare at Virginia Tech.

Junior Myles Oliver will hope for an extended run of good health this spring to showcase his abilities after nearly all of his first three seasons on campus have been wiped out by injuries. Branden Strozier enters his third season following a 2024 campaign in which he played 73 defensive snaps over eight games. Corian Gipson returns following a redshirt season a year ago.

SAFETIES

Clemson's safeties group lost a 60-game veteran with the departure of five-year defensive back R.J. Mickens for the NFL in 2025, but Defensive Pass Game Coordinator/Co-Special Teams Coordinator/Safeties Coach Mickey Conn's group includes a compelling blend of personalities and experience levels looking to lead the back end of Clemson's secondary.

Though his production has not yet garnered All-ACC recognition from the league's official voters in his first two seasons, now-junior Khalil Barnes followed up his 2023 Freshman All-America season with another productive performance in 2024. He enters 2025 credited with 101 tackles (5.5 for loss), 11 pass breakups, seven interceptions, three forced fumbles, a sack and a fumble recovery (which he returned 42 yards for a touchdown) in 27 games with 21 starts, as he was the only player in the nation to record at least seven interceptions and at least three forced fumbles across the 2023-24 campaigns. His seven picks in his first two years were the most by a Clemson player across his freshman and sophomore seasons since Rashard Hall's eight interceptions from 2009-10.

Genetically speaking, one of the vocal leaders of the group should come as no surprise as the 2025 campaign will mark the sixth and presumably final season for Tyler Venables. Venables has played 50 career games and bounced between defensive, special teams and coaching roles throughout his playing career while battling injuries and a pair of hamstrings that he self-deprecatingly says "are made out of cold Twizzlers."

Between injuries and Clemson's recent penchant for three-safety looks, Kylon Griffin carved out a role as a frequent contributor despite having started only four of his 26 career appearances. He has three career interceptions, including one that helped seal a memorable upset win against Notre Dame in 2023.

The group includes a bevy of players in search of expanded roles. Sophomores Rob Billings and Kylen Webb have appeared in a combined 30 games entering their third years, while Clemson's batch of second-year safeties includes sophomore Ricardo Jones and redshirt freshmen Noah Dixon and Joe Wilkinson.

One of the spring's compelling storylines was the continued position transition of defensive back Ronan Hanafin. The former wideout's athleticism matched with his tenacity as a core special teams player led him to switch to defense last August, and this marks his first opportunity to accelerate his development in the back seven without the burden of having to serve in a scout-team capacity for game planning. The safeties group was also joined by midyear enrollee Jakarrion Kenan.

SPECIAL TEAMS

Clemson's special teams unit battled some in-season struggles in 2024, but the unit delivered in one of the most memorable moments of the entire college football season when the group led by Director of Special Teams Will Gilchrist delivered Clemson its 22nd ACC title and sent Clemson into A) delirium, and B) its seventh College Football Playoff.

Though a collective effort, the game-winning 56-yard field goal to defeat SMU came off of the right foot of Nolan Hauser, highlighting an impactful debut campaign for the true freshman. He converted 18-24 field goal attempts and 59-60 PATs in starting all 14 games, becoming the first player in Clemson history to record 100 points in a true freshman season. He was selected as a Freshman All-American by the FWAA and also collected the organization's National Freshman Special Teams Player of the Year award.

The rest of the placekicking battery returns for Hauser in 2025. Holden Caspersen will be in his fourth season as a starting long snapper in some capacity and his third consecutive specifically as the team's snapper on placekicks. And, as is customary now for nearly a full decade, the snaps will land in the hands of a Swinney, as Clay Swinney returns for his third year as Clemson's primary holder. Clay and his two brothers, Will and Drew, have held for every Clemson placekick since the start of the 2017 season.

Clemson also returns placekicker Robert Gunn III. Gunn has been one of the nation's top kickoff specialists in two years starting in that role. Including five kickoffs while redshirting in 2022, he recorded touchbacks on 136-165 kickoffs (82.4 percent) through his first three seasons at Clemson from 2022-24.

For only the third time since 2017, Clemson will be in search of a new punter. Will Spiers was Clemson's primary punter from 2017-21 before the expiration of his eligibility gave way to Aidan Swanson's three years as Clemson's punter from 2022-24. Clemson will seek consistency from redshirt junior Jack Smith, who punted five times in his first three years behind Swanson. He and walk-on punters Brodey Conn and Will McCune will have the benefit of experience in front of them, as Clemson returns long snapper Philip Florenzo, a multi-year starter who has been Clemson's primary punt snapper for two seasons and has been one of the nation's best in coverage at his position with 12 career tackles.

HEAD COACH DABO SWINNEY

DABO SWINNEY

- HEAD COACH
- 17TH FULL SEASON AS HEAD COACH
- 23RD SEASON ON CLEMSON STAFF
- ALABAMA '93

An illustrious coaching heritage is embedded in the foundation of Clemson football. At the dawn of the 20th century, the Tigers were led by future College Football Hall of Famer John Heisman. Hall of Famers Jess Neely, Frank Howard and Danny Ford followed in Heisman's winning tradition.

Now entering his 18th season (and 17th full season) as Clemson's head coach, Dabo Swinney has already carved his name into that foundation, elevating himself amid a pantheon of Tiger greats as both the program's all-time winningest coach and the first in history to lead Clemson to multiple national championships.

Swinney enters the 2025 campaign as the winningest coach in ACC history, as his 180 victories surpassed the 173 wins College Football Hall of Famer Bobby Bowden accrued after Florida State joined the conference prior to the 1992 season. Swinney passed Bowden in 2024 by earning his 174th career win, a feat he accomplished on the field bearing Bowden's name in Tallahassee.

Clemson produced its 13th 10-win season in 14 years and its eighth ACC title in a 10-year span in 2024. A dramatic walk-off field goal to win the 2024 ACC Championship Game against SMU extended Clemson's FBS record of consecutive seasons with a postseason win to 14 years, and the victory propelled Clemson to its seventh College Football Playoff berth (second-most all-time) in the first year of the 12-team CFP era. The conference championship was Swinney's ninth, pushing him past College Football Hall of Famer Frank Howard (eight, including six ACC titles) for the most in school history.

Despite having only coached in 17 seasons, Swinney already ranks seventh in FBS history for the most wins through the first 20 seasons of a head coaching career (180), trailing only Tom Osborne (195), Nick Saban (191), Bob Stoops (191), Joe Paterno (187), Urban Meyer (187) and LaVell Edwards (183). He is the nation's fifth-longest-tenured head coach, and he has produced 86 NFL Draft picks, the most of any active coach since his hire, including 18 first-round picks.

Swinney coached the 200th game of his career in the 2022 Orange Bowl, and his 161-39 record through 200 career games positioned him alongside College Football Hall of Famers Bob Stoops and Robert Neyland for the fifth-most wins through 200 games in FBS history.

Swinney surpassed the legendary Howard as Clemson's all-time winningest coach on Nov. 4, 2023, in a 31-23 defeat of No. 12 Notre Dame at Death Valley. The win was the 166th of his career in only his 209th career game. The win sparked Clemson's five-game season-ending winning streak as the Tigers jumped from 4-4 to 9-4 and finished ranked in the AP Top 25 for a 13th consecutive season.

Swinney's 2022 squad had an 11-3 record and returned the Tigers to the ACC throne, earning a 39-10 victory in the ACC Championship Game against North Carolina to give the Tigers their seventh ACC title in eight years. Clemson became the first program in an active Power Five conference to win seven outright championships in an eight-year span since Alabama won eight out of nine SEC titles outright from 1971-79. Clemson's 2022 squad extended its streak of consecutive 10-win seasons to 12, the third-longest streak in FBS history.

In 2021, Swinney's final win of the season in the Cheez-It Bowl was his 150th career win in his 186th game as head coach. In terms of games played, Swinney became the sixth-fastest coach in FBS history, and the fourth-fastest in the modern era, to earn 150 career wins, trailing Urban Meyer (176), Gil Dobie (180), Barry Switzer (180), Fielding Yost (184) and Joe Paterno (184). At the conclusion of that season, only 16 coaches in FBS history, including Swinney, had accomplished the feat within 200 games, and all 15 of the coaches beyond Swinney are College Football Hall of Fame inductees.

Though other seasons resulted in more hardware, analysts and observers opined that 2021 might have been his best coaching job, as the Tiger mentor guided his team through adversity and attrition to overcome a 2-2 start to finish 10-3. Clemson entered that October as one of 28 Power Five teams with two or more losses, yet concluded the season as one of only two of those 28 programs to finish the season having reached 10 wins.

In 2021, Swinney's team played seven one-possession games, one shy of the school record, and went 5-2 in those contests. The squad's success came in spite of tremendous turnover and attrition, as 48 different players earned at least one start, eight more than in the pandemic-impacted 2020 season. Only 23 Tigers played in all 13 games, and only four offensive or defensive players started all 13. Between injuries and transfers, he held aloft the 2021 Cheez-It Bowl trophy following a game Clemson finished without the services of 30 scholarship players from its initial fall roster.

A year earlier, Swinney's squad accomplished its "double-double mission," going 10-2 in a condensed season to give Clemson 10 consecutive 10-win seasons. Clemson became only the third program in FBS history to accomplish the feat and became the first school to win 10 games in 10 straight seasons as a member of the ACC, as only the final nine of Florida State's record 14-straight 10-win seasons came during the Seminoles' tenure in the ACC.

The pandemic-affected 2020 campaign was a historic one for the Tigers both as a team and individually, as quarterback Trevor Lawrence ascended to become the winningest quarterback in school history (34-2) and running back Travis Etienne added the ACC's all-time rushing crown (4,952 yards) to his arsenal of school and conference records. Etienne's versatility as a rusher and receiver earned him consensus All-American honors as an all-purpose selection, while Lawrence became the second Heisman Trophy finalist in program history, tying Deshaun Watson (second in 2016) for the highest finish in Heisman Trophy voting in school history.

The prolific backfield duo under Swinney's tutelage helped guide Clemson to its sixth consecutive outright conference title with a 34-10 win against Notre Dame in the ACC Championship Game. That day, Clemson and Oklahoma's six-year streaks of outright conference titles made the two programs the first among current Power Five programs to win at least six straight outright titles since Oklahoma (12 from 1948-59) as part of the now-dissolved Big 8 Conference.

The conference title helped Clemson secure its sixth College Football Playoff berth, becoming the first program ever to reach the postseason tournament in six consecutive seasons. Clemson is also one of only three programs to have won at least College Football Playoff games.

Clemson finished 2020 as the nation's No. 3-ranked squad, the Tigers' sixth consecutive top-four finish in the AP poll. In doing so, Swinney joined Bobby Bowden (13), Pete Carroll (7) and Bud Wilkinson (6) as the only coaches since the AP Poll's inception in 1936 to record six consecutive top-four finishes. In that stretch, Clemson appeared in the top five of 57 consecutive AP Polls, the second-longest streak in poll history.

Clemson entered the third decade of the 21st century in 2020 after Swinney helped author one of the most prolific 10-year periods in the history of the sport. Clemson posted a 117-22 record under Swinney's leadership in the 2010s, and the program's 117 wins trailed only Penn (124 in the 1890s) and Alabama (124 in the 2010s) to tie for the third-most in a decade in major college football since 1890. Clemson's 117 wins in the 2010s represented the first 100-win decade in Clemson history.

Before a pandemic-shortened season in 2020, Clemson won at least 12 games in five straight seasons from 2015-19, tied for the longest such streak in the modern era and only two seasons shy of Penn's record seven-season streak from 1892-98. Clemson won 69 games in that five-year span, the most in a five-year stretch in the AP Poll era.

In 2019, the Tigers earned their fifth-consecutive CFP berth following their fifth-consecutive ACC title, becoming the first team in college football history to win five straight conference championship games since conference title games were created in 1992.

Clemson posted a 14-1 record that year, earning its fourth appearance in the College Football Playoff National Championship Game in five years. Prior to the season finale, Clemson extended its school-record winning streak to 29 games, tied with Florida State (2012-14) for the longest streak in ACC history and for the 12th-longest in FBS history.

Clemson dominated the vast majority of its 2019 opponents, including an eight-game streak of wins by 30 or more points to break the longest streak in the AP Poll era, surpassing the previous mark of seven games set by 2011 Houston and 1976 Michigan.

Clemson also produced the 2018 William V. Campbell Trophy winner (known colloquially as the "Academic Heisman") in Christian Wilkins and won the program's first AFCA Academic Achievement Award. Clemson repeated as AFCA Academic Achievement Award recipients in 2019, becoming the only school in the country to repeat and doing so while appearing in the national championship game in both seasons.

Swinney and Clemson's 2018 season was one for which statistics and superlatives accumulated in historic fashion. The Tigers became the first major college football team in the modern era (and the first since Penn in 1897) to finish a season with a 15-0 record.

The list of "firsts" was long and distinguished. Clemson became the first program to win four consecutive Atlantic Division titles, and with a 42-10 win against Pittsburgh in the ACC Championship Game, it became the first program to win four straight ACC titles outright.

Clemson's 15 wins included a school-record 12 against teams who finished with winning records. Clemson won by an average margin of 31.1 points per game, the best in the nation and the second-largest in school history, trailing only a 35.3-point average margin in 1900. Among the seasons it passed was a 30.4-point average margin in 1901, a season in which Clemson won one of its five games by a score of 122-0.

Clemson set school records in points (664) and total offense (7,718, also an ACC record). The defense held opponents to 13.1 points per game, leading the country in scoring defense for the first time in school history.

A critical point in the season came four games into the campaign. Following a 49-21 win at Georgia Tech in which true freshman quarterback Trevor Lawrence threw for four touchdowns in reserve, Swinney and the coaching staff elected to name Lawrence the starter, supplanting senior Kelly Bryant, who had led the Tigers to a 16-2 career record as a starter.

With Lawrence leading Swinney's Tigers, Clemson took flight. After a dramatic come-from-behind 27-23 win against Syracuse in which Lawrence exited the game with an injury, Clemson rattled off 10 consecutive wins of 20 points or more to conclude the season, including blowout wins of No. 3 Notre Dame in the Cotton Bowl and No. 1 Alabama in the College Football Playoff National Championship.

Seven players earned first or second-team All-America honors, including a school-record three players who collected consensus honors. The 2018 Tigers produced a team-record 18 All-ACC selections and became the first team to produce the ACC Player of the Year, ACC Offensive Player of the Year, ACC Defensive Player of the Year, ACC Offensive Rookie of the Year and ACC Coach of the Year in a season since Florida State in 1997.

HEAD COACH DABO SWINNEY

Accolades also accumulated for Swinney, who earned his second career ACC Coach-of-the-Year honor and brought home the Woody Hayes Award as national coach of the year. Less than a week after winning the national title, he won the Paul "Bear" Bryant Award, becoming the first three-time winner of the award.

The 2018 season was preceded by a 2017 campaign in which Clemson was on a mission to prove that it was built to last. Swinney guided the team to a 12-2 record, an ACC title and a College Football Playoff berth despite having only six scholarship seniors and losing players who accounted for 77 percent of the offense during the 2016 national championship season.

While Clemson was ranked No. 5 in the preseason AP Poll, few expected the Tigers to be ranked No. 1 in both polls and the College Football Playoff ranking entering the bowl season. In fact, Clemson was not even the preseason choice to win the ACC Atlantic Division.

Despite a setback in the Sugar Bowl to eventual national champion Alabama, Clemson finished ranked No. 4 in both polls. Swinney was inducted into the Alabama Sports Hall of Fame following the season.

The Tiger-record six wins over top-25 teams in 2017, also a national best, included a school-record four on opponents' home fields and five away from home. The defense, including three defensive linemen, featured four All-Americans, helping Clemson finish in the top four in the nation in scoring defense (No. 2) and total defense (No. 4). Clemson led the ACC in the four major defensive categories (scoring, total, rushing, passing), a first in conference history.

The 2016 Tigers lived up to their hype after compiling a 14-1 record and earning a spot in the College Football Playoff for the second-straight year. Along the way, Clemson knocked off five top-25 foes.

Clemson defeated the top two teams in the national polls in consecutive games in the College Football Playoff at the end of the season. The Tigers blanked Ohio State, 31-0, in the Fiesta Bowl, the first shutout suffered by head coach Urban Meyer in his career and the first for Ohio State since 1993.

The Tigers then earned a rematch with No. 1 Alabama, and for the first time in school history, took down the top-ranked team in a second epic battle with the storied Crimson Tide program. Quarterback Deshaun Watson's touchdown pass to Hunter Renfrow with one second left on the clock gave Clemson a dramatic 35-31 national championship victory in Tampa, Fla. Swinney received the Bear Bryant Award as national coach-of-the-year for the second consecutive season.

Swinney coached Watson to two record-setting seasons (2015,16). The two-time Heisman Trophy finalist became the first FBS player to total 4,000 passing yards and 1,000 rushing yards in a season in 2015, and he followed by setting an ACC record with 41 passing touchdowns in 2016. Watson won the Davey O'Brien Award and Manning Award in back-to-back years.

Swinney guided Clemson to the No. 1 national ranking in every College Football Playoff poll in 2015 and led the Tigers to their first national championship game appearance under the new format after his team defeated Oklahoma, 37-17, in the 2015 Orange Bowl. The Tigers led Alabama in the fourth quarter of the championship contest, but came up just short (45-40) in an epic game in Glendale, Ariz.

Following the team's 14-1 record and No. 2 final ranking, he was the recipient of 10 national and two ACC Coach-of-the-Year honors.

In 2015, a then-Tiger-record 17 players were named to one of three All-ACC teams, including all five starting offensive linemen for the first time in school history. In 2016, 15 players were honored, including a school-record three first-team All-ACC offensive line selections.

The 2012, 2013 and 2014 seasons were also noteworthy, with three top-15 final rankings.

With a 40-6 Russell Athletic Bowl win over Oklahoma in 2014, Swinney became the first coach to win three bowl games in consecutive seasons over teams whose head coaches had previously won the national title. He upped that mark to five years in a row in 2016.

Clemson capped off the 2013 season with a thrilling 40-35 victory over No. 6 Ohio State in the Orange Bowl. Clemson had an 11-2 record after finishing 7-1 in ACC regular-season games. It marked Clemson's first back-to-back 11-win seasons in school history. For the fourth time in his first five full seasons as head coach, Swinney was a finalist for the Liberty Mutual National Coach of the Year in 2013.

The 2012 season (11-2) gave Clemson back-to-back 10-win seasons for the first time in 22 years. Its seven conference wins in the regular season were then a school record, and Clemson was co-champion of the ACC Atlantic Division.

With Clemson's thrilling 25-24 win over No. 7 LSU in the 2012 Chick-fil-A Bowl, the Tigers finished the season ranked No. 9 in the USA Today poll. It was Clemson's first top-10 finish in one of the two major polls since 1990. Clemson also reached the 11-win mark for the first time since its 1981 national championship season.

Swinney's 2011 squad, which ended the season ranked No. 22 in the nation, captured Clemson's first ACC title since 1991 when it beat No. 3 Virginia Tech, 38-10, in the ACC Championship Game in Charlotte, N.C. It gave Clemson its first 10-win season since 1990. For his efforts, Swinney was named Bobby Dodd National Coach of the Year to become the first Tiger head coach to win a national coach-of-the-year award since Ford in 1981.

In 2010, Swinney became just the second Tiger coach to lead Clemson to a bowl game in his first two full years as head coach, joining his predecessor, Tommy Bowden. The 2010 schedule was one of the most challenging in school history, as nine bowl teams were on the regular-season slate and two of the four non-conference opponents were ranked in the top 25.

In Swinney's first full season as head coach at Clemson in 2009, he led the Tigers to their first ACC Atlantic Division championship. The Tigers came just six points short of winning their first ACC title in 18 years. Swinney was named ACC Coach of the Year by Sporting News and was a finalist for the Liberty Mutual Coach of the Year.

In October 2008, Swinney was named Clemson's interim head coach, replacing Bowden, who had been his position coach as a player at Alabama and was Clemson's head coach since 1999. He led the Tigers to a 4-2 record during the rest of the 2008 regular season, including a win over South Carolina in the regular-season finale to earn a Gator Bowl bid against Nebraska.

On Dec. 1, 2008, his interim tag was removed and he was named the program's head coach. At the time, there had been 28 interim head coaches at the FBS level since 1970, and those coaches had combined for a 26-86-2 record. Only one of those 28 interim coaches posted a winning record, and that was Swinney. When he was hired as head coach, he became just the second interim coach to be elevated to the head coach position at the same school during that time period.

Swinney hit the ground running in his first week as interim head coach, as he prepared for a 5-1 Georgia Tech team. He had to reorganize his staff and regroup his team and the fanbase in just five days. While the Tigers lost by four points, he accomplished many goals in that first week through his outstanding leadership. One of the most impressive demonstrations of unity came during the team's "Tiger Walk," which has since become a staple of Clemson's game day routine for both the team and fans.

With an initial hire date of Oct. 13, 2008, Swinney is the senior member of ACC head coaches and enters the 2025 season as the fifth-longest-tenured head coach in the FBS. He is one of three active coaches with an FBS national championship to his credit (Kirby Smart and Ryan Day) and one of only two with multiple national championships at college football's highest level (Smart).

Clemson's success on the gridiron has been matched by its prowess in the classroom. Clemson's 99 percent mark in the NCAA Graduation Success Rate's metric released in 2024 for the 2017 cohort was the highest ever recorded among public Power Five football programs in the 20 years the NCAA has tracked the metric. Swinney's culture of pursuit of excellence in all areas of the program has made Clemson the only program in the country to have finished among the Top 25 in APR among FBS schools and the AP Top 25 in every reported APR cycle over the last 14 seasons. In May 2025, his program reached 400 unique graduates to have earned at least once Clemson degree since 2009.

Swinney has demonstrated his dedication to the community through Dabo's All In Team Foundation. Since 2009, the foundation has given more than $13 million back to communities and programs in the state. Since 2012, its grant program has distributed more than 1,670 grants totaling in excess of $8.5 million, including $1.7 million to 274 organizations in 2024 alone.

One of the foundation's core focus areas is breast cancer research, education, technology and aid, areas for which the foundation has raised and donated more than $2.25 million through events like the annual Dabo Swinney Ladies Clinic as well as from general donations. To date, the foundation has provided the lead gifts for three mobile mammography buses that travel across multiple counties to provide affordable and accessible mammograms to those that may not otherwise have easy access to care.

Swinney was named as the honorary coach for the 2019 Allstate AFCA Good Works Team, an honor for which Watson, a former Good Works Team selection, returned to Clemson to surprise Swinney during a team meeting. In the spring of 2021, Swinney accepted the Uncommon Award from Pro Football Hall of Fame Coach Tony Dungy, who presents the honor annually to figures in football who "take the tough road, follow a higher calling and set a higher standard."

Swinney, a 1993 Alabama graduate, joined the Clemson staff prior to the 2003 season. In his first 22 years as an assistant or head coach, the Tigers finished in the top 25 of the polls 18 times and totaled 49 wins over top-25 teams.

Swinney coached his wide receiver position to a level of consistency that had not been seen previously at Clemson. He had a wideout finish first or second in the ACC in catches in five of his six seasons as an assistant coach. In his first season, he had three of the top-10 receivers in the conference, a first in Tiger history.

In his 22 seasons at Clemson, a Tiger wide receiver has earned All-ACC status in 18 of those campaigns, including a first- or second-team All-ACC selection (Derrick Hamilton, Airese Currie, Chansi Stuckey, Aaron Kelly, Jacoby Ford, Sammy Watkins, DeAndre Hopkins, Artavis Scott, Mike Williams, Tee Higgins, Amari Rodgers and Antonio Williams) in 17 of those 22 seasons. Five of his protégés (Hopkins, Watkins, Mike Williams, Higgins and Hunter Renfrow) have recorded at least one 1,000-yard season in the NFL, while others (Chansi Stuckey and Xavier Dye) have served as wide receivers coach at power conference programs.

The Alabama native has a reputation as one of the top recruiters in the nation. In 2006, he was listed as the No. 5 recruiter in the nation by Rivals. He signed 38 players in his five recruiting seasons as an assistant coach and was a major reason Clemson's 2008 recruiting class was rated No. 2 in the nation by ESPN when he signed 11 players.

When Swinney accepted the interim head coaching position at Clemson on Oct. 13, 2008, he described his feelings as "bittersweet" because he was taking over for Bowden, who had been his first position coach at Alabama in the 1989 season. He had also brought Swinney back to the coaching profession in 2003 and has had a profound effect on his life. Both had followed similar paths as players; Bowden was a walk-on at West Virginia, and Swinney was a walk-on at Alabama.

Swinney received his bachelor's degree in commerce & business administration from Alabama in 1993 after lettering three times (1990-92). A walk-on who went on to earn a scholarship, Swinney was a wide receiver on Alabama's 1992 national championship team. He was also named Academic All-SEC along with being an SEC Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll member in 1990 and 1992.

Along with his appearance in the 1993 Sugar Bowl, his Alabama teams played in the 1990 Sugar Bowl, 1991 Fiesta Bowl and 1991 Blockbuster Bowl. Both Sugar Bowls came after winning the SEC title game.

After his playing career, he was a graduate assistant at Alabama from 1993-95. He received a master's degree in business administration from Alabama in 1995.

He became a full-time assistant coach at Alabama in February 1996 under head coach Gene Stallings and coached a total of five seasons there on a full-time basis. Swinney was assigned to coach the Crimson Tide's wide receivers and tight ends in 1996, a season that saw Alabama win the SEC West Division title. The following year, he solely coached the tight ends.

In 1998, he coached Alabama's wide receivers, a position he held for three years. At the end of 1999, Swinney coached the Crimson Tide in the 2000 Orange Bowl after winning the SEC Championship Game.

During his time at Alabama, Swinney was a part of six teams with double-digit wins, five top-10 finishes, one national title (1992), three SEC championships (1989,92,99) and five SEC West Division titles (1992,93,94,96,99) as a player and coach.

Swinney married the former Kathleen Bassett in 1994. They have three sons, Will, Drew and Clay. Will played for Clemson from 2017-21, appearing in 69 games and holding for 558 career kicking points while also scoring two touchdowns of his own. Drew was a core special teams player for Clemson from 2018-22 who served as the starting holder in his final campaign and caught 14 career passes. Both Will and Drew earned All-ACC Academic Team selections during their playing careers and are currently members of Clemson's support staff. Clay is a redshirt junior on the 2025 Tiger football team.

ASSISTANT COACHES

NICK EASON

- ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH
- CO-DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR • DEFENSIVE TACKLES
- 4TH SEASON ON CLEMSON STAFF
- CLEMSON '01

- Veteran of 17 combined NFL seasons as a player and coach who returned to his alma mater on Jan. 7, 2022 upon being hired as Clemson's defensive run game coordinator and defensive tackles coach. Added the title of associate head coach in 2024 and the title of co-defensive coordinator in 2025.
- Guided Payton Page to All-ACC recognition in his first year as a starter in 2024 as Clemson won the ACC and finished 13th nationally in tackles for loss.
- Produced multiple All-ACC honorees in 2023 in first-team selection Tyler Davis and third-team selection Ruke Orhorhoro in addition to mentoring Peter Woods amid a Freshman All-America debut campaign. Clemson's interior helped the defense finish eighth in the nation in both total defense and passing defense while ranking 24th in rushing yards allowed per game.
- In his first season at Clemson in 2022, helped Davis earn All-America honors, a first-team All-ACC selection and a semifinalist nod for the Chuck Bednarik Award in addition to helping Bryan Bresee to the No. 29 overall selection in the 2023 NFL Draft.
- His defensive tackles produced 14 of Clemson's 44 sacks and 31 of its 111 tackles for loss as the Tigers finished in the top four in the nation in both categories in 2022.
- In his first year in the ACC, he earned 247Sports' ACC Recruiter of the Year for his first recruiting cycle, which ended on National Signing Day in 2023.
- "Nick is the epitome of what I look for in a coach," said Head Coach Dabo Swinney upon Eason's hiring. "He has an incredible passion for the game, he has got a great background and he truly loves the player. In this hire, I really wanted a guy who had great experience at the NFL level. I wanted somebody who has coached the best of the best at the highest level, and that's exactly what he's done. He was a great player at Clemson and he's a great Clemson man."
- Prior to returning to Clemson, he served as defensive line coach at Auburn in 2021, helping the Tigers to their largest sack total since 2018.
- Coached a defensive interior that helped Auburn allow the third-fewest yards per carry in the SEC and finish fourth in the conference in tackles for loss in the 2021 season.

Record at Clemson: ..... 30-11 (.732)

- Served as outside linebackers and defensive line coach for the Cincinnati Bengals from 2019-20. In his first season, Eason led significant improvement in the Bengals' defensive line as the season progressed, notching an 11-sack improvement and an 84.1-yard reduction in yards per game in the final eight games of the season as compared to the first eight games.
- Helped Bengals defensive tackle Geno Atkins earn his eighth career Pro Bowl selection.
- Briefly served as a defensive assistant at Austin Peay for part of 2018.
- Was hired by the Tennessee Titans in 2014 and helped oversee Tennessee's transition from a 4-3 to a 3-4 front.
- Spent two seasons as an assistant defensive line coach for the Titans from 2014-15 before becoming the Titans' outside linebackers and defensive line coach in 2016-17.
- Helped defensive tackle Jurrell Casey to the first three of his five career Pro Bowl selections to date through 2021 in those four years.
- Began his transition to coaching in 2013 as a coaching intern for the Cleveland Browns, for whom he had previously played three seasons from 2004-06.
- Was a four-year letterman at Clemson from 1999-2002, playing 47 games with 35 starts and recording 15 sacks and 30 tackles for loss.
- Among those who he played with at Clemson were former Clemson offensive coordinators Tony Elliott, Jeff Scott and Brandon Streeter.
- Was a team captain, All-ACC selection and Strength & Conditioning All-American at Clemson. He was a two-time Dedication Award winner as awarded by the Clemson strength & conditioning staff.
- Selected to the AFCA Good Works Team in 2000 and was the first five-time Clemson recipient of the ACC Top Six award, which was presented annually to the conference's top student-athletes in terms of community involvement.
- Became the first Tiger football player to graduate with two years of eligibility remaining after earning a degree in sociology in August 2001. He added a master's degree in human resource development in 2008.
- Was a fourth-round selection by the Denver Broncos in the 2003 NFL Draft, but he spent his rookie season on the Reserve/Injured list after suffering an Achilles injury during training camp.
- Played 117 NFL games over 10 seasons from 2003-12 with the Cleveland Browns, Pittsburgh Steelers and Arizona Cardinals.
- Finished his playing career with the Cardinals, where he spent two seasons from 2011-12, appearing in 32 games and registering two sacks.
- Spent four seasons (2007-10) with the Pittsburgh Steelers and helped them to two Super Bowl appearances, including a victory in Super Bowl XLIII in the 2008 season.

MATT LUKE

- ASSISTANT HEAD COACH
- CO-OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR • OFFENSIVE LINEMEN
- 2ND FULL SEASON ON CLEMSON STAFF
- OLE MISS '00

- Joined Clemson in December 2023 with more than 20 years of experience as an offensive line coach, co-offensive coordinator and head coach. Added the titles of assistant head coach and co-offensive coordinator prior to the 2025 season.
- Engineered a significant improvement in Clemson's offensive line in his first full season, producing multiple All-ACC picks (Blake Miller and Marcus Tate) and helping Clemson tie for the national lead with six games reaching both 200 rushing yards and 200 passing yards.
- Coached his first game with Clemson in the 2023 TaxSlayer Gator Bowl, as his offensive line helped power MVP Phil Mafah to a Clemson bowl-record four rushing touchdowns in the victory.
- "Matt is exactly what we needed with his hire," said Dabo Swinney. "He brings an incredible résumé and a wealth of experience and has worked with a bunch of great coaches and players over his career."
- Prior to joining Clemson, most recently served as the assistant head coach/offensive line coach at Georgia from 2020-21, helping the Bulldogs to a 22-3 record in that span and helping guide Georgia in 2021 to its first national championship in 41 years.
- In his two seasons in Athens, his players accounted for three All-SEC honors and four NFL Draft picks.
- Prior to his stint at Georgia, he had mentored 42 all-conference selections and 27 NFL Draft picks from 1999-2019, including first-round selections Laremy Tunsil and Laken Tomlinson.

THE LUKE FILE

PLAYING EXPERIENCE

Four-year letterman at center for Ole Miss from 1995-98 ... started 33 career games for the Rebels ... two-time Academic All-SEC pick selected as team captain in 1998.

BOWL PARTICIPATION AS A PLAYER

1997 Motor City Bowl ... 1998 Independence Bowl.

EDUCATION

Degree in business administration from Ole Miss in 2000.

PERSONAL DATA

Born Oct. 29, 1976 ... married to his wife, Ashley, with whom he has two sons, Harrison and Cooper.

- Spent eight years (2012-19) at Ole Miss, serving initially as its assistant head coach/offensive line coach from 2012-16 prior to being elevated to interim head coach in the weeks leading up to the 2017 season.
- Faced the daunting challenge of taking over as Ole Miss' head coach a week before 2017 fall camp, but his Rebels responded by posting a 6-6 record and winning three of their final four games, leading to the removal of the interim tag from his title.
- During his Ole Miss tenure, he guided tackle Laremy Tunsil to three All-SEC honors en route to Tunsil's selection as the No. 13 overall pick in the 2016 NFL Draft, Ole Miss' highest-selected offensive lineman in more than 60 years.

Record at Clemson: ..... 11-4 (.733)

- Was recognized by 247Sports in 2016 as one of the nation's top recruiters.
- In 2015, his offensive line powered Ole Miss to program records for points (531), touchdowns (68), total offense (6,731), passing yards (4,351) and passing touchdowns (35), among others. The Rebels led the SEC and were top 10 nationally in scoring (40.8), total offense (517.8 yards per game) and passing (334.7 yards per game).
- Luke's prized pupils on Ole Miss's offensive line were Tunsil, who twice earned All-SEC honors and was taken in the first round of the 2015 NFL Draft, and Fahn Cooper, who was drafted by San Francisco in 2016. Both linemen collected the Kent Hull Trophy, sponsored by the Mississippi Sports Hall of Fame, which goes annually to the state's outstanding offensive lineman.
- Began his coaching career at Ole Miss, his alma mater, in 1999 as a student assistant coach.
- Served as Murray State's offensive line coach from 2000-01.
- Returned to Ole Miss in 2002 to oversee the offensive line and tight ends from 2002-05 under head coaches David Cutcliffe and Ed Orgeron.
- In 2006, reunited with Cutcliffe at Tennessee, serving as the Volunteers' offensive line and tight ends coach for two seasons. In that time, he helped the Vols to a 19-8 record and a division title while also serving as recruiting coordinator for Tennessee's top-five recruiting class in 2007.
- Followed Cutcliffe to Duke in 2008, serving as the Blue Devils' co-offensive coordinator and offensive line coach. His offensive line ranked among the ACC's top five in fewest sacks allowed throughout his tenure, including finishing third in 2009 and 2010.
- Played collegiately at Ole Miss as a center from 1995-98 and earned his degree in business administration in 2000.
- Started 33 career games for the Rebels and was voted as a team captain in 1998 in helping lead the team to a 7-5 record and an Independence Bowl victory against Texas Tech.
- The native of Gulfport, Miss. was a two-time Academic All-SEC selection as a student-athlete.

ASSISTANT COACHES

MIKE REED

- ASSISTANT HEAD COACH
- CO-SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR • CORNERBACKS
- 13TH SEASON ON CLEMSON STAFF
- BOSTON COLLEGE '94

- Since 2013, he has helped Clemson to eight ACC titles and four national championship game appearances, including national titles in 2016 and 2018.
- Guided Avieon Terrell to second-team All-ACC honors and Ashton Hampton to Freshman All-America honors in 2024, whose 13 pass breakups were the most by a Tiger defensive back since Garry Peters had 15 in 2014.
- Coached Nate Wiggins to a first-team All-ACC selection in 2023 and a first-round selection in the 2024 NFL Draft as Clemson finished eighth in the nation in pass defense and tied for the national lead in takeaways.
- Named to Matrix Analytical's All-American Staff in 2023.
- Helped Wiggins post 12 pass breakups in 2022, one shy of the Clemson sophomore record of 13 shared by James Lott (1987) and Justin Miller (2003).
- Guided starting cornerbacks Andrew Booth Jr. and Mario Goodrich to first-team All-ACC honors in 2021, becoming the first pair of cornerbacks from a single school to sweep first-team honors since North Carolina's Dre Bly and Robert Williams in 1997.
- Helped Clemson finish first in the ACC and second in the nation in scoring defense in 2021, allowing 14.8 points per game. Clemson's pass defense finished fifth in the nation in opponent passer rating (110.1).

Record as an assistant coach: ..... 193-73 (.726)
Record at Clemson: ..... 140-26 (.843)

- His defensive backs combined for 15 interceptions in 2013. Bashaud Breeland, who had a team-tying-high four interceptions and 74 tackles, was a second-team All-ACC selection and a fourth-round draft pick.
- His defensive backs helped Clemson finish 10th in the nation in turnovers forced (30) in 2013.
- Was the defensive backs coach at NC State for six seasons (2007-12).
- Coached NC State All-American David Amerson, who is still fourth in ACC history in career interceptions (18). As a professional coach with the Philadelphia Eagles, he worked with former Clemson All-American and nine-time Pro Bowl selection Brian Dawkins.
- Helped the Wolfpack to four bowl games in his six years with the program. That includes 2012, when NC State beat a top-five Florida State team and played Vanderbilt in the Music City Bowl.
- Three times in his last five years in Raleigh, NC State finished in the top 20 in the nation in interceptions.
- The 2011 NC State squad had 27 interceptions, the most by an FBS school since 2003, when Nebraska had 32. The total tied for second most in ACC history and the most since 1994, when Virginia had 27.
- In 2011, Amerson had 13 interceptions to lead the nation, five more than any other player. It tied for the third-most interceptions in NCAA history. Amerson also led the nation in interception return yards (205). Amerson was a unanimous All-American in 2011, when he was also a Thorpe Award finalist and won the Jack Tatum Award.
- In addition to Amerson, Reed also coached four different all-conference players at NC State in six seasons.
- Played on three bowl teams that finished with top-25 AP rankings, including the 1993 season when Boston College upset top-ranked Notre Dame in South Bend.
- Played three seasons for Tom Coughlin, who went on to win two Super Bowl championships with the New York Giants, and his senior year for Dan Henning, who also went on to coach in the NFL.
- Was the last selection of the 1995 NFL Draft by the Carolina Panthers and played two seasons (1995-96) for that team, including the 1995 team that played its home games at Memorial Stadium. He also played for the NFL Europe team in Frankfurt and was team captain of the 1999 team that won the World Bowl.

TOM ALLEN

- DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR • LINEBACKERS
- 1ST SEASON ON CLEMSON STAFF
- MARANATHA BAPTIST '92

- Entering his first season as Clemson's defensive coordinator after being named to the position on Jan. 14.
- Joined the Tigers with 33 previous years of coaching experience, including impact at the high school, Division III, NAIA, FCS and FBS levels.
- Served as the defensive coordinator/linebackers coach at Penn State in 2024, helping lead the Nittany Lions to a school-record 13 wins and a College Football Playoff berth.
- His unit recorded two pick-sixes in Penn State's win against SMU in the CFP First Round, and it bottled up Heisman runner-up Ashton Jeanty to a season-low 3.47 yards per carry and no touchdowns in a victory over Boise State in the CFP National Quarterfinal at the Fiesta Bowl.
- Penn State finished seventh in the nation in total defense (294.8 yards per game) and eighth in the nation in scoring defense (16.5 points per game) under Allen's guidance in 2024.

THE ALLEN FILE

PLAYING EXPERIENCE

Played football and wrestled at Maranatha Baptist in Wisconsin from 1988-91.

EDUCATION

Earned undergraduate degree from Maranatha Baptist in 1992 and added a master's degree from Indiana in 2002.

PERSONAL DATA

Born March 14, 1970 ... married to his wife, Tracy, and has three children, Hannah, Thomas and Brittney.

- The unit finished second nationally in tackles for loss (119) and fifth in sacks (44), as he helped guide defensive end Abdul Carter to unanimous All-America honors and a No. 3 overall draft selection.
- Spent eight years at Indiana from 2016-23, including one year as the Hoosiers' associate head coach/defense in 2016 and seven as head coach from 2017-23.
- In his first season in Bloomington, he inherited a defense that ranked second-to-last among Power Five teams in passing yards allowed, third-to-last in total defense and scoring defense and fifth-to-last in first downs allowed prior to his arrival, but under Allen, Indiana held its opponents to 129.4 fewer total yards and 94.1 fewer passing yards per game, the nation's largest improvement. Indiana's defense allowed 10.4 fewer points per game and gave up 25 fewer touchdowns in its first year under his leadership.
- His head coaching tenure at Indiana included the 2020 campaign for which he earned AFCA National Coach of the Year as well as Big Ten Hayes-Schembechler Coach of the Year honors and Grant Teaff Coach of the Year from FCA. He was also a finalist for the 2020 Paul "Bear" Bryant Coach of the Year Award, the George Munger College Coach of the Year Award, the Dodd Trophy and the Eddie Robinson Coach of the Year Award.
- Developed a 2020 staff that included future head coaches Kalen DeBoer and Kane Wommack as the Hoosiers went 6-2 in the pandemic-truncated season, Indiana's highest winning percentage in a season (.750) since 1967. Indiana ranked as high as No. 7 in the AP Poll and finished No. 12, its highest end-of-year ranking since 1967.
- Coached four All-Americans on Indiana's defense, including linebacker Micah McFadden, linebacker Tegray Scales, linebacker Aaron Casey and defensive back Tiawan Mullen (the brother of former Clemson All-America cornerback Trayvon Mullen). Players under his tutelage also accounted for 35 All-Big Ten selections.
- Served as South Florida's defensive coordinator in 2015 as the Bulls went 8-5 and earned a trip to the Miami Beach Bowl. He mentored three all-conference selections and produced the American's top scoring defense in league play (19.6 points per game).

In 2004, he was promoted to head coach, a position in which he served at Ben Davis for three seasons before making the jump to the collegiate level in 2007.
- Including his successful prep coaching career, teams on which Allen has coached are a combined 268-120 (.691) since 1995.
- "We've got a great football coach, and a great leader of men, coming to Clemson," said Head Coach Dabo Swinney of Allen's hire. "He brings a ton of experience and was highly recommended by some of the best people in this business."
- Played football as a prolific defender and punter at Maranatha Baptist University in Wisconsin from 1988-91. Also competed intercollegiately as a wrestler.
- Native of New Castle, Ind.

MICKEY CONN

- DEFENSIVE PASSING GAME COORDINATOR
- CO-SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR • SAFETIES
- 10TH SEASON ON CLEMSON STAFF
- ALABAMA '95

- Became Clemson's full-time assistant coach for safeties in January 2017.
- Added defensive passing game coordinator and co-special teams coordinator titles prior to the 2025 season.
- In 2024, assisted a unit that produced 26 takeaways and helped Clemson post a top 5 finish in turnover margin (+16, Clemson's best under Dabo Swinney).
- Helped oversee a 2023 unit that helped Clemson finish eighth nationally in both total defense and passing defense and tie for the national lead in takeaways (28).
- Mentored Khalil Barnes to Freshman All-America honors in 2023 as Barnes became the first Clemson player in the Dabo Swinney era to record multiple forced fumbles (three) and multiple interceptions (three) in a freshman season. Barnes was one of only two FBS players to record three or more interceptions, three or more forced fumbles and a scoop-and-score in 2023.
- Helped the Tigers to another top-25 finish in points allowed per game (20.9) in 2022, as four of his safeties ranked among Clemson's top 10 tacklers on the season.
- In 2021, led Andrew Mukuba to become the first Tiger freshman defensive back to start a season opener since the NCAA instituted permanent freshman eligibility in 1972. Mukuba was a Freshman All-American and ACC Defensive Rookie of the Year in helping Clemson finish second in the country in scoring defense (14.8).
- Guided Nolan Turner to a second-team All-America and second-team All-ACC selection in 2020. Turner's three picks led Clemson as the Tigers finished in the top 10 in the nation in interceptions.
- Oversaw a veteran unit in 2019 that included seniors Tanner Muse and K'Von Wallace, who earned first- and third-team All-ACC honors, respectively, in helping Clemson allow an opponent passer rating of 105.37, the second-lowest in the country.
- Shared 2019 FootballScoop Defensive Backs Coach of the Year honors with Cornerbacks Coach Mike Reed.
- Muse was a Thorpe Award semifinalist and third-team AP All-American in 2019 who became the first Clemson defensive back to earn All-America status from the Associated Press since cornerback Cordrea Tankersley's third-team selection in 2016. Muse was the first Clemson safety to earn AP All-America honors since Jayron Kearse in 2015.
- With Muse and Turner in 2019 and 2020, respectively, Clemson had a safety honored by NCAA-recognized All-America selectors in consecutive seasons for the first time since 1981 and 1982, when Terry Kinard parlayed first-team honors by AP and FWAA in 1981 into unanimous All-American honors in the 1982 season.

2005 Champs Sports Bowl ... 2006 Music City Bowl ... 2007 Chick-fil-A Bowl ... 2008 Gator Bowl.

EDUCATION

Degree in business administration and management from Clemson in 2009 ... master's degree in human resource development in 2016.

PERSONAL DATA

Born June 11, 1987 ... he and his wife, Maggie, have three children, Lilla, Davis & Mary Gwynne.

- Led Antonio Williams to freshman All-America honors from multiple outlets in 2022 with 56 receptions for 604 yards and four touchdowns. His 10 starts were the most by a Tiger true freshman wideout since Sammy Watkins in 2011, and he became the first true freshman to lead Clemson in receiving yards since Justyn Ross in 2018 and the first to lead in receptions since Artavis Scott in 2014.
- Was a steadying force for a 2021 receiver corps that dealt with Clemson playing the latter portion of the season without seven scholarship receivers. Clemson had 25 different players, including 13 different wide receivers, catch a pass in 2021, the most in the Swinney era.
- Despite fielding a 2020 unit that was without three of its top four outside receivers for the majority of the season, helped Clemson produce a school-record 348.5 passing yards per game, surpassing the 333.9 passing yards per game averaged by Clemson's 2016 national championship squad.
- Produced two All-ACC performers in his first season in 2020, placing Amari Rodgers on the first team and Cornell Powell on the third team. Clemson was one of only two schools with multiple selections at receiver.
- Helped Powell become one of the breakout stars of 2020 as a fifth-year senior, helping him record career highs in receptions (53), receiving yards (882), receiving touchdowns (seven) after entering 2020 with 40 career receptions for 329 yards and three touchdowns in his first four years from 2016-19.
- Served as Clemson's interim wide receivers coach for portions of the team's bowl preparation in 2019 after Jeff Scott was announced as the new head coach at USF. Scott returned after the early signing period to coach through the College Football Playoff.
- Helped Clemson to a 32-19 record and four bowl appearances as a player from 2005-08, then helped the program to a 79-8 record and 10 bowl appearances in six years as a support staff member from 2014-19 for a combined 111-27 record at Clemson in playing and support staff roles before his hire as receivers coach.
- Served as an added resource for a staff that has produced Clemson's illustrious line of wide receivers while in a support role. During his time as a graduate assistant and offensive analyst from 2014-19, Clemson produced five receivers, Artavis Scott (2014,15,16), Mike Williams (2014,16), Deon Cain (2017), Hunter Renfrow (2017,18), Tee Higgins (2018,19), who earned 10 All-ACC selections.
- Prior to his full-time hire, six of Clemson's 10 most-prolific passing yardage seasons at the time had come during his time on Clemson's support staff.
- Is a 2009 graduate of Clemson University, earning his bachelor's in business administration and management. He later earned a master's from Clemson in human resource development in 2016.
- Was a four-year letterman for the Tigers from 2005-08. He finished his career with 132 receptions for 1,390 yards and eight touchdowns.
- Signed with the Pittsburgh Steelers as a free agent in 2009, appearing in four games that season. He served on the Steelers' practice squad in the 2010 and 2011 seasons and with the Denver Broncos' practice squad in 2012.
- Native of Birmingham, Ala., who was an all-region selection while playing wide receiver, tailback, quarterback and defensive back at Spain Park High School in Hoover, Ala.

KYLE RICHARDSON

- CO-OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR • TIGHT ENDS
- 10TH SEASON ON CLEMSON STAFF
- APP STATE '01

- Formally named as passing game coordinator and tight ends coach on Dec. 14, 2021 prior to Clemson's win over Iowa State in the 2021 Cheez-It Bowl. Added the title of co-offensive coordinator in 2025.
- Though entering his fourth full season in an on-field role at Clemson, 2025 will represent his 10th season on Clemson's staff.
- In his first three full seasons, he produced three consecutive years in which Clemson's tight ends combined to catch 60 or more passes, a first in school history.
- Spent three seasons coaching Jake Briningstool, who exited Clemson holding school records for career receptions (127) and career 100-yard receiving games (three).
- Helped Briningstool conclude his college career ranked sixth in career receiving touchdowns (17) and seventh in career receptions (127) among all tight ends in ACC history.
- In 2024, Briningstool earned a third-team All-ACC selection for his seven-touchdown season, becoming the fifth tight end in school history to become a multi-time All-ACC selection.
- Led Briningstool to a career year and an All-ACC selection in 2023, as Briningstool's 50 receptions tied the single-season school record for receptions by a tight end set by Dwayne Allen in 2011. Briningstool's then-career-high 498 receiving yards finished two yards shy of being the first 500-yard season by a Clemson tight end since Jordan Leggett in 2016.
- In 2023, Briningstool set Clemson single-game records for a tight end in receiving yards vs. Miami (126) and receptions vs. Kentucky (record-tying nine). Three of Clemson's top four single-game receiving yardage totals by the tight ends unit under Dabo Swinney came in the final seven games of 2023.
- In his first full season as Clemson's passing game coordinator and tight ends coach in 2022, helped his tight ends group record 67 catches, 748 yards and 10 touchdowns. The 67 catches were the unit's most under Dabo Swinney, and its 10 touchdowns matched its unit-high mark from the 2011 and 2012 seasons.
- Helped Davis Allen post career highs in receptions (39), receiving yards (443) and touchdowns (five) in 2022 en route to third-team All-ACC honors while Jake Briningstool accrued 285 yards and four touchdowns on 25 receptions.
- Guided Allen and Briningstool as Clemson became one of eight FBS teams, and one of only five in the Power Five, to have multiple tight ends catch at least four touchdown passes in 2022.
- Was a key off-field contributor to Clemson's offensive success in support staff roles during the 2016-21 seasons. Clemson was one of only three teams in the country with at least 16,000 cumulative rushing yards and at least 23,000 total passing yards across those six seasons.
- During his six years on the support staff, helped serve as an additional resource to then-Quarterbacks Coach Brandon Streeter, as the corps produced Heisman Trophy finalists Deshaun Watson and Trevor Lawrence.
- Part of support staff during Lawrence's career 34-2 record as a starter, as the eventual No. 1 pick became the winningest quarterback in Tiger history and posted the third-best winning percentage (.944) by a starting quarterback with at least 30 career starts since Division I split in 1978, trailing only Ken Dorsey (.950) and Matt Leinart (.949).
- Served in both football and administrative support roles in 2020 when he was Director of Player Development & Freshman Transition.
- Prior to coming to Clemson, was one of South Carolina's most successful high school coaches during his tenure at Northwestern High School in Rock Hill, S.C.
- As head coach from 2011-15, led the Trojans to a 58-13 (.817) record, including four region championships, three state title game appearances and state championships in both 2013 and 2015.
- Led a Northwestern program that produced NFL quarterback Mason Rudolph, NFL wide receiver Cordarrelle Patterson, former Clemson defensive end Logan Rudolph and former Tennessee quarterback Justin Worley. Also coached NFL tight end Jared Cook during his time at North Gwinnett (Ga.) High School.
- Helped Northwestern to a record of 107-24 (.817) with eight Region III championships and three state championships in his nine total seasons with the program from 2007-15, including his time as offensive coordinator (2007-10) and head coach (2011-15).
- Part of two undefeated seasons at Northwestern, including a 15-0 year as offensive coordinator in 2010 and a 15-0 campaign as head coach in 2013.
- Inducted into the York County Sports Hall of Fame in 2019 and earned induction in his hometown Belmont Sports Hall of Fame in 2024.
- Earned his undergraduate degree from Appalachian State in 2001 and has two master's degrees, including a 2020 master's degree in athletic leadership from Clemson.
- Began his coaching career with assisstant coaching positions at Lee County High School in Sanford, N.C., Avery County High School in Newland, N.C. and North Gwinnett High School in Georgia.
- "Kyle was one of the best high school coaches in the entire Southeast," said Head Coach Dabo Swinney upon Richardson's promotion to tight ends coach. "He has got a great acumen for football. He brings great leadership ability from being a head coach for a long time."

GARRETT RILEY

- OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR • QUARTERBACKS
- 3RD SEASON ON CLEMSON STAFF
- TEXAS TECH '12

- Announced as Clemson's offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach on Jan. 13, 2023.
- Produced one of the nation's most balanced offenses in 2024 when Clemson tied for the national lead with six games reaching both 200 rushing yards and 200 passing yards. Clemson produced a 3,000-yard passer, 1,000-yard rusher and four 500-yard pass catchers in a season for the fourth time in school history, joining three seasons in which Clemson played for the national championship (2015, 2016 and 2018).
- Guided quarterback Cade Klubnik in 2024 as he threw 36 touchdowns against only six interceptions and finished third in the nation in touchdown responsibility (43, including seven rushing touchdowns), just one off the national lead.
- Led Clemson to a No. 15 national rank in first downs per game (23.4), ninth-best in Clemson history, in 2023. Clemson's 76.8 plays per game represented its highest average since 2016 (81.4), and Clemson finished fifth in the nation in average time of possession per game (33:19), its highest ranking and largest average since 1989.
- Helped Klubnik complete 290-of-454 passes in Klubnik's first full season as a starter in 2023.
- Joined Clemson from TCU, where he served as the team's offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach in helping lead the Horned Frogs to a 13-2 record, a Fiesta Bowl title and a berth in the College Football Playoff National Championship Game in 2022.
- Arrived at TCU following a 2021 campaign in which the Horned Frogs finished 5-7 and produced the nation's 65th-ranked scoring offense. In his lone season in Fort Worth, he transformed the unit into the nation's ninth-ranked scoring offense at 38.8 points per game. The explosive group led the FBS with 22 plays from scrimmage of 50 yards or more.
- Honored with the 2022 Broyles Award, presented annually to the nation's top assistant coach. With Riley's arrival, three of the seven Broyles Awards winners from 2016-22 will have served as a coordinator on Clemson's staff, joining 2016 winner Brent Venables and 2017 winner Tony Elliott. He joined his brother, 2015 winner Lincoln Riley, to make them the only brother duo in the award's history to earn the honor.
- Led TCU's Max Duggan to the Davey O'Brien Award as the nation's top quarterback, a runner-up finish in Heisman Trophy voting, All-America honors from several selectors and Big 12 Offensive Player of the Year.
- Served two seasons at SMU from 2020-21 in the same role. His offenses with the Mustangs finished in the top 15 in the nation in both scoring offense and total offense in both seasons and helped garner postseason accolades for quarterbacks Shane Buechele and Tanner Mordecai.
- In his three years as an offensive coordinator prior to his arrival at Clemson, all three offenses finished in the top 15 nationally in scoring offense. His units as coordinator at SMU and TCU from 2020-22 combined would have ranked third in the nation in points per game in that span at 38.6 points per game, trailing only Ohio State (44.0) and Alabama (43.0).
- Spent the 2019 season as the running backs coach at App State. The Mountaineers compiled a 13-1 record including a Sun Belt Conference title and a win in the New Orleans Bowl.
- Mentored Appalachian State's Darrynton Evans to Sun Belt Offensive Player of the Year honors. Evans totaled 1,740 all-purpose yards, including 1,250 rushing yards and 20 touchdowns that year before later becoming a third-round selection of the Tennessee Titans in the 2020 NFL Draft.
- Spent three seasons at Kansas from 2016-18 in various capacities. He joined the Jayhawks as an offensive analyst in 2016 before transitioning to an on-field role as the team's quarterbacks coach in 2017 and its tight ends/fullbacks coach in 2018.
- Made his FBS debut at East Carolina from 2013-15. After spending his first two seasons as a graduate assistant, he was promoted to Outside Receivers Coach in 2015. That year, East Carolina's Zay Jones caught 98 passes for 1,009 yards as part of the receiver's FBS-record 399 career receptions.
- Began coaching career in 2011, when he served as a passing game assistant and quarterbacks coach at Roosevelt High School in Lubbock, Texas.
- Moved to the collegiate ranks in 2012, helping rebuild an Augustana (Ill.) College program that was 2-8 prior to his arrival into a 5-5 squad that improved its rushing total by 500 yards during his season as the program's running backs coach.
- Selected to the AFCA 35 Under 35 Coaches Leadership Institute in 2021.
- Played quarterback at Texas Tech from 2008-09 under Head Coach Mike Leach before transferring to Stephen F. Austin for the 2010 season. He saw action in 11 games in helping the Lumberjacks to a Southland Conference championship and a 9-3 record under head coach (and former Clemson defensive tackle) J.C. Harper.
- Earned degree in general business from Texas Tech in 2012.
- Native of Muleshoe, Texas, where he was the 2007 Associated Press All-State 2A Offensive Player of the Year after playing a role in four straight playoff appearances for Muleshoe High School.

CHRIS RUMPH

- DEFENSIVE RUN GAME COORDINATOR • DEFENSIVE ENDS
- 7TH FULL SEASON ON CLEMSON STAFF
- SOUTH CAROLINA '94

- Returned to Clemson in December 2023 with more than 25 years of coaching experience at the high school, college and NFL levels.
- In his first full season back at Clemson in 2024, he led T.J. Parker to 19.5 tackles for loss and 11.0 sacks, both the most by a Clemson player since Clelin Ferrell's 19.5 tackles for loss and 11.5 sacks in 2018, a season in which Ferrell won the Ted Hendricks Award as the nation's top defensive end.
- Also guided Parker as the All-ACC selection set a school record and tied for the national lead with six forced fumbles in 2024.
- Coached his first game back at Clemson in the 2023 TaxSlayer Gator Bowl.
- Spent the previous four years in the NFL after 17 years of Division I experience from 2003-19 with some of the biggest name brands in college football. As a college coach, he has coached 25 NFL Draft picks, including first-round selections Gaines Adams, Taven Bryan and Malcom Brown.
- In his first stint at Clemson during the 2006-10 seasons, he contributed to the success of two of the most decorated defensive ends in program history. In 2006, he worked with Adams, who became the second unanimous All-American in program history that season before being selected with the No. 4 overall pick in the 2007 NFL Draft. In 2010, he guided junior Da'Quan Bowers as Bowers led the nation in sacks (15.5) and tackles for loss (26.0) en route to winning both the Nagurski Trophy and the Ted Hendricks Award.
- "For me, this is coming home," said Rumph upon his return in late 2023. "Clemson is a great fit for me and my family in terms of the town and the quality of the people. The passion of the fan base is second-to-none."
- Head Coach Dabo Swinney added, "I wanted someone with NFL experience, and he certainly brings that, and I was looking for the right recruiting fit as someone who grew up in this state and played in this state. We've had a great relationship for a long time now and, honestly, he was a guy that almost came back a couple of other times over the years, but this is the right time and I'm excited to welcome him back and him continuing the great tradition we've had with our defensive ends."
- Rumph spent four years in the NFL, including two as defensive line coach with the Minnesota Vikings across the 2022-23 seasons. He served in the same capacity for the Chicago Bears in 2021, helping the Bears to 49 sacks, fourth-most in the NFL.

- Made his NFL coaching debut coaching outside linebackers for the Houston Texans in 2020.
- Oversaw outside linebackers along with co-coordinator duties at Tennessee for the 2018-19 seasons. His arrival coincided with the Vols jumping 74 spots nationally in run defense.
- Served as Florida's defensive line coach from 2015-16 before adding co-defensive coordinator duties in 2017. Coached five NFL Draft picks across the 2016-18 NFL Drafts: Taven Bryan (2018), Caleb Brantley (2017), Joey Ivie (2017), Alex McCalister (2016) and Jonathan Bullard (2016).
- Served as Texas' assistant head coach and defensive line coach in 2014, helping defensive tackle Malcom Brown earn consensus All-America honors.
- From 2011-13, helped Alabama produce six NFL Draft picks along his defensive line in addition to helping the Crimson Tide bring home national championships in both 2011 and 2012. In both of those national title-winning seasons, Rumph's group contributed to Alabama leading the nation in both total defense and scoring defense.
- Rumph's defensive line helped the Crimson Tide allow just 10.9 points per game, 250.0 yards per game and 76.4 yards rushing per game. Alabama shut out top-ranked LSU in the national title game by a score of 21-0, and Alabama surrendered just five first downs and allowed LSU to cross the 50-yard line just once the entire game.
- A year earlier, Rumph's first Alabama line was part of a unit that allowed just 8.2 points per game and gave up 183.6 total yards per contest, the fewest by an FBS team in records dating to 1996.
- Made his full-time college coaching debut as defensive backs coach at South Carolina State in 2002 before becoming the outside linebackers coach at Memphis from 2003-05.
- Served as head coach at Calhoun (S.C.) County High School from 1997-2001.
- Played at South Carolina, where he was a four-year letterman as a linebacker from 1991-94. He earned a bachelor's degree in retail management from South Carolina in 1994 and later returned to the university as a graduate assistant for the spring of 1997.
- Native of St. Matthews, S.C.

C.J. SPILLER

- OFFENSIVE RUN GAME COORDINATOR • RUNNING BACKS
- 6TH SEASON ON CLEMSON STAFF
- CLEMSON '09

- Named as Clemson's running backs coach on Feb. 5, 2021 after serving as an unpaid coaching intern during the 2020 season. Added the title of Offensive Run Game Coordinator in 2025.
- Guided Phil Mafah to the 24th 1,000-yard rushing season in school history and third-team All-ACC recognition in 2024.
- In 2023, helped both Mafah (965) and Will Shipley (827) exceed 800 rushing yards, marking only the ninth time since 1948 that Clemson has produced multiple 750-yard rushers. It marked the first time two Clemson running backs accomplished the feat since 2006, when Spiller himself was part of such a duo with James Davis.
- Clemson was one of only six schools in 2023 with multiple 800-yard rushers, and Clemson was one of only four to accomplish the feat with multiple running backs rather than one running back and one quarterback.
- In 2022, guided Shipley as he became the first player in ACC history to earn first-team all-conference honors at three different positions (running back, all-purpose and specialist) and be named as one of four finalists for the Paul Hornung Award, given annually to the nation's most versatile player.
- With 15 rushing touchdowns as a sophomore, Shipley joined Clemson's Travis Etienne, Louisville's Lamar Jackson and North Carolina's Giovani Bernard as the only ACC players since 2000 to rush for at least 11 touchdowns in both their freshman and sophomore seasons.
- Also mentored Shipley as the second-year back became Clemson's first Academic All-American since 2012.
- In his first season in an on-field role in 2021, he had two different rushers (Shipley and Kobe Pace) reach 500 rushing yards, giving Clemson multiple 500-yard rushers for the sixth time in a seven-year span.
- Shipley led Clemson in rushing touchdowns (11), total touchdowns (11), rushing attempts (149) and rushing yards (739) in 2021, becoming the first Clemson player other than Travis Etienne or Wayne Gallman to lead Clemson in rushing since 2013 (Rod McDowell).
- Shipley's 11 rushing touchdowns equaled Spiller (11 in 2006) for the second-most by a Clemson true freshman since 1972 and finished two shy of the Clemson true freshman record (Travis Etienne, 13 in 2017).
- In 2020, assisted the Tiger coaching staff that helped Travis Etienne become a consensus All-American as an all-purpose/athlete selection, becoming the 29th player ever to earn consensus All-America honors at Clemson and the school's 31st total consensus selection. Spiller and Etienne comprise two of Clemson's three all-time consensus All-Americans at the running back position.
- While on staff in an unpaid role, watched Etienne break Clemson single-season records for a running back in receptions (48) and receiving yards (588) and tie the running back mark for 100-yard receiving games (two) while adding two receiving touchdowns. Etienne joined Stanford's Christian McCaffrey, Oklahoma's Joe Mixon and Penn State's Saquon Barkley as the only Power Five players to post 900 rushing yards and 500 receiving yards in a single season since 2015.
- Stands as one of the most decorated and beloved players in Clemson history from his four-year career as a running back for the Tigers from 2006-09.
- Was selected for induction into the College Football Hall of Fame as a member of the Class of 2021, earning the distinction in only his second year of eligibility.
- Became Clemson's eighth inductee in the College Football Hall of Fame, joining four coaches (John Heisman, Jess Neely, Frank Howard and Danny Ford) and three players (Banks McFadden, Terry Kinard and Jeff Davis). At the time of his selection, Spiller became one of only 1,038 players and 223 coaches immortalized in the Hall, putting him at the time in the top 0.02 percent of those who have played or coached the sport.
- Inducted into both the Clemson Athletic Hall of Fame and South Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame in 2020 for his immense contribution to athletics at both the university and state levels.
- His historic college career culminated with a senior season in 2009 in which he finished sixth in Heisman Trophy voting after winning ACC Player of the Year and being selected as a unanimous first-team All-American. He became the first player in the history of the Walter Camp All-America team to be first or second-team All-American at two positions in the same year.
- Still holds ACC single-season and career records for all-purpose yards, posting 2,680 in 2009 and finishing his career with 7,588, which was second-most in FBS history at the time of his graduation.
- Recorded 21 career touchdowns covering at least 50 yards and had an ACC-record eight kick returns for touchdowns in his career.
- Was also a three-time All-American in track and first-team strength All-American in 2008.
- Entered the coaching ranks after an eight-year NFL career from 2010-17 after being the ninth overall selection in the 2010 NFL Draft by the Buffalo Bills.
- His NFL career included tenures with the Bills, New Orleans Saints, Seattle Seahawks, New York Jets and Kansas City Chiefs, and he was a Pro Bowl selection in 2012. He and college teammate Jacoby Ford remain the only Clemson products ever to record multiple rushing touchdowns, multiple receiving touchdowns and multiple kick return touchdowns during an NFL career.
- Graduated from Clemson with a degree in sociology in three-and-a-half years on Dec. 17, 2009, receiving a standing ovation from the Clemson University Board of Trustees, the first such occurrence for a student-athlete.

WOODY McCORVEY

- CHIEF OF STAFF
- 24TH SEASON ON CLEMSON STAFF
- ALABAMA STATE '72

Woody McCorvey has been a significant part of the two greatest eras in Tiger football. In the 1980s he was on the staff of College Football Hall of Famer Danny Ford and helped Clemson to a 60-19-3 record, three ACC titles and four bowl wins. He served on Ford's staff for five Clemson teams that finished in the final top 20 of the AP Poll.

Now in his second stint at Clemson, Dabo Swinney would be the first to say how important he has been in contributing to Clemson's recent run of 14 consecutive nine-win seasons.

"He is my national security advisor," said Swinney. "My experience with him dates to my days as a player at Alabama when he was my position coach. He coached at Clemson in the 1980s under Danny Ford and knows all about our winning tradition."

The 2025 season is his 48th in college football as either a coach or an administrator. McCorvey returned to the Clemson program for the 2009 season, Swinney's first full year, and he has helped him bring the Tigers to a level of consistent excellence that culminated in national championships following the 2016 and 2018 seasons.

With Sylvester Croom's induction in 2022, McCorvey has worked for four coaches in the College Football Hall of Fame. He has also been in significant coaching roles with Gene Stallings and Phil Fulmer. He has worked for four national championship coaches: Ford, Fulmer, Stallings and Swinney.

Swinney has a 176-44 record as head coach since McCorvey joined his staff. The Tigers have won nine ACC titles, nine division titles (plus additional championship berths in divisionless seasons in 2020 and 2024) and posted 12 bowl wins in 16 years.

McCorvey serves as the primary liaison between Swinney and the athletic and IPTAY administrations. He also oversees the management of the football administrative offices and has served as a key point of contact for NFL personnel as Clemson has expanded its pipeline to the pros.

He supervises the football budget and works with the academic staff to oversee that important area. With McCorvey's assistance, Clemson posted the highest NCAA Graduation Success Rate of any public power conference program in the metric's history in the latest data released in 2024. In 2022, he was named to the NCAA Football Rules Committee.

As a Clemson wide receivers and tight ends coach from 1983-89, he recruited future Pro Bowlers Donnell Woolford and Chester McGlockton. He also coached NFL players Keith Jennings and K.D. Dunn. McCorvey coached at the Division I level for 26 years and went to a bowl game 17 of those seasons. He coached or signed 36 players who went on to a professional football career.

McCORVEY'S COACHING EXPERIENCE

Year(s)	School	Location
1972-77	Tate High School	Pensacola, Fla.
1978	North Carolina Central	Durham, N.C.
1979-82	Alabama A&M	Huntsville, Ala.
1983-89	Clemson	Clemson, S.C.
1990-97	Alabama	Tuscaloosa, Ala.
1998	South Carolina	Columbia, S.C.
1999-04	Tennessee	Knoxville, Tenn.
2004-08	Mississippi State	Starkville, Miss.

From 1990-2008, he coached in the SEC every season, including each of the last five at Mississippi State, where he served as assistant head coach and offensive coordinator in addition to coaching the quarterbacks. He helped Mississippi State win eight games, including wins over Auburn, Alabama and Mississippi, in 2007. He also coached 2010 NFL draft pick Anthony Dixon.

McCorvey coached at Tennessee for five years (1999-03). With him heading the running game, the Volunteers had a 46-14 record. He helped guide Tennessee to the 2000 Fiesta Bowl, 2001 Cotton Bowl, 2002 Citrus Bowl, and 2002 and 2003 Peach Bowls. Tennessee won three consecutive New Year's Day Bowl games from 2000-02 as well.

Under McCorvey's leadership, Tennessee maintained the school's reputation of having an outstanding rushing attack. The Volunteers led the SEC in rushing in 1999, averaging 191.3 yards per game. His work helped tailback Travis Stephens pace the SEC in rushing yards (1,464) in 2001.

One year prior, McCorvey helped tailback Travis Henry finish second in the league and 14th in the nation in rushing yards (1,314). Another of his protegés was Jamal Lewis, who finished in the top five on the Tennessee career rushing list and was the No. 5 overall pick of the 2000 NFL Draft.

Prior to joining the staff at Tennessee, McCorvey worked one season at South Carolina, where he served as the wide receivers coach in 1998 under former Tiger assistant coach Brad Scott.

McCorvey took the South Carolina job following an eight-year stay at Alabama from 1990-97. He served seven seasons as its wide receivers coach and the 1996 campaign as offensive coordinator. He was the assistant head coach in 1997 as well.

Alabama had five top-25 final rankings in his tenure, including three seasons in the top five. The Crimson Tide won the 1992 national title with McCorvey serving as wide receivers coach and Swinney as one of his student-athletes. That season culminated with a 34-13 win over heavily-favored Miami (Fla.) in the Sugar Bowl. Current Clemson Director of Football Scouting Danny Pearman was also on that staff.

In his first seven years at Alabama, it posted a 70-16-1 record and played in six bowl games. With McCorvey leading the offense in 1996, Alabama finished 10-3, including an Outback Bowl win over Michigan.

Alabama's players flourished under his guidance. As offensive coordinator, running back Shaun Alexander established many school records and later went on to a Pro Bowl career with the Seattle Seahawks. In 1993, David Palmer established school records for catches and receiving yards along with earning first-team All-America honors. Palmer was third in the Heisman Trophy balloting, the highest finish in history for an Alabama player at the time.

From 1979-82, he served as an assistant coach at Alabama A&M and helped that program to the No. 6 rushing offense in Division II in 1981 after finishing 11th in the nation in scoring offense in 1980. McCorvey began his college coaching career at North Carolina Central in 1978.

McCorvey began his coaching career with a six-year stint (1972-77) at J.M. Tate Senior High School in Florida. He played quarterback at Alabama State from 1968-71, earning his bachelor's degree from Alabama State in 1972 and a master's degree from West Florida in 1977.

He was the recipient of the 2015 AFCA Outstanding Achievement Award for his contributions to college football. In 2013, he was on the Rose Bowl Advisory Committee and returned to that role in 2017. He was a member of the College Football Playoff Advisory Committee in 2014-15 as well.

In 2010, McCorvey was inducted into the Atmore (Ala.) Hall of Fame. He was inducted into the Alabama Sports Hall of Fame in 2020 as part of an induction class that included Sylvester Croom, with whom he coached at Mississippi State. In 2021, he was honored as an Alabama Football Legend by the TaxAct Camellia Bowl.

The Atmore, Ala., native is married to the former Ann Brown. The couple has a son, Marlon, daughter-in-law Brooke, and grandson, Beau.

RYAN ALLEN

SPECIAL TEAMS PLAYER DEVELOPMENT, SPECIALISTS COACH
2ND SEASON • LOUISIANA TECH '12

Ryan Allen is in his second season serving in a special teams player development and specialists coach role at Clemson in 2025.

In his first season at Clemson in 2024, placekicker Nolan Hauser became the first player in Clemson history to record 100 points in a true freshman season. Hauser was selected as an FWAA Freshman All-American and collected National Freshman Special Teams Player of the Year honors from the organization.

Allen is an eight-year NFL veteran who appeared in 107 career regular-season games with the Patriots (2013-18), Falcons (2019), Colts (2020) and Titans (2020). Allen helped the Patriots to three Super Bowl titles in Super Bowls XLIX, LI and LIII, garnering selections to the Patriots' All-Dynasty Team and All-Decade Team for the 2010s as selected by the Patriots Hall of Fame committee.

A native of Salem, Ore., Allen began his college playing career as a walk-on at Oregon State. He transferred to Louisiana Tech in 2010 and finished his career as one of the sport's most decorated punters. He won the Ray Guy Award in 2011 and 2012, becoming the award's first back-to-back winner, and he followed a first-team All-America selection in 2011 by earning unanimous All-America honors in 2012.

Allen earned a degree in sociology from Louisiana Tech in 2012.

THOMAS ALLEN

DEFENSIVE ANALYST, ASSISTANT LINEBACKERS COACH
1ST SEASON • INDIANA '21

Thomas Allen is entering his first season as a defensive analyst and assistant linebackers coach at Clemson in 2025.

Allen joined the Tigers after spending the 2024 season as a defensive analyst and analytic coordinator at Penn State, helping the Lions to a school-record 13 wins and a berth in the CFP semifinals.

Allen played linebacker at Indiana from 2017-21, collecting 56 tackles (3.5 for loss), one sack, one interception and one caused fumble in 32 career games. He was a four-time Academic All-Big Ten selection from 2018-21. After his playing career, he served two years (2022,23) at Indiana as a defensive graduate assistant.

Allen earned his bachelor's degree in management from Indiana in 2021 and added his MBA in 2022. He is married to his wife and former Hoosier softball standout, Annika, and has a son, Tommy. He is also the son of Clemson Defensive Coordinator Tom Allen, for whom he played at Indiana.

PAUL ANDERSON

DIRECTOR OF ACADEMICS & FRESHMAN TRANSITION
5TH SEASON • NORTH CAROLINA '90

Dr. Paul Anderson is in his fifth year as Clemson's Director of Football Academics and Freshman Transition in 2025. He joined the football program prior to the 2021 season after more than two decades at Clemson University as a decorated educator and historian.

Anderson originally joined the university in 2000 after graduating with his Ph.D. from Ole Miss and was among those profiled in The Best 300 Professors publication by the Princeton Review. In 2004, he was named Alumni Master Teacher, an award for outstanding undergraduate classroom instruction, which is presented to a faculty member nominated by the student body and selected by the Student Alumni Council.

In addition to his role as professor, from 2019-20, Anderson served as university historian. He helped develop programs and initiatives aimed at understanding and interpreting Clemson University's history, and he provided recommendations to Board of Trustees as well as advice and oversight on matters of university history and tradition.

His areas of special academic interest were the American South and the American Civil War. Anderson's book, A Short History of the American Civil War, was published in September 2019.

JOEY BATSON

DIRECTOR OF STRENGTH & CONDITIONING
29TH SEASON • NEWBERRY '85

Joey Batson is entering his 40th year as a Strength & Conditioning Coach at the collegiate level and 29th year as the Director of Strength Training at Clemson University in 2025. He has served as a head strength and conditioning coach 36 of his 40 years of service.

Batson was named Master Strength and Conditioning Coach by the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association (CSCCa) in May of 2009. This honor is the highest given in the strength and conditioning coaching profession.

Not only does he bring professional experience to the position at Clemson, he brings experience as a football player at the college level. The Travelers Rest, S.C. native was a tight end at The Citadel in 1979 before transferring to Newberry, where he was a two-year letterman and team co-captain during his senior season.

Batson earned his degree in physical education from Newberry College and his Master's degree in education from Clemson University in 1988. Prior to his collegiate career, Batson was named to the 1977 South Carolina High School All-State football team as a defensive end.

As of the conclusion of the 2024 season, during his time as Clemson's Director of Strength & Conditioning, Batson has coached 76 All-Americans, 247 All-ACC selections, 25 national award winners, 58 Strength & Conditioning All-Americans, 23 NFL first-round draft picks, 117 NFL Draft picks, 31 ACC yearly honorees and 15 Super Bowl champions. He has helped Clemson to 26 bowl games, 19 Top-25 finishes, eight Top-10 finishes, nine ACC Championships, nine ACC Atlantic Division Championships (plus additional championship game berths in division-less seasons in 2020 and 2024), seven College Football Playoff appearances, four National Championship Game appearances and two National Championships.

Batson is married to the former Susan Malone of Greenville, S.C. The couple has two children, Michael, a former punter at Clemson, and Ben, a former quarterback and safety for the Tigers who has since moved into strength & conditioning coaching as well.

ALEX BINA

DIRECTOR OF APPLIED SCIENCE
10TH SEASON • PENN STATE '13

Dr. Alex Bina is in his eighth season as the football program's Director of Applied Science, and his 10th season assisting Clemson overall, in 2025.

Bina helped develop, and now operates, two unique components of the Allen N. Reeves Football Complex: the Brook T. Smith Clemson Applied Science Lab (CASL) and the Jeanne and Brian Penner 100 Yards of Wellness. Bina and CASL staff leverage innovative technologies to evaluate athletic development, and in the 100 Yards of Wellness, his Applied Science staff implements passive recovery modalities such as cryotherapy, infrared light exposure, sensory deprivation and hyperbaric oxygen therapy to ensure athletes feel, and perform, their best.

Bina earned his undergraduate degree in bioengineering from Penn State in 2013 and his Ph.D. from Clemson in 2022.

DA'QUAN BOWERS

DEFENSIVE ANALYST, ASSISTANT DEFENSIVE ENDS COACH
5TH SEASON • CLEMSON '19

Da'Quan Bowers is in his third season as a full-time staff member at Clemson in 2025. After spending the previous three seasons as South Florida's defensive line coach, he returned to his alma mater in January 2023 in a defensive player development role before becoming a defensive analyst and assistant defensive ends coach in 2024.

His decorated college career at Clemson from 2008-10 culminated in him earning unanimous All-America honors as a junior in 2010. That year, the former No. 1 overall recruit in the country earned the Bronko Nagurski Trophy as college football's top defensive player, the Ted Hendricks Award as the nation's top defensive end and the ACC's Defensive Player of the Year award.

Bowers was selected by Tampa Bay in the second round of the 2011 NFL Draft. He played five seasons in Tampa and played the 2017 CFL season for the Edmonton Eskimos. He entered the coaching ranks as a volunteer student assistant at Clemson from 2018-19 while completing his Clemson degree in parks, recreation and tourism management.

A native of Bamberg, S.C., Bowers is married to his wife, Monique, and has three children: a daughter, Karsyn, and sons, Truth and Brave.

DANIEL BOYD

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR OF PLAYER PERSONNEL
10TH SEASON • CLEMSON '18

Daniel Boyd is in his 10th season at Clemson and his first as assistant director of player personnel in 2025 after serving as a defensive analyst and assistant defensive tackles coach in 2024.

Prior to 2024, he spent three years serving in a defensive player development role. He moved into that role in 2021 after serving as a defensive student coach (2016-18) and video graduate assistant (2019,20).

FOOTBALL SUPPORT STAFF

From 2009-15, Boyd served as a sniper in the U.S. Army with two combat tours to Afghanistan. A native of Lamar, S.C., he is married to his wife, Heather, and the couple has two sons, Andrew and William.

TAJH BOYD

OFFENSIVE ANALYST, ASSISTANT QUARTERBACKS COACH
5TH SEASON • CLEMSON '13

Tajh Boyd is in his fifth season assisting the Clemson offense in 2025.

Boyd returned to his alma mater in the 2021 season in an offensive player development role. After three seasons in that capacity, he transitioned in 2024 to serve as an offensive analyst and assistant quarterbacks coach.

Boyd was a record-setting quarterback for the Tigers from 2010-13, setting school career marks in nearly every passing category, including completions (901), passing yards (11,904) and passing touchdowns (107) as well as in touchdown responsibility (133). The three-time All-ACC pick and 2012 AFCA first-team All-American won ACC Player of the Year in 2012, and he finished his career as a finalist for the Unitas and Manning Awards as one of Clemson's team captains in 2013. He was inducted into the Clemson Athletic Hall of Fame in 2024.

Boyd graduated from Clemson in 2013 with a degree in sociology.

DIRECTOR OF HIGH SCHOOL RELATIONS & THIRD-YEAR TRANSITION
15TH SEASON • FURMAN '77

Robbie Caldwell is in his fourth season in an off-field support role in 2025 after spending the 44 previous years as an on-field coach at the college level. At the time of his transition from on-field coaching to administration after the 2021 season, Caldwell had coached 532 career college games.

He joined Clemson as its offensive line coach in 2011, helping the Tigers to a 131-21 record, 11 10-plus win seasons, seven ACC titles, four appearances in the national championship game and two national titles in his 11 seasons guiding the unit. In his final seven seasons, his unit produced 25 all-conference picks, the second-most of any Power Five program in that span.

Caldwell helped guide All-Americans Dalton Freeman (2012), Tyrone Crowder (2017), Mitch Hyatt (2017-18), John Simpson (2019) and Jackson Carman (2020), including consensus status for Hyatt in 2018 and Simpson in 2019. The consecutive selections by Hyatt and Simpson represented Clemson's first back-to-back consensus honors on the offensive line since Stacy Long and Jeb Flesch accomplished the feat in 1990 and 1991.

Before coming to Clemson, Caldwell coached offensive lines at Furman (1978-85), NC State (1986-99), North Carolina (2000-01) and Vanderbilt (2002-09) prior to serving as Vanderbilt's head coach in 2010.

Caldwell was a three-year letterman as a center at Furman from 1973-75, earning team MVP honors in his final season. To date, he is the only center in Furman history to earn team MVP honors. In 1977, he served as an assistant football coach and head baseball coach at Hanahan (S.C.) High School before beginning his collegiate coaching career as a student assistant coach at Furman under Art Baker in 1976. He became Furman's full-time offensive line coach in 1978 and was inducted into the Furman Athletic Hall of Fame in 2019 for his contributions as both a player and coach.

A native of Pageland, S.C. and a 1977 Furman graduate, Caldwell is married to his wife, Nora, and has a daughter, Emsley.

TYLER CLEMENTS

10TH FULL SEASON • WEST VIRGINIA '15

Tyler Clements is in his 10th season helping guide Clemson's recruiting efforts and his second as Director of Recruiting in 2025.

Clements assists with recruiting graphics/video and communication plans on an annual basis. Along with day-to-day recruiting department activities, he oversees all on-campus recruiting events, such as official and unofficial visits and junior days.

He began his Clemson tenure as an intern during the 2015 season. He joined the program in a full-time capacity as Coordinator for Recruiting Operations and later as Director of On-Campus Recruiting. He spent the 2022-23 seasons as Director of Recruiting Strategy.

Clements, the son of Clemson University president Jim Clements, graduated from West Virginia in 2015 with a degree in business leadership and political science. He married the former Margot Murray in the summer of 2020, and the couple has a daughter, Eliza, and a son, Tee.

DEFENSIVE PLAYER DEVELOPMENT, ASSISTANT DEFENSIVE LINE COACH

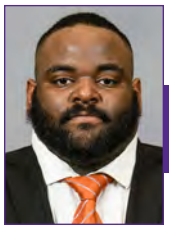
Corey Crawford is in his fourth season assisting Clemson's defense in 2025.

Crawford returned to his alma mater as a graduate assistant in 2022. In 2023, he served in a defensive player development role before adding assistant defensive line coaching duties in 2024.

A four-year letterman at Clemson along the defensive line from 2011-14, Crawford spent six seasons playing professional football, beginning his career in 2015 as an undrafted free agent with the team known currently as the Washington Commanders. His professional career also included tenures with the Columbus Lions (2017) and Carolina Cobras (2019) of the National Arena League, the Memphis Express of the Alliance of American Football (2019), and the Houston Roughnecks of the XFL (2020).

Crawford graduated from Clemson in December 2014 with a degree in parks, recreation and tourism management.



TYRONE CROWDER

OFFENSIVE PLAYER DEVELOPMENT, ASSISTANT OFFENSIVE LINE COACH

Tyrone Crowder is in his fifth season assisting Clemson's offense in 2025.

Crowder joined Clemson's staff as an offensive graduate assistant prior to 2021. He served in an offensive player development role for the 2022-23 seasons before adding assistant coaching duties with the offensive line in 2024.

Crowder entered the coaching ranks at the high school level, serving as offensive line coach at Daniel High School in Central, S.C. for three seasons from 2018-20, helping Daniel to the 2020 Class AAA championship. He also served as a special education aide at R.C. Edwards Middle School in Central.

Crowder was a four-year letterman at guard for Clemson from 2014-17, starting 41 of the 48 games in which he appeared. A three-time All-ACC selection, he started on Clemson's national championship team in 2016 and earned third-team All-American honors from the Associated Press in 2017.

Crowder earned his degree in sociology from Clemson in 2017.

ASSISTANT ATHLETIC DIRECTOR, FOOTBALL PLAYER RELATIONS
22ND SEASON • CLEMSON '84

As part of his 22 years with Clemson's football program and 26 years with the university, Jeff Davis is in his 17th year as Assistant Athletic Director of Football Player Relations and External Affairs in 2025. Davis oversees the player relations arm of Clemson Football, entitled P.A.W. Journey. A natural outgrowth of his spirit of leadership, Davis founded P.A.W. Journey to cultivate Clemson's football scholar-athletes into first-class men and world-class leaders through personal growth, life skills and professional development.

During the six years prior to his current position, Davis served as the Assistant Athletic Director for Major Gifts, where he helped fundraise major gifts for the WestZone Club at Memorial Stadium. He also served as the primary spokesman for Clemson University's Call Me MISTER Program in the role of field director from 1999-2003.

Davis was an All-American linebacker from 1978-81 and captained the Tigers during their 1981 national championship run. "The Judge" registered a then-Tiger-record 175 tackles in 1981. That same season, he became just the third defensive player in ACC history to be named league MVP. Davis had 14 tackles as Clemson topped Nebraska, 22-15, in the 1982 Orange Bowl to claim its first national title.

A fifth-round draft pick by Tampa Bay in 1982, Davis went on to play six seasons in the NFL. During his time as a professional football player, he also completed his Bachelor of Science in Industrial Education and graduated from Clemson in 1984.

In 1995, he became the fourth member of the Clemson Ring of Honor and was named to Clemson's Centennial Team in 1996. In 2002, he was named to the ACC's 50-Year Anniversary team. In 2007, Davis was accorded the highest honor attainable for a college player when he was inducted into the National Football Foundation's College Football Hall of Fame.

In 1999, he returned to Clemson as Field Director of Call Me MISTER, a program that seeks to increase the pool of available teachers from broader, more diverse backgrounds, particularly among South Carolina's lowest performing elementary schools. In 2001, during his appearance on The Oprah Winfrey Show, he was awarded $100,000 for Call Me MISTER from Oprah Winfrey's Angel Network.

Davis is the president of Goal Line Stand, which supports young people and adults who seek to remain committed to values that shape and govern their lives. He is also an ordained pastor who currently pastors FreeWay Church of Clemson with his wife, Joni. He and Joni, who he met while attending Clemson, are the proud parents of their six children, Jeneé, Jourdan, Judea, Jeuel, Jedidiah ("JD") and Judah, and the couple is the blessed grandparents of a grandchild, Doren. All have obtained degrees from Clemson, bringing the total of Clemson degrees in the Davis family to 10, including seven bachelor's and three master's degrees. Continuing his legacy in Clemson athletics, his third daughter, Judea, played forward for the Clemson's women's soccer team, and his twin sons, JD and Judah, were also linebackers on Clemson's 2016 and 2018 national championship teams.

MIKE DOOLEY

ASSOCIATE ATHLETIC DIRECTOR, FOOTBALL ADMINISTRATION & PLAYER PERSONNEL
21ST SEASON • FURMAN '98

Mike Dooley is in his 21st year with Clemson Football in 2025 and serves as Associate Athletic Director for Football Administration and Player Personnel.

Dooley is responsible for overseeing the program's day-to-day operations and team travel, including bowl games. His role also includes daily administration and management of all team personnel, including student-athletes, and serving as the summer camp director. He has also served in a national capacity as a member of the College Football Playoff Advisory Committee since 2016.

Dooley served two years (2005-06) as a video graduate assistant (defense) and two years (2007-08) as an offensive graduate assistant coach at Clemson. He also served as interim tight ends coach in 2008.

Dooley worked as an assistant coach at Greenville (S.C.) High School from 1998-04. His responsibilities included defensive coordinator from 1998-04 and assistant head coach in 2004. Greenville High had a 33-4 overall record in his last three years, including a 12-1 mark in 2003. His background also includes his tenure as an assistant coach for the Carolina Rhinos of the af2 league in 2002, when his responsibilities included coaching the defensive backs.

Dooley, a native of Toccoa, Ga., lettered as a defensive end at Furman from 1993-95 and had a sack at Clemson in 1994. He was also an academic honor roll member and received his degree in health & exercise science from Furman in 1998.

He is married to the former Allison Woodlee, a 2003 graduate of Clemson. They have a daughter, Eliza, and son, Austin.

JODY EVANS

SPECIAL TEAMS ANALYST
4TH SEASON • ALABAMA '94

Jody Evans is in his fourth full season at Clemson and his third as a special teams analyst in 2025 after initially joining the program in December 2021.

Evans began his coaching career at Tennessee-Martin, coaching multiple all-conference wide receivers in 1995 and moving to a position coaching outside linebackers for 1996. In 1997, he worked with the secondary and special teams at Louisiana-Monroe.

Evans then became an accomplished high school coach and administrator prior to joining the Tigers as Assistant Director of Football Operations prior to the 2021 Cheez-It Bowl. He coached at Tuscaloosa County (Ala.) High School in 1997 before a 20-year run at University School of Jackson (Tenn.) from 1998-2018, including spending the last 10 years as the school's athletic director. He then returned to the state of Alabama, coaching at Northside Methodist Academy in 2019 and Cottonwood High School in 2020 before re-entering the college ranks.

Evans played defensive back at Alabama from 1989-91. He finished his career as a safety at UAB in 1992-93. He earned his bachelor's degree in education from Alabama in 1994.

Evans is married to his wife, Paige, and has a son, Jackson, and daughter, Hollin.

ZACH FULMER

DIRECTOR OF PLAYER PERSONNEL
12TH SEASON • CLEMSON '13

Zach Fulmer is entering his 12th season on Clemson's support staff and his second as Clemson's Director of Player Personnel in 2025.

Fulmer joined Clemson's staff in 2014 as a recruiting intern before serving as a defensive video graduate assistant from 2015-16 and as an on-field graduate assistant from 2017-19. He helped Clemson to a 69-5 overall record and two national championships in his time as a graduate assistant.

Fulmer then transitioned into Clemson's recruiting department, serving as Assistant Director of Recruiting Operations in 2020, as Assistant Director of Football Scouting/Recruiting Assistant in 2021 and Director of Recruiting Operations in 2022. He spent two seasons in that role before becoming the program's Director of Player Personnel in 2024.

Fulmer played football at Clemson from 2012-14 and graduated with a degree in sports marketing. He also earned master's degrees in human resource development and athletic leadership. He was a member of the 2012 team that defeated LSU in the Chick-fil-A Bowl and the 2013 team that defeated Ohio State in the Orange Bowl.

A native of Saluda, S.C., Fulmer is married to his wife, Anna, and the couple has a son, Clayton, and a daughter, Ella.

DENNIS LOVE

ASSISTANT STRENGTH & CONDITIONING COACH
15TH SEASON • CATAWBA '00

Dennis Love returned to Clemson in January 2022, rejoining the football program as an assistant football strength and conditioning coach. The 2025 season will be his 15th serving Clemson student-athletes across his two tenures.

The strength and conditioning veteran of two decades served as an assistant strength and conditioning coach at Auburn for the 2021 season after a four-year stint as the associate director of football strength & conditioning at Purdue from 2017-20. He spent the 2015-16 seasons as an assistant strength & conditioning coach with the Denver Broncos, helping the franchise to victory in Super Bowl 50. During his time in Denver, he oversaw the Broncos' quarterback annual performance training, working with Peyton Manning in his final season, and he helped guide Super Bowl MVP Von Miller and cornerback Chris Harris to first- and second-team All-Pro selections.

Love spent 11 years at Clemson from 2004-14, including the final four as the director of Olympic sports strength & conditioning. During his time as director, he oversaw the strength & conditioning for 14 Olympic sports while serving as the head strength coach for the baseball, men's soccer and women's volleyball teams. In his first season working with the baseball program in 2010, Clemson advanced to the College World Series and finished third nationally in the final polls. He also assisted with the football program, working primarily with the defensive line and skill positions and designing an NFL combine-specific program for student-athletes seeking opportunity in the professional ranks.

Love began his career at the Athletes Performance Institute in Tempe, Ariz., for one year as a performance specialist intern. He then transitioned to collegiate athletics in 2002, spending two years at his alma mater, Catawba College, in Salisbury, N.C., where he had been a two-sport athlete in football and baseball and earned a bachelor's degree in recreation in 2000.

A native of Cheraw, S.C., Love is certified by the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association, the National Association of Speed and Explosion and United States Weightlifting, and he is a Certified Football Performance Specialist. He also holds a master's degree in counselor education obtained from Clemson in 2008.

SAM OGDEN

6TH SEASON • JACKSONVILLE STATE '14

Sam Ogden is in his sixth season as Clemson's director of football video in 2025 after joining the program in early 2020. In this role, Ogden oversees Clemson's football video department, including the shooting, processing and management of all game and practice video as well as producing internal video content for the team and staff.

Ogden joined Clemson after spending two seasons at Arkansas in the same capacity from 2018-19. His service at Arkansas was part of five years he served under former Clemson offensive coordinator Chad Morris, including three years at SMU from 2015-17.

Ogden, a 2014 graduate of Jacksonville State with a degree in communications, worked with Jacksonville State's football team for four years and the men's basketball teams for three seasons. He later earned his master's degree in sports management from the school in 2016. Following his final year at Jacksonville State, Ogden was selected the FCS Video Coordinator of the Year by the Collegiate Sports Video Association (CSVA). He spent the 2014 football season as the video coordinator at the University of South Alabama.

DANNY PEARMAN

DIRECTOR OF SCOUTING

Danny Pearman is in his 19th season as a full-time member of Clemson's staff and in his fourth year as Director of Football Scouting in 2025.

Before transitioning into his current role in 2021, Pearman spent 12 seasons as Clemson's special teams coordinator and tight ends coach from 2009-20 after joining the program in December 2008 in advance of the team's Gator Bowl appearance. In that span, he helped evaluate, recruit and develop several NFL players in his dual role, including 2011 Mackey Award winner Dwayne Allen, two-time Mackey Award finalist Jordan Leggett and Super Bowl champion Bradley Pinion, among others. He also had purview of the team's offensive tackles from 2009-10, helping launch tackle Chris Hairston to a seven-year NFL career.

Prior to transitioning to scouting, Pearman's teams played 29 bowl games in his 29 seasons as a full-time assistant coach, a figure that extends to 32 bowl games in 32 seasons upon inclusion of his three years as a graduate assistant. He started his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Clemson across the 1988-89 seasons, before joining Alabama as a graduate assistant for the 1990 season.

Pearman coached Alabama's offensive tackles and special teams from 1991-97, helping the Tide to the 1992 national championship. On that squad was wide receiver Dabo Swinney, with whom Pearman would then coach at Alabama from 1993-97. Pearman would go on to coach at Virginia Tech (1998-2005), North Carolina (2006), Duke (2007) and Maryland (2008) before returning to Clemson.

A 1987 Clemson graduate, Pearman played tight end on Clemson's 1986 and 1987 ACC title teams. He is married to his wife, Kristy, and has two sons, Tanner and Trent, and a daughter, Taylor. Trent is a quarterback on Clemson's 2025 team.

ABE REED

SENIOR DIRECTOR OF FACILITY MANAGEMENT
28TH SEASON • HOUSTON '97

The 2025 season marks Abe Reed's 28th season at Clemson in a variety of capacities since joining the program as a graduate assistant in 1998 and being hired full-time in 2000.

Reed spent 25 seasons serving the equipment needs of Clemson student-athletes, including 10 seasons as the football program's equipment director. In 2022, he added facility management responsibility for the Allen N. Reeves Football Complex and Poe Indoor Facility, and 2023 marked his first season focusing wholly on facility operations.

Reed is a 1997 graduate of Houston, where he earned a biology degree. He was a student manager at Houston before being hired in a full-time capacity serving multiple sports at Clemson. He previously served as the AEMA District III secretary since 2011 and was the AEMA District III Equipment Manager of the Year in 2012.

He is married to the former Holly Hepfer of Sumter, S.C. They have two children, a son, Lance, and a daughter, Lillian.

PAT RICHARDS

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETIC TRAINING
4TH SEASON • TCU '13

Pat Richards is entering his fourth season as Clemson's Director of Football Athletic Training in 2025.

Prior to joining Clemson, Richards most recently served as Associate Director of Sports Medicine at the University of Houston for the Cougars' 12-2 season and No. 17 final national ranking. His professional experience began as an athletic training intern with the Dallas Cowboys during the 2012 NFL season. In the years to follow, he served as a graduate assistant at Utah (2013-14), as an athletic training intern at Louisville (2015), as an associate athletic trainer at Mississippi State (2016-18) and as the associate director of sports medicine at Louisiana (2019-20) prior to his role at Houston.

Richards earned his bachelor's degree in athletic training from TCU in 2013 before earning a master's degree in exercise and sport science from the University of Utah in 2015.

Upon his hire, Richards became only the fourth person to formally serve as Clemson Football's head athletic trainer since 1948. Clemson Athletic Hall of Famer Herman McGee held the role from 1948-57 amidst his 46 total years of service at Clemson. Though there was no designated head trainer in 1958, legendary long-time Milwaukee/Atlanta Braves trainer Dave Pursley temporarily assisted in that capacity alongside McGee during Clemson's 1958 ACC title season while also assisting MLB farm clubs. Fred Hoover, a Clemson Athletic Hall of Famer, led football training efforts as head athletic trainer from 1959-98. Danny Poole served as Clemson's Director of Sports Medicine across the 1999-2021 football seasons after joining the university in 1984.

The Dallas, Texas native is married to his wife, Stephanie, and has a son, Dallas, and daughter, Paige.

JOE ROBBINS

DIRECTOR OF CREATIVE MEDIA
7TH SEASON • GRAND VALLEY STATE '16

Joe Robbins is entering his seventh season at Clemson and his fourth as Director of Football Creative Media in 2025.

Robbins joined Clemson as its graphic design coordinator prior to the 2019 season and has since overseen graphic design for Clemson's recruiting efforts. His larger contributions to Clemson's broad range of visual media content for prospective student-athletes resulted in his promotion to Director of Football Creative Media following the 2021 season.

Robbins was a four-year letterwinner at Grand Valley State as a wide receiver from 2013-16, helping the Lakers to three appearances in the Division II playoffs. He graduated from Grand Valley State in 2016 with a degree in film and video before spending the 2017-18 seasons as the lead graphic designer for Michigan State's football program.

A native of Petoskey, Mich., Robbins is married to his wife, Meg, and the couple has a daughter, Della, and a son, Campbell.

ANDREW SHIPMAN

OFFENSIVE PLAYER DEVELOPMENT, ASSISTANT TIGHT ENDS COACH
9TH SEASON • CLEMSON '21

Andrew Shipman is in his ninth season at Clemson in 2025 and his second serving in an offensive player development role and as an assistant tight ends coach.

Shipman served as a student coaching assistant for Clemson from 2017-20. In that role, he assisted with self-scouting and other assorted tasks as the Tigers made College Football Playoff appearances in all four campaigns. From 2021-23, he served as a video graduate assistant for Clemson's offense.

Shipman's work with the tight ends both off-field in 2022 and on-field from 2023-24 included assisting Clemson Co-Offensive Coordinator/Tight Ends Coach Kyle Richardson as the unit produced three consecutive years in which Clemson's tight ends combined to catch 60 or more passes, a first in school history. They helped Jake Briningstool exit Clemson as the program's all-time leader in career receptions by a tight end (127).

Prior to attending Clemson, he assisted current Clemson Passing Game Coordinator/Tight Ends Coach Kyle Richardson during Richardson's tenure as head coach at Northwestern High School in Rock Hill, S.C., helping the Trojans to state titles in 2013 and 2015.

Shipman earned bachelor's degrees from Clemson in both accounting and economics in August 2021. He added a master's degree in athletic leadership in December 2023. He is married to his wife, Amber.

JORDAN SORRELLS

GENERAL MANAGER

Jordan Sorrells is in his 11th season with the Clemson football program and his second as Clemson's General Manager in 2025.

Sorrells' list of duties includes management of the prospect evaluation process, organizing prospect visits, prospect communications, coaches recruiting travel logistics and planning and executing recruiting events. With his ascent to General Manager amid college athletics' changing landscape, he has also overseen the execution of Head Coach Dabo Swinney's vision in roster management, leading Clemson to elite player retention numbers and providing expertise on asset allocation at the dawn of the revenue sharing era.

During his tenure, he has held a variety of titles in the team's recruiting department, most recently serving as Senior Director of Recruiting and Player Development from 2022-23 before moving into his current role.

Throughout his time with the Tigers, Sorrells has helped guide Clemson's roster-building, recruiting and retention efforts. Clemson has ranked in the top 10 of 247Sports' Team Talent Composite every year since 2016, including multiple years ranked among the nation's five most talented rosters.

In his first 10 seasons at Clemson, Clemson posted a 119-21 overall record with eight ACC titles, seven CFP berths, four national title game appearances and two national titles. Clemson's 69 wins from 2015-19 were the most by any team in a five-year span in the AP Poll era and preceded a 2020 recruiting class that ranked No. 1 by ESPN, No. 2 by Rivals and No. 3 by the 247 Composite.

The Greenville, S.C., native came to Clemson in 2014 from Furman, where Sorrells served as director of football operations during the 2011-14 seasons and was a part of the 2013 Southern Conference championship team.

Sorrells earned his degree from Furman in 2009, where he was a two-year starter at quarterback. He holds career records for passing touchdowns and is second in passing yards and completions.

He and his wife, Sarah Kathryn, reside in Clemson and have two sons, Will and Jack, and a daughter, Ellie.

COLE STOUDT

OFFENSIVE ANALYST, ASSISTANT WIDE RECEIVERS COACH

Cole Stoudt is in his fifth season assisting Clemson's offense and his second as an offensive analyst and assistant wide receivers coach in 2025.

In 2024, Stoudt and the rest of Clemson's coaching staff helped the Tigers be one of six teams nationally to produce four separate 500-yard receivers. It joined the 2015, 2016 and 2018 seasons as the fourth time in program history that Clemson had four players reach the mark.

Stoudt joined Clemson's staff following two seasons as quarterbacks coach at Morehead State from 2018-19 prior to the postponement of the 2020 FCS season. He served in an offensive player development role for Clemson across the 2021-23 campaigns.

Stoudt entered the coaching ranks as an offensive graduate assistant at Jacksonville State, assisting the program's quarterbacks for three years from 2015-17 and helping quarterback Eli Jenkins earn OVC Offensive Player of the Year honors in 2015 and 2016. During his time on staff, Jacksonville State won three OVC championships, went 23-0 in the league and appeared in the 2015 FCS title game.

Stoudt was a four-year letterman at quarterback for Clemson from 2011-14, passing for more than 2,600 yards. He was named Most Valuable Player of the 2014 Russell Athletic Bowl after throwing for 329 yards and three touchdowns against Oklahoma. He earned a degree in sociology from Clemson in 2015.

Stoudt is married to his wife, Alexandra, with whom he has a daughter, Ryann, and a son, Cooper.

DREW SWINNEY

OFFENSIVE PLAYER DEVELOPMENT, ASSISTANT WIDE RECEIVERS COACH
3RD SEASON • CLEMSON '22

Drew Swinney is entering his third full season on Clemson's staff and his second in offensive player development and assistant wide receivers coach roles in 2025.

In 2024, Swinney and the rest of Clemson's coaching staff helped the Tigers be one of six teams nationally to produce four separate 500-yard receivers. It joined the 2015, 2016 and 2018 seasons as the fourth time in program history that Clemson had four players reach the mark.

Swinney appeared in 40 career games as a wide receiver for the Tigers from 2018-22, playing on Clemson squads that earned four ACC championships, three College Football Playoff berths and the 2018 national title. He recorded 14 career receptions for 96 yards in addition to serving as the team's starting holder on placekicks in his final season in 2022.

A five-time ACC Honor Roll selection, Swinney earned his bachelor's degree in marketing in 2022 and added his MBA from Clemson in 2023. He is married to his wife, Mary Crosby.

ROSS TAYLOR

ASSOC. AD, FOOTBALL COMMUNICATIONS & STRATEGIC INITIATIVES
8TH SEASON • MISSOURI '10

Ross Taylor is in his eighth year overseeing football communications at Clemson in 2025 after joining the program in 2018.

Taylor has guided media relations efforts amid five ACC championships, four College Football Playoff berths and two national title game appearances, and he has helped promote six consensus All-Americans as well as winners of the Campbell Trophy, Butkus Award, Archie Griffin Award, Disney Spirit Award and Bear Bryant Award. Clemson has received the Super 11 Award for excellence in media relations from the Football Writers Association of America in each of his first seven seasons.

In addition to his role with football communications, Taylor also assists as a strategist and advisor to the Director of Athletics on high-leverage projects impacting Clemson Athletics' external operations.

Taylor succeeded CoSIDA Hall of Famer Tim Bourret in July 2018 to become just the third director of football communications at Clemson since 1955. He came to Clemson after spending seven years with the team known currently as the Washington Commanders, including the last three seasons as director of communications. He began as a media services assistant with Washington in 2011.

ZACH TERRILL

1ST SEASON • OLIVET NAZARENE '20

Zach Terrill is in his first season in a defensive player development role at Clemson in 2025.

Terrill joined Clemson after serving as a defensive analyst at Penn State in 2024 under current Clemson Defensive Coordinator Tom Allen. Terrill helped the Nittany Lions to a school-record 13 wins and a College Football Playoff semifinal berth.

Terrill entered the coaching ranks as a student assistant coach at his alma mater, Olivet Nazarene, where he coached outside linebackers from 2019-21. He briefly served as a graduate assistant at Midland University in early 2021 before assuming the role of safeties coach at the University of Indianapolis for the 2021-23 seasons. Terrill then spent one season in a graduate assistant role at Kent State in 2023.

Before transitioning to coaching, Terrill played linebacker for three seasons at Olivet Nazarene, where he earned his bachelor's degree in health and physical education in 2020. He is married to his wife, Shariden, and has a daughter, Dage.

BRANDON THOMAS

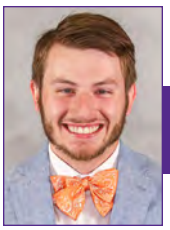
Brandon Thomas is in his fourth season assisting Clemson's offense and his second in offensive player development and assistant offensive line coaching roles in 2025.

Prior to returning to Clemson as an offensive graduate assistant for the 2022-23 seasons, Thomas played 2,765 offensive snaps at Clemson in his four-year collegiate career spanning 2010-13, the 10th-most of any player in Clemson history at the time of his departure. He was a two-time All-ACC selection, earning first-team honors in 2012 and second-team honors as a team captain in 2013.

After being selected by the San Francisco 49ers in the third round (No. 100 overall) of the 2014 NFL Draft, Thomas spent six seasons in NFL from 2014-19 with the 49ers (2014-15), Detroit Lions (2016-17) and Jacksonville Jaguars (2018-19). He spent the 2020 season as an assistant coach at Daniel High School in Central, S.C., helping the program to a AAA state title.

Thomas earned a degree in secondary education from Clemson in 2013 and is presently pursuing a master's degree in business administration. He is also a licensed real estate agent.

Thomas and his wife, Colleen, have two daughters, Mary Kate and Leila, and a son, RJ.



CARTER THOMASON

DEFENSIVE ANALYST
8TH SEASON • CLEMSON '20

Carter Thomason is in his eighth season at Clemson including his fourth as a defensive analyst in 2025.

Thomason served as a student coaching assistant for Clemson from 2018-20, assisting in a variety of roles that included contributions to game planning, data management, film study and recruiting. He transitioned into a video graduate assistant role in 2021 before being hired as a defensive analyst in early 2022.

Prior to attending Clemson, Thomason served as a student coach at North Gwinnett (Ga.) High School in 2017, helping his team to a Georgia 7A state title that year.

Thomason earned his bachelor's degree from Clemson in political science in 2020 and added a master's in athletic leadership in 2022. He is married to his wife, Abby.

COORDINATOR OF NIL & PROGRAMMING

Kendall Thompson is in her third season on Clemson's support staff and her second as Clemson's Coordinator of NIL & Football Programming in 2025.

Thompson joined the program as Coordinator of Football Programming in 2023, assisting primarily in the areas of freshman transition, football academics and former player engagement. Prior to returning to her alma mater, she served as an educator in Charleston and Greenville counties.

Thompson (neé Mercer) earned her degree in education from Clemson in 2019 and added her master's degree in education in 2020. She married her husband, Dylan, in 2025.

MEAGHAN TURCOTTE

DIRECTOR OF PERFORMANCE NUTRITION
3RD SEASON • CLEMSON '18

Meaghan Turcotte is in her third season as Director of Football Performance Nutrition at Clemson after returning to her alma mater in that role in January 2023.

Prior to her return, Turcotte served in the same role at Miami in 2022. A year earlier, she served in an assistant director capacity at Georgia during the Bulldogs' national championship season in 2021.

Turcotte earned her bachelor's degree in nutrition and dietetics from Clemson in 2018 and added a master's degree in sports nutrition from Georgia in 2019, graduating summa cum laude from both universities. She also worked in the nutrition department for both football programs during her time as a student.

Turcotte completed a dietetic internship through the University of Houston and is a Registered Dietitian and Licensed Dietitian.

ELIJAH TURNER

DEFENSIVE ANALYST, ASSISTANT CORNERBACKS COACH

Elijah Turner is in his fifth season on Clemson's support staff in 2025.

Turner joined Clemson's staff as a defensive graduate assistant in 2021 immediately following a five-year playing career. He served in a defensive player development role at Clemson across the 2022-23 seasons before becoming a defensive analyst and assistant cornerbacks coach in 2024.

Turner began his collegiate career at Presbyterian College, where he played defensive back from 2016-17 and finished second on the Blue Hose in tackles in 2017. Upon Presbyterian's transition to a non-scholarship model, Turner elected to walk on at Clemson, playing in 24 games across the 2018-20 seasons for squads that won a combined 39 games and made three College Football Playoff appearances.

Turner earned his degree in communication from Clemson in 2019 before starting his pursuit of a master's degree in athletic leadership during his final playing season in 2020. He is married to his wife, Sallie, and has a son, Tex, and a daughter, Waylon.

NOLAN TURNER

DEFENSIVE PLAYER DEVELOPMENT, ASSISTANT SAFETIES COACH
2ND FULL SEASON • CLEMSON '20

Nolan Turner is entering his second full season on Clemson's support staff as a defensive player development assistant and assistant safeties coach in 2025.

Turner was a standout safety at Clemson from 2016-21, accruing 259 tackles (13.5 for loss), 20 pass breakups, seven interceptions, 3.0 sacks and two forced fumbles over 65 career games with 25 starts. He was part of five ACC title squads, five College Football Playoff berths, three national title game appearances and two national championships during his playing career.

Turner signed with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers as a college free agent in 2022 and played in five games for the organization that season. Upon his departure from the Bucs in August 2023, he returned to Clemson intermittently during the 2023 season before electing to pursue coaching full-time time in 2024.

Turner earned his bachelor's degree in financial management in 2020 and added a master's in athletic leadership in 2021. His brother, Cole, is a redshirt junior on Clemson's 2025 squad.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

GRAHAM NEFF

- DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS
- 4TH FULL SEASON AS DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS
- 13TH FULL SEASON AT CLEMSON
- GEORGIA TECH '06

Graham Neff was named Clemson's 14th director of athletics on Dec. 23, 2021 in the midst of his 11th year at Clemson and is in his fourth year in the role. During his tenure, Neff has established himself as a forward-thinking leader with a focus on student-athlete well-being and academic and athletic success. Additionally, he has helped to navigate a complicated national landscape, working closely with key stakeholders to stay at the forefront of the issues with an emphasis on the impacts to Clemson.

Neff has overseen significant facility development, including investments in football and a women's sport expansion project to house Clemson's new lacrosse and gymnastics teams. In 2025, Clemson opened the 55,000-square-foot Watt Family Performance & Wellness Center.

He led the bringing of Clemson's multimedia rights in-house, developed a comprehensive NIL program and launched a streaming service, Clemson+. Recently, Clemson announced the formation of Clemson Ventures, which is an innovative take on commercial revenue generation within the athletic department, including sales, media creation, digital marketing, NIL and events verticals. Additionally, IPTAY has seen record-breaking growth in the past two years, which included the largest gift in IPTAY history.

Academically, Clemson's graduation success rate has been above 91 percent for 11 consecutive years, most in the nation among public power-conference institutions for two straight years with a 96-percent mark for the most-recent data release. The student-athlete total GPA has been above 3.0 for 12 straight semesters.

All of this led to Clemson being named one of Front Office Sports' Best Collegiate Athletic Departments nationally.

On the field, it has led to significant results. In the 2022-23 season, Clemson's teams won four ACC championships in a single season for the first time since 1998-99. In the 2023-24 year, four programs advanced to national quarterfinals in a single season, an accomplishment that had not occurred since 1979-80. In 2023, the men's soccer program claimed its second national championship in three years. Men's soccer also won the 2023 ACC title, while there was a historic run by the men's basketball program, which knocked off powerhouses Baylor and Arizona in the NCAA Tournament. Women's soccer advanced to its first College Cup as well.

Clemson made its return to the College Football Playoff in 2024 after claiming the ACC championship and won an ACC title in softball and women's indoor track & field in 2024-25, as well as NCAA appearances from lacrosse (Sweet 16), men's soccer (Sweet 16), gymnastics (regional quarterfinal) and men's and women's tennis.

Neff has been in senior leadership positions within Clemson athletics since 2013, including as chief financial officer and director of capital projects prior to his most-recent role as deputy director of athletics. Neff has helped oversee the build and financing of more than $200 million in facility improvements, aided in the continued development of IPTAY and served as a sport administrator for football and men's basketball.

Neff works consistently with key university stakeholders, including the university Executive Leadership Team, The Board of Trustees, IPTAY Board of Directors, Athletics Council and several university committees and appointments.

During his time as a sport supervisor, the football program won two national championships and the men's basketball program made two NCAA Tournament appearances, including a Sweet 16 run in 2018.

Neff has helped develop several key areas of the department, including the financial philosophy, fundraising, student-athlete welfare and external operations management. In 2019, he was named one of Sports Business Daily's Power Players, then was named to SBJ's 40 Under 40 list in 2021.

Prior to his role as deputy director of athletics, he joined Clemson in April 2013 as associate AD of finance and facilities. Before Clemson, Neff served two-plus years in several senior administrative roles at Middle Tennessee athletics, with emphasis in finance, facilities and external operations.

A civil engineering graduate of Georgia Tech, he served as a student manager for Head Coach Paul Hewitt and the men's basketball program, advancing to a Final Four in 2004. Neff worked in the financial advisory services group at Deloitte & Touche from 2006-08 prior to returning to a finance and ticketing role at the Georgia Tech Athletic Association. He earned an MBA from Georgia Tech in 2010.

Neff and his wife Kristin have three sons, Grady and twins Emmett and Nolan.

IPTAY

IPTAY, founded in 1934, was one of the first scholarship fundraising organizations in college athletics. Its roots trace back to Oct. 16, 1931 following a surprising 6-0 football loss against The Citadel.

After the game, Captains Frank Jervey and Pete Heffner along with Head Coach Jess Neely and Assistant Coach Joe Davis met in a car outside the stadium in Florence, S.C. to discuss various ways Clemson could establish its football program to a competitive status.

Shortly after the meeting, Dr. Rupert Fike offered his help after corresponding with Jervey. Neely believed he could run a successful football team if he was provided a $10,000-a-year increase in scholarships.

Initially, Jervey called for members to pay $30 a year, but Fike recommended a smaller amount of money, which he believed would lead to more members joining. Fike charged 100 people to step forward and pay $10 a year, which is where the name IPTAY (I Pay Ten A Year) originated.

In 1934, the first year of IPTAY, over $1,600 was raised. Some donors negotiated payments in the form of bartering because of the Great Depression. Milk, sweet potatoes, turnip greens and other goods were accepted in an attempt to build a solid membership base.

However, the hard work of Fike and his colleagues began to pay off in the 1939 season, as the Tigers went to their first bowl game, the 1940 Cotton Bowl, where they beat Boston College 6-3 and finished in the top 25 of the AP poll. Coincidentally, IPTAY reached Neely's $10,000 goal for the first time in 1939.

In more recent years, IPTAY's growth of support for Clemson student-athletes has continued to elevate. In addition to athletic scholarships, IPTAY also provides funding for new and upgraded facilities, strength & conditioning, nutrition services, life skills and more. IPTAY is also a strong supporter of Tiger Band, providing funding for new uniforms and travel expenses.

IPTAY is considered by many to be the father of athletic fundraising. It was the first organization in the nation to build and fund an academic support facility solely for educational resources for student-athletes.

Vickery Hall opened in 1991 and established itself as a nationally-recognized program for student-athlete support. The program moved to the Nieri Family Student-Athlete Enrichment Center at the west end zone of Memorial Stadium in 2017.

The IPTAY Collegiate Club, started in 1997, continues to be the model student fundraising organization in the country. Additionally, the IPTAY Tiger Cub Club allows children to be members of IPTAY at a young age. The IPTAY REP volunteer program continues to be a leadership group that grows the IPTAY organization through its role as volunteer annual fundraisers.

IPTAY introduced the endowment of positions program under former Executive Director George Bennett. IPTAY implemented the program in 1994 during the 85th-birthday celebration for former Clemson Head Coach Frank Howard. The first endowment honored Howard, who coached the Tigers for 39 seasons and established much of Clemson football's storied traditions.

The Riggs giving level, established in 2015, is IPTAY's highest annual donation level. IPTAY, led by CEO Davis Babb, has expanded its organizational service to move toward a broader scope of full service. This includes capital gifts, improved marketing plans, estate planning and increasing our membership through our IPTAY REP volunteer program.

For additional information on how you can support IPTAY and all Clemson University student-athletes, call the McCarter Family IPTAY Center at 1-800-CLEMSON or visit the IPTAY website at ClemsonTigers.com/IPTAY.

ALLEN N. REEVES FOOTBALL COMPLEX

Head Coach Dabo Swinney and Tiger athletics sought to build "the forever home of Clemson football" when envisioning what would become Allen N. Reeves Football Complex, which opened in 2017. Several years later, the facility remains among the gold standards of performance facilities, not just in college football, but in all of sports worldwide.

While discussion about the $55 million facility spanning in excess of 142,000 square feet often centers around its bells and whistles, its design offers unparalleled functionality. During the facility's ideation, Clemson staff toured more than 35 sports performance facilities, pulling the best, most innovative ideas from every location and using the gleaned insight to create what 247Sports ranked as the nation's No. 1 facility as recently as 2021.

Upon entry into the main lobby of Allen N. Reeves Football Complex, the first thing visitors see are national championship trophies sitting in front of a video screen flanked by massive trophy cases housing additional hardware from Clemson's history. The lobby also displays a scaled replica of Howard's Rock and the Hill from Memorial Stadium, which also includes a button to play audio of Brent Musburger describing college football's grandest entrance prior to Clemson's 2013 game against Georgia.

At the behest of Swinney's original design, visible on the lobby's right side is the home of P.A.W. Journey, a program that cultivates leadership on the team through four main pillars...personal growth, life skills and civic engagement, career and professional development and former player engagement and development under the guidance of former All-American Jeff Davis.

Next to it, a corridor lined with championship rings won in Tiger history leads to Hendrix Family Paw Bistro, the best-in-class dining facility whose cuisine is cited by many current and former players as their favorite part of the facility.

Despite national praise for the young facility, Clemson has not rested in its pursuit of making the facility the nation's standard-bearer. In the last several years, the Tigers have continued to invest in the facility's ability to meet the needs of the modern student-athlete, both on and off the field.

Prior to the 2023 season, Clemson completed the addition of Allen N. Reeves Clemson Athletics Branding Institute, a 12,000-square-foot, two-story area on the west end of Betty Sheppard Poe & William Maxwell Poe Indoor Facility and steps from the spacious weight room.

The institute, described in detail on pages 52 and 53 and known colloquially as "The CAB," contains two spacious photo and video studios, a customizable lighting grid, an audio studio, editing space, office space, meeting space and more to provide on-site resources for student-athletes choosing to pursue sponsorship opportunities and content generation.

The lower level of the facility is also home to Smart Family Media Center for press conferences with Head Coach Dabo Swinney and student-athletes.

A balcony on the top level of the institute overlooks Poe Indoor Facility, an 80,000-square-foot, $10 million structure completed in 2012. Clemson updated the facility in 2023, replacing the decade-old playing surface with a Hellas Matrix Helix monofilament synthetic turf system with RealFill rubber atop its Cushdrain drainage and shock pad. The surface helps to minimize wear and tear on Tiger players while allowing the team to continue its preparation in the event of inclement weather.

The facility also received an aesthetic and functional facelift in 2023 with new photos and graphics adorning the walls and the addition of new storage areas for equipment staff. The facility also includes raised video platforms, a game-ready scoreboard, four play clocks, a videoboard and a sound system.

In 2022, Clemson invested significantly in the holistic health and wellness of its student-athletes with the completion of its "100 Yards of Wellness" area inside Allen N. Reeves Football Complex. Detailed further on pages 54 and 55, the project has become a central hub and hotbed of student-athlete activity as modern athletes continue to buy into the concept of "prehab," load management and active recovery.

The collaboration of Clemson's Director of Applied Science Dr. Alex Bina and Director of Athletic Training Pat Richards, two young, dynamic leaders in their respective fields, has kept Clemson at the forefront as one of the world's top sports science facilities.

In addition to being a free resource for Clemson's active student-athletes, the space has become a draw for Tiger alumni in the NFL. With Clemson's professional-grade-or-better training areas, Tigers in the NFL have routinely returned and brought their NFL teammates to train in Clemson's facilities during summers between minicamp and training camp. The facility, including the 100 Yards of Wellness area, has inspired both awe and jealousy from NFL players who played collegiately at other programs across the country.

Adjacent to the dining area and 100 Yards of Wellness are the outdoor player village and indoor player lounge. The outdoor area includes a nine-hole miniature golf course, an artificial-surface wiffle ball diamond, a sand volleyball facility, pickleball court, horseshoe pit, fountain with a Tiger Paw monument, outdoor kitchen and lounge area.

The indoor player lounge is complete with a two-lane bowling alley, Pop-A-Shot, three different video-game console centers, multiple table tennis and pool tables, a shuffleboard table and Super Bikes motorcycle arcade game.

Adjacent to the table-tennis area is a golf simulator, where student-athletes can play golf courses from around the world and learn the game (and professional networking tool) in a comfortable setting.

Down the corridor from the golf simulator is an expanded and renovated barber shop with a pedicure station and massage chairs. The shop's 2021 expansion was designed and constructed in part by former Tiger defensive end Justin Foster, a construction science graduate who served as an assistant superintendent on the renovation project prior to his final season at Clemson.

Clemson's enormous weight room covers 23,000 square feet and debuted as the country's largest football-only weight room. The entire team can work out at once in the area that includes 20 inlay platforms, numerous machines, fatbells, kettlebells and dumbbells, as well as a well-equipped cardio deck overlooking the lifting area. It also houses the offices of Director of Performance Nutrition Meaghan Turcotte and her staff as well as a nutritional fuel bar.

Clemson's hydrotherapy areas include a large horizontal 47-degree cold tub that can handle 61 players at one time. Next to the locker room, it sits adjacent to the hydrotherapy portion of the 100 Yards of Wellness area that hosts a lap pool and four therapy pools.

The second floor houses offices and meeting spaces for Clemson football personnel, including Swinney's office, which is in the corner with accrued career memorabilia that serves for invited guests as a de facto museum of Clemson football and the future College Football Hall of Famer's career journey.

The second floor contains dedicated and customized meeting space for each position and the team meeting room that seats 180 people. It also features a spacious movie theater with 20 lounge chairs.

But most famously, connecting the second-floor meeting spaces down to the locker room, weight room and practice fields is Clemson's renowned slide, which represents the most efficient means to get Tiger players from meetings to practice in a timely manner.

P.A.W. JOURNEY

P.A.W. JOURNEY SCHOLAR-ATHLETES AND STAFF DURING BUSINESS WEEK IN LAS VEGAS IN MARCH.

Clemson football is unapologetic about developing its scholar-athletes through the cutting-edge leadership initiative that is P.A.W. Journey. P.A.W., which stands for "Passionate About Winning," is the founding principle of this player relations program, positioning Clemson's football scholar-athletes to maintain a continually competitive posture towards all aspects of their lives.

Head Coach Dabo Swinney consistently encourages his scholar-athletes to maximize all that football has to offer, including opportunities it creates and the skills it cultivates within each young man that can be used for a lifetime. P.A.W. Journey, serving as the guiding light for how to transfer all the treasure to be gained from football, supports scholar-athletes daily in this endeavor.

P.A.W. Journey focuses on holistic development through its four pillars... Striped, C.U. in Life, 5th Quarter and Overtime. These pillars work harmoniously to progressively develop individuals as a whole so they can become first-class men and world-class leaders.

Striped intentionally identifies and fosters each person's sense of purpose and the man they aspire to become. C.U. in Life bridges the gap between excellence on the field and excellence in community, career and around the globe.

The 5th Quarter pillar instills entrepreneurial spirit and executive skills through professional development, influential marketplace exposure and purposeful employment opportunities. Overtime provides Tiger football alumni and former players opportunities for leadership, growth and relationships, both internal and external to Clemson.

Founded and led by Clemson's very own Jeff Davis, P.A.W. Journey is a national model player relations program. Along with his team of dedicated personnel, Jeuel Davis, Kayla Owens, Joshua Watson and Richard Yeargin, P.A.W. Journey supports and mentors Clemson's football scholar-athletes from the time they step foot on campus to their graduation and beyond.

Gratitude for the P.A.W. Journey experience was expressed by defensive tackle Vic Burley. After a challenging year of injuries that kept him off the field, Burley chose to find significance and perspective by participating in the service abroad trip to Cape Town, South Africa in 2024. His circumstances in football, no matter how daunting, became much less overwhelming when he witnessed how far the smallest acts of kindness could go with the children to whom he was providing physical education.

"Seeing the joy of the kids, I learned that giving anything, whether it's time, money or whatever…serving is serving," said Burley.

As a football scholar-athlete who immediately applied himself in the holistic development space upon his entry to Clemson, Burley became well-acquainted with the concept that his value does not begin and end with what he can do on the field. Thus, his injuries did not lead to him withdrawing, but leaning in to the opportunities and experiences that would help him pursue excellence and make a positive impact on others.

He attended the Business Week trip last year, mentored students at Ravenel Elementary with Paw Pals, was selected to be a part of Tiger Leadership Academy and became a member of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, Inc. In view of his commitments, Burley also earned recognition as a member of P.A.W. Journey's C.U. in Life Class of Excellence.

Now empowered with these experiences, Burley can continue to passionately pursue excellence at a different level, in the game of football and beyond, with his newfound self-efficacy.

The program not only encourages the Tigers to persevere through adversity and hone their skills and passions, it empowers them to lead. While no two journeys look the same, the ability to lead with confidence and conviction grows each day with each young man and the experiences in which they take part.

Linebacker Wade Woodaz leads with confidence and conviction by serving as a P.A.W. Journey ambassador, a prestigious leadership position currently held by dozens of football scholar-athletes. Ambassadorship requires them to collaborate with the P.A.W. Journey staff to address the team's needs and desires, and be a representative for P.A.W. Journey on the team and campus, in the marketplace and in the community. As someone who has embraced his authenticity through initiatives like the P.A.W. Journey Showcase, Woodaz has become more unapologetic about being himself and using his voice to encourage his teammates to do the same.

Within the ever-evolving landscape of college football, P.A.W. Journey is confident in its ability to recognize and respond to the needs of the newly empowered scholar-athlete at Clemson University and beyond.

Being passionate about winning in the sport of football, and more importantly in life, will always be the foundation for every Clemson Tiger to pursue first-class manhood and world-class leadership.

SCAN TO WATCH VIDEO

The "Best" in "Best is the Standard" got better in 2023, as Clemson opened Allen N. Reeves Clemson Athletics Branding Institute to provide Tiger student-athletes best-in-class facilities and resources for branding, marketing, sponsorship, content creation and more.

Attached to the west end of the Poe Indoor Facility, the 12,000-square-foot, two-story facility houses two photo and video studios, an audio studio, editing space, conference room and an NIL coordinator office, all intended to provide on-site resources for student-athletes choosing to pursue sponsorship opportunities and content generation. The facility is also home to Smart Family Media Center.

From its ideation, "The CAB," as Head Coach Dabo Swinney nicknamed it, has been intended as a destination for student-athletes seeking branding guidance and resources to help elevate themselves among a crowded marketplace.

"We're going to call it 'The CAB,' because what does a cab do? It gives you a lift to your destination," said Swinney. "But you've gotta pay the fare. We can't do it for you. You've got to do the work. I'm really excited about it, because it's a living, breathing space where our guys know they can go for expertise.

"If you're injured, you go to the training room," added Swinney. "If you want to get stronger, you go to the weight room. This was an opportunity for our players to know that if they want help with branding, sponsorship, NIL, tax education, finances and all of these very real-world issues, you go to 'The CAB,' where we have a dedicated space with people ready to help them."

According to C.D. Davies, former NIL coordinator, that real-world experience is indispensable and part of Clemson's educational mission.

"This is a great education for them," remarked Davies of the opportunity for Clemson student-athletes to monetize their name, image and likeness. "They're getting an education that a lot of business schools don't get to give young people as far as actually being in the midst of doing these deals and negotiating for themselves, and we're giving them all the tools we can to make sure our players are in control of these transactions."

At the top of the stairs to the second floor of the new facility is a conference room overlooking Clemson's indoor practice field, providing a location for potential sponsors to meet with Clemson student-athletes.

Down the walkway overlooking the practice field sit three studio spaces for content creation. The first includes a 625-square-foot infinity wall plus permanently installed customizable lighting to provide Clemson content creators and others quick, turnkey options for professional-grade studio space. It also includes a feature wall adorned with a neon-backlit Clemson logo.

The second studio is a blank canvas to provide greater flexibility for creation of custom photo and video sets. The third is a soundproof studio complete with top-of-the-line RØDECaster equipment for the production of audio content, such as Clemson's 2 Right Turns podcast.

The ground level is home to Smart Family Media Center, which serves as a central hub for Clemson's award-winning media operations. The 1,200-square-foot center includes wired workspace for 40 media members to work comfortably and efficiently while interviewing Clemson personnel seated in front of the stage's 163-inch video branding wall, which can be customized for each student-athlete.

The creation of Smart Family Media Center is the latest illustration of Clemson's larger commitment to serving local and national media and helping them tell the stories of Tiger student-athletes. Through the 2024 season, Clemson's athletic communications staff has won 12 Super 11 awards, presented annually by Football Writers Association of America to the FBS' most helpful sports information departments. That total is the most in the award's history. Clemson's coaches' and student-athletes' helpfulness and authenticity with the media resulted in Clemson becoming the first program in the nation to earn the honor in 10 consecutive years, doing so from 2015-24.

Building construction and renovations for The CAB also included the creation of updated spaces for pro scouts and returning Clemson football players. The professional scout room has nine workstations for NFL scouts to watch tape, write reports and meet with Clemson personnel. A few yards away is Clemson's NFL locker room, a dedicated space for former NFL players to dress and shower upon their returns to Tigertown to train during the offseason.

100 YARDS OF WELLNESS

Clemson's path to the forefront of elite athlete recovery started with a culture change. For generations, despite the best efforts and cheeriest dispositions of athletic trainers, an unfortunate misconception lingered...the athletic training room is for the injured, and for the injured, the athletic training room is not a happy place to be.

"We really wanted to get away from the mentality of the 'training room'," said Head Coach Dabo Swinney. "We wanted to get away from the idea that it was only for guys who are injured and don't want to be in there."

Enter Jeanne & Brian Penner 100 Yards of Wellness, Clemson's $4.9-million wellness space at Allen N. Reeves Football Complex that spans roughly 300 feet in length. It has become a central hub of activity and major point of pride for Clemson football.

Completed in 2022, 100 Yards of Wellness represents the natural evolution of Tiger football's long-time commitment to student-athlete health and wellness. By literally and figuratively breaking down walls that divided the focus areas, the new space combines Clemson's athletic training and rehabilitation expertise with its continued innovation in active recovery and applied science.

"Now it's a total wellness commitment, the mental side, the wellness side, the 'prehab' side, the applied science side, your stretching, your nutrition...all of it combined in this one big space," said Swinney. "It has created an environment where the guys want to be there all the time."

In 2018, Clemson enclosed what was previously an outdoor patio area to create Clemson Applied Science Lab (or "The CASL," pronounced "castle"). The area served a two-fold mission. It served as the hub of Clemson's data and performance analysis as well as a space for "prehab" and recovery.

As Tiger student-athletes bought in, the space became one of Allen N. Reeves Football Complex's most heavily trafficked areas. With demand quickly outgrowing the footprint, Clemson embarked upon the renovation and expansion immediately after the team's final practice of the spring in 2022.

Whereas walls previously divided the athletic training room from the recovery space, the new open-concept area features Clemson's medical diagnostic and treatment area to the north and the recovery space to the south, bisected by a nutrition bar. Visitors are often surprised to find an almost club-like atmosphere with upbeat music and moving colored lights, creating a welcoming environment rather than a stale, clinical one.

The center has created additional collaboration between the athletic training staff, led by Director of Athletic Training Pat Richards, and the applied science group, pioneered by Dr. Alex Bina.

100 YARDS OF WELLNESS

"There is no one in the country I would rather have caring for our student-athletes in these positions than the duo of Pat Richards and Alex Bina," added Swinney. "Pat is incredibly well respected and is a young, dynamic leader in the athletic training industry.

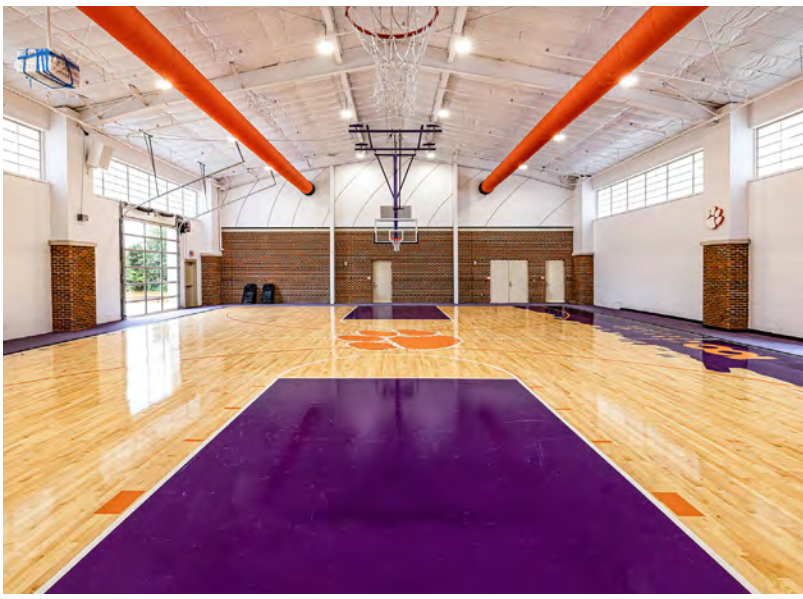
"Alex is an example of blooming where you're planted. He was a student volunteer who went from working from a laptop on a weight room stool to creating an applied science department that operates college football's premier recovery facility. Those two are the best in the business, and that shows in how much our players love them and trust them."

Clemson's treatment and athletic training room area includes all requisite athletic training resources, including a diagnostic office with a full digital X-ray space and diagnostic ultrasound, general medical exam room, 30 yards of turf and hydrotherapy areas, including two underwater treadmills. Among the features of the recovery center are:

- A cryotherapy chamber for muscle recovery through extreme cold temperature exposure.
- Infrared hyperthermic Cocoon pods for far-infrared light therapy and vibrational massage.
- A sensory deprivation float tank that houses 1,200 pounds of Epsom salt dissolved in water at skin temperature to remove athletes from light, sound and some gravitational force.
- Photobiomodulation therapy beds that leverage multiple wavelengths of infrared light to reduce oxidative stress.
- A hyperbaric chamber to create a pressurized environment for concentrated oxygen intake.
- Numerous massage chairs, including both percussive massage and hydromassage options.
- Percussive Hypervolt massage guns.
- Dedicated tables and space for practioner-assisted stretching, percussive massage gun therapy and Normatec compressive sleeves provided to each player prior to the season.
- Functional testing equipment to obtain objective information on student-athlete muscle and joint function that can be used for injury prevention and return-to-play purposes.

The renovations also included updating the outdoor basketball court into an indoor basketball court, which, in addition to being a source of friendly competition, now can be transformed following games into a movement studio for active recovery modalities like yoga.

The CASL is also a nap destination, but the high-energy vibes and heavy traffic of the subsequent 100 Yards of Wellness space required an additional solution. Atop a portion of the south end of the recovery area is what the team calls "Tranquility Tower," an upstairs, quiet location with much of the same recovery equipment, but in a serene, peaceful environment conducive to rest and away from the social activity of the main floor.



Clemson's recovery resources have become a source of envy for its former players. Two-time All-American and NFL wide receiver Sammy Watkins remarked to Swinney that he routinely spends more than $50,000 annually on services to maintain his body now provided to Clemson student-athletes for free.

The facility has also become a destination for Clemson's alumni in the NFL, as several dozen NFL players have opted to train in Clemson during recent offseasons to take advantage of the state-of-the-art recovery space.

CLEMSON APPLIED SCIENCE LAB

Brook T. Smith Clemson Applied Science Lab has a very simple mission…"Carry out the vision of the head football coach by providing confidence to student-athletes that their physical and technical development is constantly advancing."

Director of Applied Science Dr. Alex Bina has done everything in his power to ensure that those words ring true and Tiger student-athletes are given every possible opportunity to both improve performance and physically recover, using any and all modern technologies available.

The two key focuses of "The CASL" are maximizing performance and expediting recovery. The ultimate goal is quantifying human performance.

Once the body and its abilities are put into numerical terms, it becomes considerably easier to determine what needs to be improved and the best possible route to enhance it.

Throughout the yearly training cycle, athletes are evaluated using technologies that leverage motion capture, force plates, sensory station, augmented reality, force transducers and GPS sensors in order to quantify athletic development. Through this process, an athlete's body composition, movement efficiency, vertical jump performance, cognitive reasoning skills, specific muscle strength, joint range of motion and on-field speed become clear to coach and athlete alike.

By building a database of the "Clemson Effect" on athlete development and performance, the Clemson football staff can continue to build championship squads for future generations of Tiger players.

Not only does "The CASL" provide coaches and student-athletes with quantitative data with which they can analyze performance, it also is a key resource for student-athletes to use during the recovery process and injury risk mitigation protocols. Bina stressed that quick and healthy recovery is the priority of the staff at The CASL.

The path to success in recovery is a two-step process. The first is communication and collaboration between the student-athlete and his strength & conditioning coach, nutrition and sports medicine experts and his sports psychologist. The second is using the established baseline scores of the student-athlete as targets for return-to-play protocols and as a foundation for injury-prevention training.

In 2022, through a collaborative effort with the sports medicine staff, "The CASL" launched an injury-risk-mitigation protocol that leverages data analysis to inform athlete-specific interventions. After each training cycle (winter, spring, summer), the entire roster is evaluated for strength and mobility deficiencies or imbalances. These deficiencies inspire tune-up exercises carried out by the sports medicine staff to attack issues before they become long-term injuries.

The injury-risk-mitigation program carried out in The CASL was made possible through a cornerstone gift donated by Clemson alum and former Student Athletic Trainer Brook T. Smith ('89) to ensure that Tiger student-athletes can benefit from leading innovations occurring in human performance development.

Bina has always been interested in bioengineering, which is the degree he earned from Penn State. Bina, who received his Ph.D. from Clemson, is implementing a simple plan, which is to "learn how the body works as a machine and put students in a position to manipulate that machine to improve recovery and performance."

Tiger players have been responding very positively to the work that Bina and The CASL have done for them, and as a program, Clemson has seen tremendous success in terms of both its players' short and long-term recoveries.

Bina wants to ensure that "everything possible is being done for them" to get them back to their peak performance as healthily and as quickly as possible.

As far as long-term and overarching goals and aspirations for The CASL, Bina offered the following.

"When we talk about, 'Best is the Standard,' that means in all ways possible. This is just another piece of that puzzle."

THE CASL WAS MADE POSSIBLE THROUGH THE CORNERSTONE GIFT DONATED BY CLEMSON ALUM AND FORMER STUDENT ATHLETIC TRAINER BROOK T. SMITH ('89), PICTURED THIRD FROM RIGHT.

As part of Allen N. Reeves Football Complex that opened on Feb. 1, 2017, the Tiger program opened one of the top strength training facilities in the nation. The 23,000 square-foot football facility has all the latest in modern strength training that helps the Tigers prepare year-round.

The facility includes 20 inlay platforms, 30 pieces of cardio equipment, a full line of fatbells, kettlebells and dumbbells, eight different training zones and a nutrition bar.

The facility also has a high-tech sound system, many flatscreens and the best lighting available that puts wall graphics in full view, leading to the best possible work environment. In 2023, a videoboard was constructed inside the strength training facility.

The facility is attached to the indoor football facility and faces the outdoor practice fields, making for the most convenient and efficient facility in the nation.

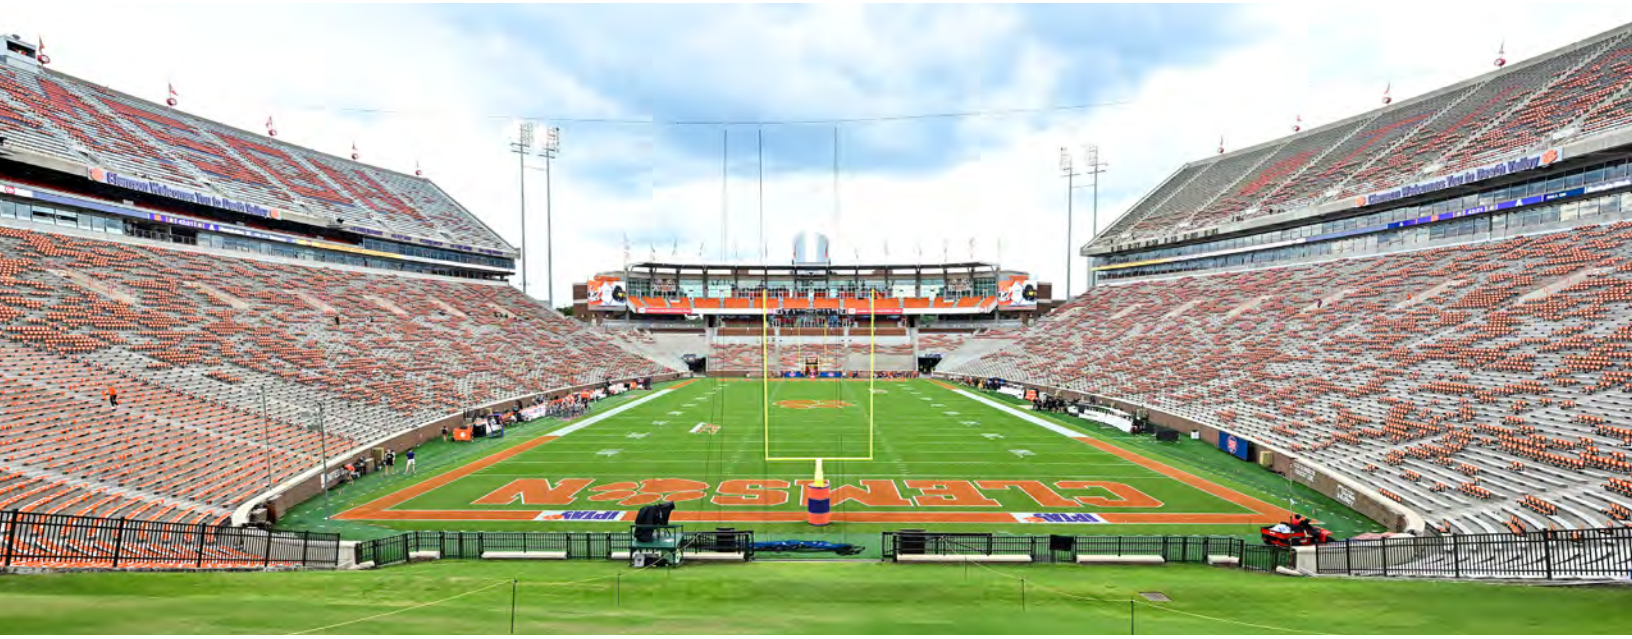
MEMORIAL STADIUM



Clemson's Memorial Stadium has been held in high esteem for many years. Whether it is players from the 1940s and 1950s, opposing players from the 1970s and 1980s or even professional players in the 1990s, the ambiance of this special setting is what college football is all about.

Clemson has finished in the top 20 in the country in average home attendance for 44 straight years. Clemson led the ACC (and finished 14th in the nation) in average home attendance in 2024, with 80,806 fans per home game.

The storied edifice added to its legend when the first meeting of father-and-son head coaches (Bowden Bowl I) took place before a record crowd of 86,092 in 1999. The legend was further enhanced from 2016-22, when the Tigers had an ACC-record 40-game home winning streak, tied for eighth longest in FBS history. Since the advent of the College Football Playoff in 2014, Clemson is 70-5 (.933) at home, the second-highest home winning percentage in the nation.

The facility's mystique is derived from its many traditions, which date to its opening in the 1942 season, the legendary games and players and Clemson's corresponding rate of success. Entering 2025, the Tigers totaled 345 wins in 83 years and won 76.1 percent of its home contests (345-106-7). Visiting defending national champions are 0-3 all-time at Memorial Stadium as well.

The stadium has been good to the Tigers, but it was constructed against the advice of at least one coach. Before Jess Neely left for Rice after the 1939 season, he gave Clemson a message.

"Don't ever let them talk you into building a big stadium," he said. "Put about 10,000 seats behind the YMCA. That's all you'll ever need."

Instead of following Neely's advice, Clemson officials decided to build the new stadium in a valley on the western part of campus. The crews went to work, clearing, cutting, pouring and forming. On Sept. 19, 1942, Memorial Stadium opened with Clemson defeating Presbyterian by a score of 32-13. Those 20,000 seats installed for the opener would soon grow.

When the original part of the stadium was built in the early 1940s, much of the work was done by scholarship student-athletes, including football players. The first staking out of the stadium was done by two members of the football team, A.N. Cameron and Hugh Webb. Webb returned to Clemson years later to become an architecture professor and Cameron went on to become a civil engineer in Louisiana.

The construction of Memorial Stadium did not proceed without problems. One afternoon during the clearing of the land, a young player proudly announced that he was not allergic to poison oak. He then proceeded to attack the poison oak with a swing blade, throwing the plants to and fro. The next day, the boy was swollen twice his size and was hospitalized.

There are many other stories about the stadium, including one that Frank Howard put a chew of tobacco in each corner of the stadium as the concrete was poured.

Howard said that the seeding of the grass caused a few problems.

"About 40 people and I laid sod on the field. After three weeks on July 15, we had only gotten about halfway through. I told them that it had taken us three weeks to get that far and I would give them three more weeks' pay for however long it took to finish. I also told them we would have 50 gallons of ice cream when we got through.

"After that, it took them three days to do the rest of the field. Then we sat down in the middle of the field and ate up that whole 50 gallons.

"The gates were hung at 1 p.m. and we played at 2 p.m.," explained Howard on the day of the first game in Clemson's stadium.

In 1958, 18,000 sideline seats were added, and in 1960, 5,658 west end zone seats were added in response to increasing attendance. With the large east end zone ("Green Grass" section), this expansion increased capacity to 53,000.

Later, upper decks were added to each side of the stadium as crowds swelled, the first in 1978 and the second in 1983. It increased capacity to over 80,000, which makes it one of the largest on-campus stadiums in the country. In 2006, the WestZone was added.

The original part of Memorial Stadium was built at a cost of $125,000, or $6.25 per seat. The newest upper deck was finished in 1983 at a cost of $13.5 million, or $866 per seat.

In 2022, Clemson debuted several stadium enhancements. The videoboard received its first major upgrade since 2005, installing the new affectionately and unofficially nicknamed "DaboTron" that measures 126 feet wide by 56.5 feet tall, eighth largest in the NCAA at the time of its installation. The eight main stadium light poles were updated to an LED system, allowing for light fixture control, spotlighting of Howard's Rock and higher-quality field lighting.

The west side of the stadium received a facelift with the addition of IPTAY's Masters Club, a 688-seat premium area on the concourse level. Clemson also installed new signage honoring the all-time greats, championship seasons and backlighting of the traditional "Clemson Welcomes You to Death Valley" signage.

Clemson began Phase II of renovations after the 2022 season. They included a new gameday locker room and a reimagining of Lot 5 and the Tiger Walk experience as a 365-day destination for Clemson fans.

Through the years, Memorial Stadium has become known as "Death Valley" across the country. It was tagged by Presbyterian Head Coach Lonnie McMillian during the late 1940s. After bringing his teams to Clemson for many years and getting whipped, he said the place was like "Death Valley." A few years later, the name stuck.

In 1974, the playing surface was named Frank Howard Field for the legendary coach and his long service and dedication to Clemson. Luckily, it wasn't built behind the YMCA.

RUNNING DOWN THE HILL

What has been described by television commentator Brent Musburger as "the most exciting 25 seconds in college football" from a color and pageantry standpoint actually started out as a matter-of-fact entrance, mainly because of necessity.

The first 20,000 seats in Memorial Stadium were built and ready for use before the 1942 season, less than a year after Pearl Harbor was bombed and the U.S. was drawn into World War II.

The shortest entry into Memorial Stadium was a short walk down Williamson Road from Fike Fieldhouse's dressing rooms to a gate at the top of the Hill, located behind the east end zone. There were no dressing facilities inside the west end zone…there was only a giant clock, where the hands turned, and a scoreboard that was operated by hand.

Players would dress in Fike Fieldhouse, walk down Williamson Road, enter at the gate underneath where the scoreboard now stands and jog down the Hill for their warmup exercises. There was little fanfare, no cannon shot fired, no Tiger Paw flag and no "Tiger Rag" played…just the team making its entrance and lining up to do the side-straddle hop. That is the way things went for the next 25 years.

In 1964 or 1965, Sam Jones (Clemson class of 1919) made a trip to California. He stopped at a spot in Death Valley, California and picked up a white flint rock. Jones presented the rock to legendary Head Coach Frank Howard as being from Death Valley, California to Death Valley, South Carolina.

The rock laid on Howard's office floor in Fike Fieldhouse for months. One day, he was cleaning up his office and told Gene Willimon (IPTAY executive secretary) to "take this rock and throw it over the fence or out in the ditch…do something with it, but get it out of my office!"

Willimon did not think that was the way a rock should be treated. After all, it had been brought over 1,900 miles by a very sincere Tiger fan.

By the mid 1960s, Memorial Stadium was living up to its moniker ("Death Valley") because of the number of Tiger victories that had been recorded there. Actually, the name was first used by Lonnie McMillian, head coach at Presbyterian during the 1940s.

McMillian and the other Blue Hose coaches before him opened each season by playing at Clemson. Seldom scoring (24 shutouts in 39 games) and with only three wins and four ties, his teams were getting "killed" by the Tigers regularly.

In 1948, McMillian made the remark to the press that he was taking his team to play Clemson in "Death Valley." An occasional reference to Memorial Stadium by that name could be heard for the next four years, but when Howard started calling it "Death Valley" in the 1950s, the name took off. Clemson is celebrating its 84th year in the "Valley" in 2025.

But getting back to Howard's Rock.

It was mounted on a pedestal at the top of the Hill on the east side of the stadium. It was unveiled Sept. 24, 1966, when Clemson played Virginia. The Tigers trailed by 18 points with 17 minutes remaining in the game and came back to win 40-35 on a 75-yard pass from Jimmy Addison to Jacky Jackson in the fourth quarter. That was quite a debut for Howard's Rock.

The team members started rubbing Howard's Rock prior to running down the Hill on Sept. 23, 1967, a day when Clemson defeated Wake Forest 23-6.

Prior to running down the Hill that day, Howard told his players, "If you're going to give 110 percent, you can rub that Rock. If you're not, keep your filthy hands off it!"

When Hootie Ingram succeeded Howard as head coach in 1970, he made the logical decision that the team would make its final entrance out of the new dressing room in the west end zone.

In all home games in 1970 and 1971 and the first four games of 1972, when the Tigers did not run down the Hill, their combined record was 6-9.

The seniors, led by Ben Anderson, decided to come down the Hill prior to the South Carolina game, the 1972 finale. The result, in a cold, freezing rain, was a 7-6 victory when Jimmy Williamson knocked down a two-point conversion attempt, which preserved the narrow win.

Clemson has made the entrance before every home game since 1942, except for the years mentioned and the first game in 1973 (442 times entering 2025).

After final warmups, the team gathers in its dressing room under the west end zone stands for its final pregame instructions. Ten minutes prior to kickoff, the players and coaches board multiple buses, ride around the north stands to the east end zone and disembark to the top of the Hill behind Howard's Rock.

At the appointed time, the cannon booms, and led by a giant Tiger Paw flag carried by the spirit squads, the band forms two lines for the team to run between and plays "Tiger Rag." The frenzy starts in all sincerity and lasts three hours.

It is a tradition that has inspired Clemson players for many years.

CLEMSON	3

AUG. 31, 2024
MERCEDES-BENZ STADIUM • ATLANTA, GA.

No. 1 Georgia used a 28-3 second-half run to pull away from No. 14 Clemson 34-3 in the Aflac Kickoff Game at Mercedes-Benz Stadium in Atlanta.

Linebacker Wade Woodaz led Clemson with nine tackles, while sophomore defensive lineman Peter Woods added 2.5 tackles for loss. Antonio Williams led Clemson's offense with six receptions for 76 yards.

The game was scoreless after the first quarter, as the teams traded punts on each of the game's first five possessions. Second-quarter field goals of 30 and 55 yards by Peyton Woodring gave Georgia a 6-0 halftime edge. The tightly contested first half featured only 50 combined plays from scrimmage, 10 combined first downs and eight combined punts.

Georgia extended its lead to 13-0 on the opening possession of the second half when Carson Beck found Colbie Young for a seven-yard touchdown. Clemson scored on its first possession of the second half when freshman Nolan Hauser made a 26-yard field goal, the first of his collegiate career, to cut the lead to 13-3. However, Georgia extended its advantage to 20-3 with 3:15 remaining in the third quarter on a one-yard touchdown run by Nate Frazier.

Georgia's London Humphreys added a 40-yard touchdown reception on a pass from Beck with 9:57 to play in the fourth quarter to make the score 27-3 in favor of the Bulldogs. An interception by Georgia's Malaki Starks, the game's lone takeaway, set up Cash Jones to cap the ensuing Georgia drive with a 15-yard rushing touchdown, pushing the final score to 34-3.

SEPT. 7, 2024
MEMORIAL STADIUM • CLEMSON, S.C.

No. 25 Clemson scored a touchdown on each of its first eight possessions of the first half to ride a 35-0 first-quarter lead and 56-13 halftime edge to a 66-20 win against App State in Death Valley.

Cade Klubnik earned Walter Camp National Offensive Player-of-the-Week and Davey O'Brien National Quarterback-of-the-Week honors for his performance in which he completed 24-26 passes for 378 yards and five touchdowns and rushed for two additional touchdowns in only one half of play. According to ESPN, he became the only FBS player in the last 25 years to record five passing touchdowns, two rushing touchdowns and a completion rate of 90 percent or better in a game.

Clemson's 712 yards of offense were the sixth most in school history. That total included a school-record 525 yards in the first half. Clemson's 35 first-quarter points were the most in a first quarter in school history, and its 56 first-half points were a modern record for the program.

Clemson recorded its first game with a 300-yard passer (Klubnik), a 100-yard rusher (Phil Mafah) and two 100-yard receivers (Bryant Wesco Jr. and Jake Briningstool) since 2012 against NC State when Clemson had a 300-yard passer (Tajh Boyd), two 100-yard rushers (Andre Ellington, Tajh Boyd) and two 100-yard receivers (Sammy Watkins, Brandon Ford).

NC STATE	35

SEPT. 21, 2024
MEMORIAL STADIUM • CLEMSON, S.C.

No. 21 Clemson earned its 800th victory in program history with a 59-35 victory against NC State at Memorial Stadium. Clemson became the 14th FBS program and first ACC team to reach 800 wins.

Cade Klubnik completed 16-24 passes for 209 yards and three touchdowns and added four carries for 70 yards and one rushing touchdown. Phil Mafah rushed seven times for 107 yards with a touchdown. Clemson's first-team offense scored points on eight of its nine drives, including seven touchdowns and one field goal.

Clemson raced out to a 28-0 first-quarter lead, becoming the first FBS team in 20 years of accessible ESPN data to hold a lead of 28+ points after the first quarter of consecutive games. After NC State got on the board early in the second quarter, Clemson scored an additional 17 points to give the Tigers a 45-7 halftime advantage.

Adam Randall caught his first career touchdown on Clemson's first drive of the third quarter and defensive back Ashton Hampton scored on a 53-yard pick-six to push the score to 59-14 after three quarters. NC State added 21 points against Clemson's backups in the fourth quarter to pull the final score to 59-35.

SEPT. 28, 2024
MEMORIAL STADIUM • CLEMSON, S.C.

Head Coach Dabo Swinney earned his 100th home win as No. 17 Clemson beat Stanford 40-14 at Death Valley in the teams' first matchup as conference foes.

Cade Klubnik completed 15-31 passes for 255 yards with four touchdowns and added seven carries for 48 yards with a rushing touchdown. Bryant Wesco Jr. caught two passes for a team-high 104 yards and a touchdown.

Defensively, Clemson had four sacks while adding three takeaways and three turnovers on downs. Linebacker Barrett Carter had 3.5 tackles for loss, while linebacker Sammy Brown recorded 2.0 sacks for his first career multi-sack game.

After Clemson turned Stanford over on downs on the game's opening possession, the Tigers opened the scoring on a 34-yard touchdown scramble by Klubnik. Red zone interceptions by Avieon Terrell and Jeadyn Lukus and a 20-yard Nolan Hauser field goal gave Clemson a 10-0 first-quarter lead. The teams traded second-quarter touchdowns to make the game 17-7 at the half.

Clemson pulled away in the second half thanks to three of Klubnik's four passing touchdowns on the day. Wide receiver Cole Turner and tight end Olsen Patt-Henry each recorded their first career receiving touchdowns, as the former rose up to haul in a 43-yard pass from Klubnik and the latter snagged a two-yard Klubnik throw in the end zone. Wesco scored on a 34-yard catch-and-run and joined Sammy Watkins as the only players in Clemson history to record multiple 100-yard receiving games in the first four games of a career.

FLORIDA STATE	13

OCT. 5, 2024
DOAK CAMPBELL STADIUM • TALLAHASSEE, FLA.

Phil Mafah rushed for 154 yards as the No. 15 Tigers defeated Florida State at Doak Campbell Stadium. The victory was the 174th career head coaching win for Head Coach Dabo Swinney, who broke College Football Hall of Famer Bobby Bowden's conference record for career victories as an ACC head coach.

Cade Klubnik finished 19-33 passing for 235 yards and two first-half touchdowns and added 62 yards on 11 carries. Antonio Williams tallied then-career highs in receiving yards (84), rushing yards (36) and all-purpose yards (157). Freshman Nolan Hauser made five field goals, becoming the first Tiger to make five in a game since Chandler Catanzaro in 2011.

Clemson jumped out to a 17-0 lead on the 1-4 Seminoles, as the Tigers supplemented Hauser's first field goal with Klubnik touchdown passes to Williams and T.J. Moore. The 17 points pushed Clemson's edge in first quarters through five games to 90-0.

A Brock Glenn touchdown pass and extra point cut Clemson's lead to 17-7, then two Hauser field goals in the final two minutes made the halftime score to 23-7.

Florida State scored early in the fourth quarter, but a two-point conversion attempt to try to cut the lead to eight fell incomplete. The Tigers leaned on their running game to close out the victory, as the Tigers gained 109 yards on 11 carries, with zero pass attempts, in the final quarter to tack on two more Hauser field goals and earn the 29-13 win.

CLEMSON	49
WAKE FOREST	14

OCT. 12, 2024
ALLEGACY FEDERAL CREDIT UNION STADIUM • WINSTON-SALEM, N.C.

Two interceptions fueled a 28-point second quarter as No. 10 Clemson pulled away from Wake Forest for a 49-14 win at Allegacy Federal Credit Union Stadium. The win was Clemson's 16th straight against the Demon Deacons.

Cade Klubnik completed 31-41 passes for 309 yards and three touchdowns. Phil Mafah ran for 108 yards and two touchdowns, and tight end Jake Briningstool hauled in seven catches for 104 yards and a score.

Additionally, Antonio Williams became the first Tiger since C.J. Spiller in 2009 to throw and catch a touchdown in a game, hauling in a 22-yarder from Klubnik in the second quarter and hitting Briningstool on a 28-yard pass in the third quarter.

The Tigers rolled up 566 yards of offense and 37 first downs, third most in school history, and held possession for 36:29 while holding Wake Forest to just 233 yards of offense and 16 first downs.

Wake Forest opened the scoring on the game's fifth possession, when Hank Bachmeier found Horatio Fields for a 31-yard touchdown late in the first quarter. The touchdown represented the first points surrendered by Clemson in a first quarter in 2024. The Tigers outscored Wake Forest 49-7 over the next three quarters.

Six different Tigers (two by Mafah, one each by Williams, Troy Stellato, Adam Randall, Briningstool and Keith Adams Jr.) scored touchdowns in the contest. Safeties Kylon Griffin and Khalil Barnes recorded interceptions, and Barrett Carter notched a sack in a third consecutive game.

VIRGINIA	31
CLEMSON	48

OCT. 19, 2024
MEMORIAL STADIUM • CLEMSON, S.C.

No. 10 Clemson improved to 5-0 in ACC play and 6-1 overall with a 48-31 home win over Virginia.

Cade Klubnik completed 23-35 passes for 308 yards and three touchdowns and added six carries for 29 yards. Olsen Patt-Henry caught two passes, scoring on both, for 51 yards, while senior Phil Mafah ran for 78 yards and a pair of touchdowns.

Clemson had four sacks and added six tackles for loss. Linebacker Wade Woodaz was credited with a team-high seven tackles, including one sack and a caused fumble.

Virginia took a 10-3 lead early in the second quarter, but two Mafah touchdown runs gave Clemson a 17-10 halftime lead. The Tigers took control of the game with a 21-0 third quarter. Virginia scored three touchdowns in the final quarter to cut the final margin of Clemson's victory to 17 points.

The day included recognition of one of Clemson's legends and the return of one of its native sons. Prior to the game, former running back C.J. Spiller was formally inducted in the Clemson Ring of Honor. Meanwhile, Virginia was led by Head Coach Tony Elliott, who played at Clemson from 1999-03 and served as a national-championship-winning assistant coach for the Tigers from 2011-21.

LOUISVILLE	33
CLEMSON	21

NOV. 2, 2024
MEMORIAL STADIUM • CLEMSON, S.C.

Louisville used scores on five consecutive drives to pull ahead of No. 11 Clemson en route to a 33-21 win at Memorial Stadium. Phil Mafah tallied a season-high 199 yards from scrimmage, including a season-high 171 rushing yards and two touchdowns on 30 carries.

Clemson outgained Louisville 450-366, piled up 31 first downs and held the ball for 37:52 on 101 offensive plays, including seven drives of double-digit plays, but the Tigers fell to 8-1 in their all-time series against the Cardinals.

After a Louisville field goal, Cade Klubnik connected with Antonio Williams for a 12-yard passing touchdown. The Cardinals reclaimed the lead in the second quarter on a rushing touchdown by quarterback Tyler Shough. Clemson attempted to tie the score 10-10, but a 49-yard Nolan Hauser field-goal attempt was blocked. Louisville's Keyjuan Brown capped the ensuing six-play drive with a touchdown run to give Louisville a 17-7 lead at halftime.

Clemson kept the Cardinals out of the end zone in the third quarter but allowed three Brock Travelstead field goals, which pushed the score to 26-7 at the end of the third quarter.

Clemson cut the lead in the fourth quarter on a 61-yard, 16-play drive, ending in Mafah's first touchdown run. But after Louisville recovered Clemson's onside kick, Isaac Brown rushed 45 yards for a touchdown to push the Cardinals' lead to 33-14. Mafah added his second rushing touchdown with 2:07 remaining in the game to bring the final score to 33-21.

CLEMSON	24
VIRGINIA TECH	14

NOV. 9, 2024
LANE STADIUM • BLACKSBURG, VA.

No. 19 Clemson outscored Virginia Tech 24-7 in the second half en route to a 24-14 win at Lane Stadium.

The Tigers held the Hokies to just 228 total yards while forcing three turnovers. Linebacker Sammy Brown made his first career start and led the Tigers with eight tackles (2.5 for loss) and a sack. Clemson held the Hokies to just 40 yards on 21 carries.

The teams opened the game with a scoreless first quarter. In the second quarter, a 46-yard Clemson field-goal attempt was blocked and returned 77 yards for a Virginia Tech touchdown by Quentin Reddish to give the Hokies a 7-0 lead they would carry into halftime.

Clemson scored on its opening possession of the second half on a 29-yard touchdown pass from Cade Klubnik to Cole Turner. After Clemson forced a Virginia Tech punt on its next possession, Klubnik spun to evade a sack on third-and-7 and connected with T.J. Moore for a 41-yard touchdown to give the Tigers a 14-7 lead.

After a remarkable one-handed interception by Ashton Hampton, Klubnik drove the Tigers 93 yards in 10 plays, connecting with tight end Jake Briningstool for a 12-yard score. The touchdown came on Briningstool's 113th career reception, breaking Jordan Leggett's school record for career receptions by a tight end.

Late in the fourth quarter, Clemson recorded its third takeaway of the game, as R.J. Mickens intercepted Colin Schlee in Virginia Tech territory. Nolan Hauser then added a 34-yard field goal, pushing the lead to 24-7.

Virginia Tech scored its first offensive points of the game with 1:43 remaining, but Clemson earned a seventh straight victory against Virginia Tech with the 24-14 win.

CLEMSON	24
PITTSBURGH	20

ACRISURE STADIUM • PITTSBURGH, PA.

With the Tigers trailing 20-17 and on their own 25 with 1:36 to play, Cade Klubnik scored on a 50-yard draw with 1:16 left to lift No. 17 Clemson to a 24-20 win over Pittsburgh at Acrisure Stadium. Clemson's defense sealed the win as Khalil Barnes recorded an interception on the final play.

Clemson's defense registered season highs with 16.0 tackles for loss and 8.0 sacks, including a school-record-tying four sacks by T.J. Parker. Antonio Williams had career highs of 13 receptions and 149 yards and two first-half touchdowns.

Clemson opened the scoring on its second possession, using an eight-play, 93-yard drive capped by a 14-yard Klubnik touchdown pass to Williams to take a 7-0 lead. Pittsburgh added a two-yard touchdown run by Daniel Carter. In the second quarter, a 28-yard Klubnik strike to Williams gave Clemson a 14-7 lead. Nolan Hauser's 51-yard field goal with three seconds remaining in the first half made the score 17-7.

Pittsburgh cut into Clemson's lead with 10:55 to play with a field goal after the Tiger defense held at the goal line. Pittsburgh tied the score on its next drive on a Nate Yarnell touchdown pass to Gavin Bartholomew. Clemson drove into Panther territory on the following drive, but was stopped on fourth-and-1 to give the Panthers the ball with 4:17 remaining. Pittsburgh took a 20-17 lead on a Ben Sauls' 47-yard field goal with 1:36 remaining in the contest.

After initially being held to 27 yards in the second half, Clemson then went 75 yards in three plays, capped by Klubnik's game-winning 50-yard run with 1:16 to play. Pittsburgh's final drive covered 73 yards in 10 plays, but Barnes' interception ended the game.

THE CITADEL	14
CLEMSON	51

NOV. 23, 2024
MEMORIAL STADIUM • CLEMSON, S.C.

Jay Haynes ran for 118 yards and two touchdowns on five carries as No. 17 Clemson cruised past The Citadel 51-14 on Senior Day and Military Appreciation Day. The win gave Clemson nine wins in 14 consecutive seasons, tying Florida State for the third-longest streak in major college football history.

The Tigers scored three touchdowns of 55+ yards in the first half. Payton Page intercepted a pass and took it 57 yards for a touchdown, Bryant Wesco Jr. scored on a 55-yard pass and Haynes broke free for a 70-yard rushing score. The Tigers established a 42-0 lead with 13:13 to play in the second half before removing the majority of its first unit.

Barrett Carter found his way into the end zone on a running play with 6:25 to play to go along with six tackles. Sammy Brown added a team-high 11 tackles.

Clemson scored touchdowns on each of its first five possessions and added a 32-yard Nolan Hauser field goal on its sixth possession. The Tigers held a 45-7 lead after three quarters.

The Citadel opened the fourth quarter with a blocked field goal followed by a 66-yard touchdown reception by Javonte Graves-Billips on a flea flicker to cut the score to 45-14. The Tigers answered with a nine-play, 70-yard touchdown drive, with Carter rushing four yards into the end zone on the first offensive snap of his career to bring the final score to 51-14.

GAME 12

SOUTH CAROLINA	17
CLEMSON	14

NOV. 30, 2024
MEMORIAL STADIUM • CLEMSON, S.C.

Cade Klubnik led No. 12 Clemson inside the 20 with less than a minute to play, but a deflected pass was intercepted by Demetrius Knight Jr. to seal a 17-14 win for No. 16 South Carolina at Memorial Stadium.

Klubnik completed 24-36 passes for 280 yards and added 10 carries for 62 yards and both of Clemson's touchdowns on the ground. Clemson had six tackles for loss, three sacks and forced three turnovers.

After a scoreless first quarter, Clemson opened the game's scoring on the Tigers' third drive. Klubnik scampered 13 yards to give Clemson a 7-0 lead. The Gamecocks responded on their ensuing possession with a 25-yard touchdown run by LaNorris Sellers. The six-play, 75-yard drive evened the score at 7-7, as the teams remained tied heading into halftime.

On Clemson's first drive of the second half, Klubnik capped an 11-play, 80-yard drive with his second touchdown run of the day, this time covering 18 yards.

After a T.J. Parker strip-sack in the first quarter, Clemson recorded its second and third takeaways of the day in the second half. Avieon Terrell forced a third-quarter fumble that was recovered by Barrett Carter, and Khalil Barnes ended a scoring threat with a fourth-quarter interception, as Clemson carried a 14-7 lead into the fourth quarter.

South Carolina notched back-to-back scoring drives late in the contest when Alex Herrera made a 42-yard field goal to cut the lead. A 20-yard touchdown rush by Sellers with 1:08 left in the fourth quarter ended a nine-play, 75-yard drive, putting the Gamecocks ahead 17-14.

Klubnik then led a seven-play, 45-yard drive to put the Tigers inside the 20, but South Carolina secured the win with Knight's interception with 12 seconds left in the game.

SMU	31

ACC CHAMPIONSHIP GAME • DEC. 7, 2024
BANK OF AMERICA STADIUM • CHARLOTTE, N.C.

Nolan Hauser made a 56-yard field goal as time expired as No. 18 Clemson won the ACC Championship Game and earned its seventh College Football Playoff berth with a 34-31 victory over No. 8 SMU at Bank of America Stadium.

Clemson led 31-14 after three quarters, but SMU scored 17 points in a row and tied the score 31-31 with 16 seconds remaining. But Clemson responded, as Adam Randall's 41-yard kickoff return got the Tigers to the Clemson 45. After Cade Klubnik hit Antonio Williams for 17 yards, Hauser put the 56-yarder down the middle to capture the title. It was the longest game-winning field goal in Clemson history and the first game-winning field goal of 50+ yards in conference championship game history.

Klubnik was 24-41 passing for 262 yards and an ACC Championship Game record-tying four passing touchdowns to earn MVP honors. He became only the third player ever to win multiple ACC Championship Game MVP honors (Tyrod Taylor and Deshaun Watson won two each).

Bryant Wesco Jr. had eight catches for 143 yards and two touchdowns, and Jake Briningstool had four catches for 23 yards and two touchdowns. Defensively, Clemson forced two first-half turnovers, a strip sack by T.J. Parker, who recorded eight tackles (3.5 for loss), and an interception by Khalil Barnes. Sammy Brown led the defense with 15 tackles.

The conference title was Clemson's 28th all-time and its 22nd as a member of the ACC.

GAME 14

CLEMSON	24
TEXAS	38

CFP FIRST ROUND • DEC. 21, 2024
DARRELL K ROYAL-TEXAS MEMORIAL STADIUM • AUSTIN, TEXAS

Clemson cut a 21-point deficit to a touchdown early in the fourth quarter, but Texas held off two potential scoring drives late to hold on for a 38-24 win in the College Football Playoff First Round.

The Tigers had two fourth-quarter drives stall as they made a bid to cut into the lead, including a fourth-down stop on the one-yard line. Texas ran 48 times for 292 yards and four touchdowns, averaging 6.1 yards per carry, including a 77-yard touchdown run two plays after the Tigers cut the lead to 31-24.

Cade Klubnik, playing in his hometown, passed for 336 yards and three touchdowns, while T.J. Moore had career highs of nine receptions and 116 yards and added a touchdown. Sammy Brown led Clemson with 12 tackles.

Clemson got out to a 7-0 lead on its opening possession, capping a 12-play, 75-yard drive with a 22-yard touchdown pass from Klubnik to Antonio Williams. But Texas responded with touchdown runs on each of its first three drives and added a 19-yard Quinn Ewers touchdown pass in the final minute of the half to carry a 28-10 lead into halftime.

After a Texas field goal midway through the third quarter, Clemson touchdowns by Jarvis Green and Moore late in the third quarter and early in the fourth quarter, respectively, trimmed the Texas advantage to 31-24. However, Clemson surrendered a 77-yard touchdown run on the second play of Texas' ensuing possession, and two Clemson turnovers on downs, including one at the Texas one, secured the victory for Texas.

CLEMSON RING OF HONOR MEMBERS

The Clemson Ring of Honor is the highest honor a Tiger student-athlete can receive. A recipient must first be a member of the Clemson Hall of Fame, earn at least an undergraduate degree and make a significant contribution to the heritage of Tiger athletics. Ten members of the football program and one football team are in the Ring of Honor, while Michael Dean Perry will be inducted in 2025.

FOOTBALL RING OF HONOR MEMBERS

1981 FOOTBALL TEAM

The 1981 football team was inducted into the Clemson Ring of Honor during the fall of 2006 in conjunction with the team's 25-year anniversary celebration of winning the national title. Every player, coach, manager and administrator associated with that team is considered in the Ring of Honor within the team concept. The Tigers had a 12-0 record that season, as they defeated Nebraska by a score of 22-15 in the 1982 Orange Bowl to claim the National Championship. For more information on Clemson's 1981 squad, see page 8.

JERRY BUTLER

Jerry Butler joined teammate Steve Fuller in the Clemson Ring of Honor in 1999. The two-time All-ACC player was a first-team All-American in 1978 when he and Fuller led Clemson to a No. 6 national ranking and an 11-1 record. He had at least one reception in 36 consecutive games. In 1979, Butler was the No. 5 overall NFL draft pick by Buffalo, where he played at a Pro Bowl level for seven seasons.

FRED CONE

Fred Cone, who was inducted into the Ring of Honor in 1997, was the first Tiger in history to rush for 2,000 yards in a career. Cone played for the Tigers from 1948-50. He is ninth on the Clemson career list for rushing touchdowns (30). Cone was a starter on two undefeated Clemson teams (1948,50), one of only two players in school history to accomplish that feat.

JEFF DAVIS

Jeff Davis, captain of the 1981 national title team, joined the Ring of Honor in 1995. He was a first-team All-American in 1981 when he led the team in tackles (175). Davis was also named ACC MVP and defensive MVP of the Orange Bowl win over Nebraska, the game that clinched the national championship for the Tigers. He was also inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in December 2007.

DANNY FORD

Danny Ford coached Clemson to the 1981 national title at the age of 33, still the youngest coach to win one. Ford won five ACC titles and six bowl games in his 11 years as the head coach. He had a 26-10-1 record against coaches in the College Football Hall of Fame, including wins over Joe Paterno, Barry Switzer, Woody Hayes, Vince Dooley, Steve Spurrier and Tom Osborne. He finished his Tiger career with a 96-29-4 record and his 76.0 winning percentage is still among the best in ACC history. Ford was inducted into the Clemson Ring of Honor at the season-opening Georgia game of 2013 and was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in December 2017.

STEVE FULLER

Steve Fuller was a charter member of the Ring of Honor in 1994. He is one of three football players in Clemson history to be chosen as an All-American on the field and in the classroom in the same year. Fuller was a two-time, first-team Academic All-American and a third-team All-American in 1978. He was the first Tiger to be named ACC Player-of-the-Year twice and was an NCAA Top Five Award winner in 1979, the only Tiger athlete to win the award.

FRANK HOWARD

Frank Howard was a charter member of the Ring of Honor in 1994. As head coach from 1940-69, he led Clemson to eight league championships, six bowl games and six top-25 seasons. Howard, who totaled 165 victories, was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1989.

TERRY KINARD

Terry Kinard (1979-82) was inducted into the Clemson Ring of Honor in 2001, the same year he was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame. The safety from Sumter, S.C. was named national defensive player-of-the-year by CBS Sports during his senior season in 1982. Kinard was named to the All Decade of the 1980's College Football team by USA Today and to the All-Century team by Sports Illustrated in 2000.

LEVON KIRKLAND

Levon Kirkland was a two-time All-American and three-time, First-Team All-ACC selection as an outside linebacker for the Tigers between 1988-91. He was a second-team All-American and a finalist for the Butkus Award on the 1990 team, which led the nation in total defense. He was also a first-team All-American in 1991. Kirkland was a second-round draft pick of the Pittsburgh Steelers and went on to an 11-year All-Pro career. He returned after his playing career to earn his Clemson degree and was inducted into the Clemson Ring of Honor in 2019.

BANKS McFADDEN

Banks McFadden was one of three charter members of the Clemson Ring of Honor in 1994. He was named the nation's most versatile athlete in 1939 when he was an All-American in football and basketball in the same calendar year, the only Tiger to accomplish that feat. He led the Tigers to their first bowl bid, a 6-3 victory over Boston College in the 1940 Cotton Bowl, and to the Southern Conference basketball title. He was the No. 4 overall pick of the 1940 NFL draft, tied for the highest in school history until 2021.

C.J. SPILLER

C.J. Spiller was a star at Clemson who was a unanimous first-team All-American on the gridiron as a senior in 2009, when he set the ACC record for all-purpose yards (2,680). He was a two-time All-ACC selection who set the NCAA record for career kickoff returns for touchdowns (7). He was a first-round draft pick (No. 9 overall) by the Bills in 2010 and played eight years in the NFL. Spiller was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2021 and Clemson Ring of Honor in 2024.

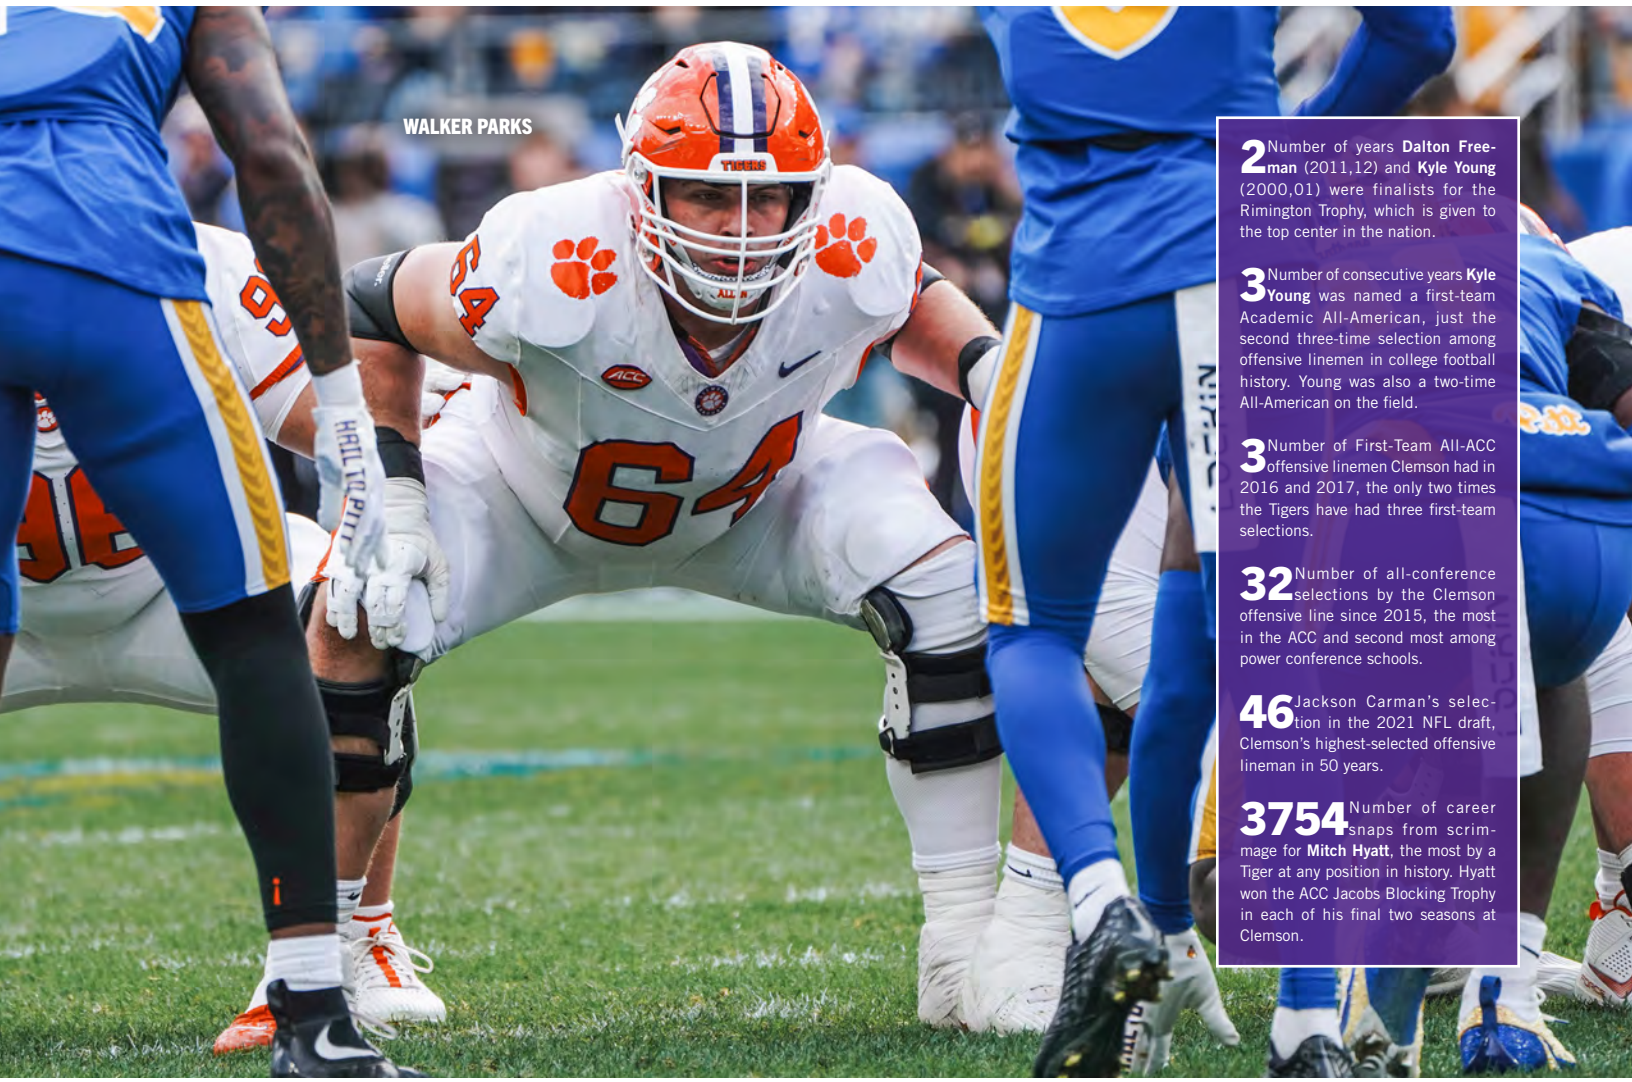
OFFENSIVE LINEMAN TRADITION



WALKER PARKS

2 Number of years Dalton Freeman (2011,12) and Kyle Young (2000,01) were finalists for the Rimington Trophy, which is given to the top center in the nation.

3 Number of consecutive years Kyle Young was named a first-team Academic All-American, just the second three-time selection among offensive linemen in college football history. Young was also a two-time All-American on the field.

3 Number of First-Team All-ACC offensive linemen Clemson had in 2016 and 2017, the only two times the Tigers have had three first-team selections.

32 Number of all-conference selections by the Clemson offensive line since 2015, the most in the ACC and second most among power conference schools.

46 Jackson Carman's selection in the 2021 NFL draft, Clemson's highest-selected offensive lineman in 50 years.

3754 Number of career snaps from scrimmage for Mitch Hyatt, the most by a Tiger at any position in history. Hyatt won the ACC Jacobs Blocking Trophy in each of his final two seasons at Clemson.

QUARTERBACK TRADITION

TAJH BOYD

1 Overall selection for Trevor Lawrence by the Jacksonville Jaguars in the 2021 NFL draft, making him the first No. 1 overall pick in Clemson football history.

2 Number of quarterbacks in FBS history to pass for 4,000 yards and rush for 1,000 yards in a season. In 2015, Deshaun Watson was the first to accomplish the feat.

2 Number of second-place finishes in the 2016 and 2020 Heisman Trophy voting by Deshaun Watson and Trevor Lawrence, respectively, tied for the highest finishes in Tiger history.

4 Number of victories without a loss Charlie Whitehurst had as a starting quarterback against South Carolina in his career (2002-05). He is the only starting signal-caller in series history to have a 4-0 record.

20 Passing touchdowns and homers for two-sport athlete Kyle Parker in the 2009-10 academic year, the first NCAA Division I athlete to reach 20 of each in one season. He became Clemson's 51st all-time major league player when he played with the Colorado Rockies in 2014.

30 Number of passing touchdowns by Trevor Lawrence in 2018 against only four interceptions, as he became the first first-year freshman starting quarterback to lead his team to the national title since 1985.

34 Career victories by Trevor Lawrence as a starting quarterback, breaking the Clemson record previously held by three Tigers. His 94.4 winning percentage (34-2) was third highest by a starting quarterback with at least 30 starts since Division I split in 1978.

133 Tajh Boyd's career touchdown responsibility total, an ACC record. He had 107 passing TDs and 26 rushing scores.

LINEBACKER TRADITION

BEN BOULWARE

1 Stephone Anthony led Clemson's top-ranked total defense in tackles in 2014. He was then selected in the first round of the 2015 NFL draft by the New Orleans Saints.

3 Number of FBS players since 2013 that have recorded at least 100 tackles, 16 tackles for loss, eight sacks and multiple interceptions in a season, including Isaiah Simmons, who in 2019 became the first player to do so since Khalil Mack.

5 Number of ACC Championship Games played by James Skalski, the first player to play (and win) five conference title games.

13.1 Average points per game allowed by the 2018 defense, as the linebackers helped Clemson finish first in the nation in scoring defense for the first time in school history.

43 Jersey number of both Keith Adams and Leroy Hill, both of whom won ACC Defensive Player-of-the-Year honors at Clemson. Adams won the award in the 1999 season and Hill took home the hardware in 2004.

44 Number of former Tiger linebackers who have made an NFL roster during the regular season.

202 Number of tackles recorded by two-time All-American Jeremiah Trotter Jr., who in 2022 and 2023 became Clemson's first multi-time All-America linebacker since Keith Adams.

2007 Year former All-American Jeff Davis was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame.

DEFENSIVE BACK TRADITION

1 Round in which 2021 All-Pro A.J. Terrell was drafted in 2020 with the No. 16 overall selection by the Falcons, Clemson's highest cornerback draft pick since 2006 All-Rookie pick Tye Hill.

2 Number of Super Bowls that Byron Maxwell played for the Seattle Seahawks, winning a title with the organization in 2013.

3 Number of players in Clemson's 2015 secondary that were named to one of the All-ACC teams: Mackensie Alexander, Jayron Kearse and Cordrea Tankersley. The only starter who was not an All-ACC pick was T.J. Green, a 2016 second-round NFL draft pick. Clemson's secondary had produced three or more All-ACC selections six times since 2015.

9 Number of Pro Bowls for Brian Dawkins, one of the NFL's best safeties. He has more Pro Bowl selections than any other former Tiger.

13 Number of NFL drafts in the last 17 years in which Clemson had at least one defensive back chosen.

25 Number of years in the last 30 seasons that Clemson has produced at least one All-ACC defensive back.

1997 Last year a school produced both First-Team All-ACC cornerbacks until 2021, when Andrew Booth Jr. and Mario Goodrich swept the honors.

FORMER HEAD COACHES

Walter Riggs could easily be called the father of Clemson Football. He coached the football program at Clemson, not only because he had football experience, but he was also one of only two people on the Clemson campus to have ever seen a football game when the sport started in 1896. (The other person was Frank Thompkins who played in the backfield on Clemson's first team in 1896).

On Sept. 30, 1896, a small crowd gathered in one of the barracks' rooms and the group discussed the feasibility of organizing a football association. A committee of three was appointed to consult Professor Riggs as to management of a football team and to ask his aid as coach.

When the Tigers traveled to Furman for their first game on Oct. 31, 1896, it was the first time that many of the players had ever seen a full-sized regulation football field.

Riggs stepped down as football coach after the first season because the players wanted him to devote all his time to being a professor in the engineering department.

Riggs could easily be called a loyal man, as he answered the need of the Clemson football team again in 1899. The Clemson Athletic Association was low on money and could not afford to hire a coach. Therefore, he again answered the call of the school and became head coach in 1899 for free.

Riggs originally came to Clemson from Auburn. He graduated with top honors in 1893 with a B.S. degree in electrical and mechanical engineering. At Auburn, he was captain and catcher of the baseball team as well as the manager and left end of the football team. He also served as class president and was the director of the Glee Club.

Upon his graduation at Auburn, he was assistant to the president of the college until 1896, then he made his trek to Clemson.

Riggs later became president of Clemson on March 7, 1911 and in 1915, a new football stadium with other athletic facilities was named in his honor as Riggs Field. It is currently the home of the Tiger soccer team. In two years of coaching, Riggs guided the Tigers to a career record of 6-3.

W.M. WILLIAMS

Clemson's second coach, W.M. Williams, was a native of West Point, Ga. He played at Auburn on the teams of 1894, 1895 and 1896, under the coaching of John Heisman. He was considered the best blocking halfback in the south. Williams led Clemson to the state championship and to a 2-2 season. During his time as coach, Clemson played two games in three days. Clemson was victorious over the Charlotte Y on Oct. 23, but lost to North Carolina 28-0 on Oct. 25.

The Tigers' third coach, J.A. Penton of Alabama, was captain and starting guard on the University of Virginia teams of 1893, 1894 and 1895. He was captain of the '95 Virginia team that beat North Carolina to win the Championship of the South. Penton also played fullback at Auburn in '97 under John Heisman's coaching. Under Penton, Clemson won 55-0 over Bingham in its first home game, as W.C. Forsythe kicked every point after touchdown (11). In his only season at Clemson, Penton guided Clemson to a 3-1 record and the state title.

JOHN HEISMAN

One of the most famous football coaches in the nation, John Heisman, coached at Clemson from 1900-03. He turned Clemson from virtually an unknown college to a southern powerhouse at the turn of the century. Heisman attended Brown University, taking the two-year law course offered at that time, and was a center on the football team. During the fall of 1889, he transferred to Penn. He lettered in football at both schools and graduated from Penn in 1893.

In the spring of 1894, Walter Riggs was a graduate manager for the football team at Auburn. It fell on his shoulders to find a coach for the season of 1895. Riggs wrote to Carl Williams, the Penn captain of 1894, asking him to suggest a suitable coach. He replied recommending J.W. Heisman, an ex-Penn player, and his coach at Oberlin.

After several weeks, Riggs finally found Heisman in Texas, where he was raising tomatoes. Having sunk all of his capital into the tomato venture, he was glad to return to his old love. He readily went to coach at Auburn for $500 a year.

His coaching career began at Oberlin in 1892 and lasted 36 years. It included positions at Akron, Auburn, Clemson, Georgia Tech, Penn, Washington & Jefferson and Rice. He had an overall career record of 185-70-17.

Heisman invented the hidden ball trick, the handoff, the double lateral and the "flea flicker." He pioneered the forward pass, arguing that it would scatter the mob. Heisman also originated the center snap and the word hike (previously the center used to roll the ball on the ground to the quarterback).

Heisman guided Clemson to conference titles in 1900 and 1902, and he led the Tigers to their first unofficial "bowl game" in 1903, when Clemson and Cumberland met on November 26 for the "Championship of the South." Cumberland, who had earlier defeated Auburn, Alabama and Vanderbilt, was considered to be champion of the southern states of Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee and Kentucky. The game was played on a neutral site, Montgomery, Ala. Cumberland and Clemson fought to an 11-11 tie. After the news got back to Clemson that the game was a tie, the students and the local townspeople built a bonfire and paraded around the campus.

Overall, Heisman took Clemson to a 19-3-2 record in his four seasons. His 83.3 winning percentage is still the best in Clemson history. He was also the Clemson baseball coach from 1901-03.

SHACK SHEALY
1904

Shack Shealy holds the distinction of being the only Tiger to have coached his alma mater. He lettered at Clemson from 1896-99 and later played two years at Iowa State. Shealy was a four-year starter playing right guard, end and in his senior year, he played in the backfield. He only coached Clemson one year (1904) and led the Tigers to a 3-3-1 record, including wins over Alabama, Georgia and Tennessee.

Ed Cochems lettered at Wisconsin in 1899, 1900 and 1901. He was described as a great halfback or end on the strong Wisconsin teams at the turn of the century, including the 1901 undefeated team. In his playing career, he had a 100-yard kickoff return in a 35-0 win over Chicago in 1901, and had four touchdowns against Notre Dame in 1900. After his playing days, he immediately went into coaching. He was the head coach of North Dakota in 1902 and 1903 and served briefly as an assistant with former teammate, Art Curtis at Wisconsin in 1904.

Cochems led Clemson to a 3-2-1 record overall, including wins over Georgia and Auburn. After his Clemson career, he was head coach and athletic director at St. Louis in 1906. After the forward pass was legalized in 1906, Cochems did something with the pass at once in his first year at St. Louis, while other coaches stuck with the running game. He taught his players not to throw the ball end-over-end, but instead like a projectile - a spiral. He called this new weapon a projectile pass.

Historians credit Cochems as being the first coach to use and perfect the first legal pass in a game. The first studied refinements in throwing the ball, which led to the spiral, occurred in 1906 under Cochems. Brad Robinson of St. Louis threw the first forward pass to Jack Schneider on Sept. 5, 1906 in Waukensha against Carroll.

BOB WILLIAMS

Bob Williams is one of the few coaches in the nation to have coached football at two rivals. Williams coached football at both Clemson and South Carolina. Before coming to Clemson, he coached at Davidson in 1905. He coached at South Carolina for two years and guided the Gamecocks to a 6-1 record in 1902 and an 8-2 slate in 1903.

In his career at South Carolina, he administered the most unexpected defeat of Clemson, as he beat a heavily favored Heisman team, 12-6 in 1902.

He served the Tigers as head coach a total of four terms (1906,09,13-15,26). Between 1915-26, Williams practiced law in Roanoke, Va. and was the city's mayor.

One of the highlights of his coaching career included leading the 1906 team to an unbeaten season (4-0-3), which included wins over Georgia, Auburn, Tennessee and a Heisman-coached Georgia Tech squad.

Frank Shaughnessy was known for his ability as a sports administrator. He served many positions, from a pro hockey coach to the International Baseball League Commissioner. A graduate in pharmacy at Notre Dame, he was captain of the baseball and football teams during his senior season. After his graduation in 1905, he coached baseball at Notre Dame. The summer before coming to Clemson, he played for Ottawa of the Eastern League. That summer, he played left field and ended the season with a .352 batting average. He played nine MLB games in 1905 and 1908 with Washington and the Philadelphia Athletics.

At Clemson, he coached the baseball teams during 1907 and 1908, and he was head football mentor in 1907, where he posted a 4-4 record.

Shaughnessy made his name in baseball, but he took part in many other sports. Besides being a sports legend at Notre Dame, he managed the NHL's Ottawa Senators to the 1915 Stanley Cup Finals and coached football teams at Clemson, Washington and Lee, and McGill. He retired as the president of the International Baseball league in 1960.

In a game against Kansas, Shaughnessy ran 107 yards for the only Irish score, as Kansas won the game 24-5. Football fields were 110 yards back then and touchdowns were five points. Shaughnessy passed away in 1969.

JOHN STONE

John Stone is one of three coaches who graduated from Vanderbilt and later became head football coach at Clemson. While at Vanderbilt, he was a member of the All-Southern Football team for four years. He was a big man for his time, standing 6'2". Clemson was 1-6 in 1908, but the Tigers lost many of their star players and substitutes from 1907 due to a college prank that saw 306 students expelled.

FRANK DOBSON

Frank Dobson was a pro baseball player before coming to Clemson, as he was the property of the Pittsburgh Nationals. Walter Riggs, President of the Clemson Athletic Association, thought it was unfair to keep shuffling coaches year after year. He offered Dobson a three-year contract, which was the first contract offered and signed by a Clemson coach.

At Clemson, he coached football, basketball and baseball. He was Clemson's first basketball coach, leading it to its only undefeated season (4-0) in history in the inaugural season (1911-12). In 1912-13, Clemson had a 9-5 record. He was head baseball coach from 1911-13.

WAYNE HART

Wayne Hart served as head coach at Clemson in 1916 and coached the Tigers to a 3-6 record. Under Hart, the Tigers defeated Furman and South Carolina. He played three seasons at tackle for Georgetown. Hart also played one season at George Washington. He was a member of the All-South Atlantic team on four occasions. Hart also served as an assistant coach at Georgetown.

In 1913, Hart coached the Washington Vigilants, a professional football team, and did not lose a single contest. During his last two seasons prior to his arrival to Clemson, he coached various sports at Technical High School in Washington, D.C.

EDWARD DONAHUE

Edward Donahue had to be one of the most organized men in the country. During the 1918-19 academic year, Donahue was the head coach of four Clemson sports... football, basketball, baseball and track. During his four-year career, he served as basketball and baseball coach for two years and head track coach for one season.

He was an outstanding athlete at Washington and Lee, where he played in the backfield on the football team and played catcher on the baseball diamond. Upon graduation, he was an assistant in football and was the head baseball and basketball coach.

E.J. Stewart was head football coach for two years at Clemson, 1921-22. However, he coached more than one sport during his stay at Tigertown. In the spring of 1921, Stewart coached the baseball and track teams while conducting spring football practice. During the fall, Stewart's football team had a 1-6-2 record, but he improved to a 5-4 slate in 1922. He went on to coach the track teams in 1922 and 1923.

Stewart was a standout athlete in football, baseball, basketball and track at Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland, Ohio. Upon his graduation, Stewart played, organized and served as head coach of the Massillon (Ohio) professional football team.

Stewart also coached at Nebraska and Texas. At Nebraska, he led the Cornhuskers to a combined record of 11-4 in 1916 and 1917. The Cornhuskers also captured the Missouri Valley Conference title during both seasons. After leaving Nebraska, he entered the automobile business as President and Treasurer of the Stewart Motor Co. Due to the economic conditions at the time, he decided to go back into coaching.

BUD SAUNDERS

Bud Saunders graduated from Missouri in 1911 with a bachelors degree in law. At Missouri, he played both football and basketball. Saunders wanted to play two other sports, but a conference rule forbid a student-athlete from participating in more than two sports.

Saunders served as football coach at Knox College before arriving at Clemson. In football, Saunders coached for four seasons from 1923-26. He also coached the basketball teams in 1924 and 1925. Saunders' best season in football came during the 1923 campaign, as he led the Tigers to a 5-2-1 record.

JOSH CODY

Josh Cody, fondly known as "big man," will always be a favorite to Clemson fans. Cody, a big man in stature at 6-2, 220 pounds, led Clemson to victories over South Carolina for four straight years. He is the only coach in Clemson history who has been around more than two seasons who never lost a football game to South Carolina. He also defeated Furman three straight years. Cody had a 13-0-1 record in home games and posted a 72-percent winning mark overall, the fourth-best mark in Clemson history.

After a 5-3-1 start in the 1927 season, Cody guided the Tigers to back-to-back 8-3 seasons in 1928 and 1929. On May 6, 1929, to show appreciation, Cody was given a new Buick by the alumni, student body and faculty.

In his final season (1930), the Tigers finished with a record of 8-2. Cody also coached basketball at Clemson for five seasons and guided Clemson to a 16-9 slate in 1930. During the 1928-30 seasons, he guided Clemson to a 22-4 mark at home. Cody went on to coach Temple's men's basketball team from 1942-52. He took the Owls to their first NCAA Tournament in 1944.

JESS NEELY

Clemson played in its first bowl game under Jess Neely in the 1940 Cotton Bowl. The Tigers, unknown at the time, became a household word after defeating heavily-favored Boston College 6-3 in the Cotton Bowl. It was the Tigers' first victory over a top-20 ranked team in school history. Clemson had a 43-35-7 record during Neely's tenure.

Neely came to Clemson in 1931 and his recruitment of Banks McFadden took Clemson to another level. In 1938, Neely coached Clemson to a second-place finish in the Southern Conference with a 7-1-1 record.

In 1939, Banks McFadden became Clemson's second All-American, and the team concluded the season with a trip to Dallas for the Cotton Bowl. Neely left Clemson in January 1940 and moved on to Rice, where he took that school to new heights. Neely is a member of the College Football Hall of Fame. Neely's landmark accomplishments in the 1930s at Clemson contributed significantly to Clemson's outstanding football tradition.

FRANK HOWARD

Frank Howard succeeded Jess Neely in 1940 when Neely moved on to Rice. He got the job when he seconded his own nomination during a meeting of the president and athletic council. He signed a one-year contract, then lost the document and never had another in his 30 years as head coach.

He graduated from Alabama in 1931, where he was a star lineman. He played in the 1930 Rose Bowl, then started his coaching career under Neely at Clemson in 1931, and was a part of a rebirth of Tiger football in the late 1930s. He was an assistant on the 1939 team that posted a 9-1 mark and beat Boston College 6-3 in the Tigers' first bowl game.

In 1940, he began his head coaching career with a bang as he won the Southern Conference title, the first of eight conference titles that Howard won in his coaching career, a feat that wouldn't be matched at Clemson until Dabo Swinney's eighth conference crown in 2022.

Howard had his most successful season in 1948 when he took Clemson to an 11-0 record, the Tigers' first perfect season since 1900. The campaign included a Southern Conference championship, a Gator Bowl win over Missouri and a No. 11 final ranking. He nearly duplicated the feat in 1950 when he guided Clemson to a No. 10 AP final ranking, a 9-0-1 finish and a 15-14 win over Miami (Fla.) in the Orange Bowl.

When he retired in 1969, Howard was the fifth-winningest coach in the nation with 165 victories, quite an accomplishment considering only 38 percent of his games were at home. He had 96 wins as an ACC coach and captured six (five outright and one co-championship) ACC titles, a record Bobby Bowden broke in 1998. Howard's teams appeared in six bowl games, 63 of his players were drafted by the NFL, and 37 played in the league.

Howard, a native of Barlow Bend, Ala., had six top-20 seasons, won eight conference titles (two Southern, six ACC), won 100 conference games and was a two-time ACC Coach-of-the-Year. He coached 25 All-ACC Academic selections and six Academic All-Americans. Eleven of his players were chosen on-the-field All-Americans. Howard was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1989 and he was inducted into the Clemson Ring of Honor in 1994.

HOOTIE INGRAM

Hootie Ingram will be best remembered as the coach who made the Tiger Paw famous. Before his first year as head coach in 1970, Clemson introduced the Tiger Paw as the official logo of Clemson University's Athletic teams.

Ingram graduated from Alabama in 1955. He also received his master's degree in school administration from Alabama and later became Crimson Tide athletic director. The native of Tuscaloosa, Ala., was an All-SEC defensive back for the Crimson Tide as a senior. He had his best season (5-6) at Clemson in 1971. He also finished second in the ACC standings with a 4-2 league mark in 1971. He was later inducted into the Orange Bowl Hall of Fame.

RED PARKER

Red Parker spent four years at Clemson as head coach. His 1974 squad lived up to the theme "Excitement Galore, Clemson Football '74" and had a 7-4 record, with victories over Georgia, Georgia Tech and South Carolina. Before arriving in Tigertown, Parker spent seven years (1966-72) as head coach at The Citadel. He guided the Bulldogs to a 8-3 record during in the 1971 campaign.

Parker earned a bachelor's degree in physical education from Arkansas A&M in 1953. He earned three letters each in football, basketball and track, as a running back/defensive back, second baseman/shortstop and sprinter. He later served as head coach at Harmony Grove High School in Arkansas. He died Jan. 4, 2016.

CHARLEY PELL

Charley Pell, who was Clemson's head coach in 1977 and 1978, authored college football's Cinderella story in 1977. The Albertville, Ala. product took a team that was 3-6-2 in 1976, and led the 1977 Tigers to an 8-2-1 regular-season mark and a berth in the Gator Bowl. It was Clemson's first final top-20 season since 1959. He coached Clemson to a 10-1 regular season in the 1978 season before he left to become head coach at Florida. Clemson's 1978 team beat Ohio State in the Gator Bowl and finished ranked No. 6 in the AP poll in his second year as Clemson's head coach.

He was a near unanimous choice as ACC Coach-of-the-Year in 1977 and 1978, the first coach, regardless of sport, to win ACC Coach-of-the-Year honors in each of his first two years. A two-way starter and three-year letterwinner at Alabama, Pell was on its 1961 national championship team.

He came to Clemson in 1976 and served as assistant head coach and defensive coordinator. Pell passed away in June 2001 after battling cancer.

Danny Ford had an auspicious beginning to his head coaching career. He gained a 17-15 win over Ohio State in the 1978 Gator Bowl. The 30-year-old coach, the youngest in Division I at the time, also defeated a college football legend in a contest that put Clemson on the national map, as he defeated Woody Hayes in the latter's last game. He had taken over the coaching reigns on Dec. 10, 1978 when Charley Pell resigned to become head coach at Florida.

Ford kept things going in 1979 with wins over Georgia and Notre Dame and another trip to a bowl (Peach). In 1981, he helped Clemson reach the summit of college football by winning the national title. His Tigers downed three top-10 teams during the course of the 12-0 season that concluded with a 22-15 win over Nebraska in the Orange Bowl. Ford was named National Coach-of-the-Year.

The wins continued in 1982 and 1983, as Clemson had consecutive 9-1-1 years. Clemson finished in the top 12 in both years, and had a 30-2-2 record over a three-year period, best in the nation.

Clemson won three straight ACC titles under his guidance between 1986-88. In 1989, Clemson registered a 10-2 season and top 12 national ranking, the fourth straight season Clemson finished in the final AP top 20. He closed his career with a 27-7 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl, his sixth bowl win in eight tries and his fourth in succession.

Ford was the third winningest active coach in the nation on a percentage basis at the end of the 1989 season. He finished with a 96-29-4 career ledger at Clemson. Ford finished his Tiger career with a 76-percent winning percentage and five ACC championships.

The 1969 Alabama graduate is still the youngest coach to win the national title, as he was just 33 years old when the Tigers shocked the college football world in 1981. He coached 71 First-Team All-ACC selections and 26 All-Americans. Forty-two of his former Tigers were drafted by the NFL, and he earned 18 wins over AP top-20 teams during his career. Additionally, 11 of his former players won Super Bowl championship rings. At one stretch, his teams were ranked in the AP top 20 for 41 straight polls, a Tiger record.

Ford is a member of the Clemson Athletic Hall of Fame, the state of South Carolina Hall of Fame and the Orange Bowl Hall of Fame.

Ford was an All-SEC pick and All-SEC Academic choice at Alabama. He attended Alabama initially on a basketball/football scholarship, but he only played football after his freshman season. Ford played in three bowl games for the Crimson Tide. He later served as head coach at Arkansas from 1994-97. Ford was inducted into the Clemson Ring of Honor on Aug. 31, 2013 and was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in December 2017.

KEN HATFIELD

Ken Hatfield led the Tigers to a 32-13-1 record during his four-year tenure, led the squad to three bowl appearances and an ACC championship. With a victory over Illinois in the 1991 Hall of Fame Bowl, Hatfield became the first Clemson coach to win 10 games in his first year and his .833 winning percentage was the best for a first-year Clemson coach since 1900, when John Heisman was 6-0. That season included six victories over teams with winning records, more than any other team that year with the exception of National Champion Georgia Tech.

Hatfield was also just the eighth coach in the previous 13 years to take a team to a top-10 AP final ranking in his first year with the program, as the Tigers finished the year No. 9 in the AP poll. The Helena, Ark. native would also lead the 1991 and 1993 Tiger teams to top 25-rankings. Clemson became the third school that Hatfield coached to a top-20 ranking, as his 1983 Air Force team ranked No. 15 and he led four Arkansas teams to top-20 rankings. He became the sixth coach in NCAA history to accomplish that feat.

Hatfield played for three years at Arkansas (1962-64) and was a starter on the 1964 National Championship team. The defensive back earned his fame as the nation's top punt returner in 1963 and 1964. He was the first player to finish in the top two in the nation in punt returns three straight years, as he finished second in 1962. He retired as Rice's head coach in 2005 with 168 career wins. He is now retired and living in Arkansas.

Tommy West's five-year resumé as Clemson head coach included four bowl games, 12 road wins, 86 school records and previously unparalleled academic excellence. West took Clemson to three straight bowl games between the 1995 and 1997 seasons, just the second Clemson coach in history to take the Tigers to bowl games in three straight seasons.

Academically, 61 Tigers made the ACC Academic Honor Roll in his last four years, twice as many as the best previous four-year total in school history.

West took over as head coach on Nov. 29, 1993 and less than a month later had a bowl victory. The former Tennessee tight end succeeded Ken Hatfield, who left four days after a victory over South Carolina to end the 1993 season.

It was West's second tour of duty with Clemson. He had been a linebackers coach under Danny Ford between 1982-89. Clemson was 69-20-4 and had six AP top 20 finishes in that eight-year era.

West coached the Tigers in the 1993 Peach Bowl, a thrilling 14-13 win over Kentucky. He became the first coach in college history to win a bowl game in his first game without having coached the team in any capacity earlier in the year.

West's best season was 1995, as Clemson finished the regular season with five straight victories by 17 points or more and was invited to the Gator Bowl. Clemson was ranked in the top 25 of every poll at the end of the 1995 regular season. That Clemson team also finished fourth in the nation in rushing offense.

West recruited some of the top players in Tiger history. The school was in the top 10 in the nation in NFL draftees during the 1998 and 1999 selection process, and all 11 players were recruited by West. The list included three first-round defensive picks (Trevor Pryce, Anthony Simmons, Antwan Edwards). Clemson was the only school in the nation to have six defensive players drafted in 1999 and the only school to have a first-round defensive pick in 1997, 1998 and 1999.

The native of Gainesville, Ga. finished his career with a 31-28 record and had four wins over top-25 teams. He was the head coach at Memphis from 2001-09 and he led the Tigers to a nine-win season and their first bowl appearance in 32 years in 2003. He took Memphis to five bowls, and he coached in nine bowl games as a head coach. West was the defensive coordinator at Southern Mississippi in 2012 and was an assistant coach at Middle Tennessee from 2014-23.

TOMMY BOWDEN

Tommy Bowden was a consistent winner over his nine-and-a-half years as Clemson's head coach. From 1999-08, he never had a losing season, and that included a streak of eight consecutive winning seasons from 2000-07. During those seasons, only four other Division I coaches had a winning season in all eight of those years with the same program.

Bowden was a two-time ACC Coach-of-the-Year, joining Frank Howard, Charley Pell and Danny Ford (and later Dabo Swinney) with that distinction. He first won the honor in 1999, his first year when he took over a team that had been 3-8 the previous season, to a 6-6 season against a top-10 schedule according to the Sagarin ratings. Clemson played three undefeated teams during the regular season (Marshall, Virginia Tech, Florida State).

His first year included a nationally-televised game against Florida State that featured the first-ever Division I coaching matchup of father and son. Bobby Bowden's Seminoles won that game by a score of 17-14, Florida State's closest game in an undefeated national championship season. The game attracted over 85,000 fans and the largest media contingent in the history of Memorial Stadium. There were nine Bowden Bowls overall, with Bobby winning five games, but Tommy won four of the last five contests.

Bowden took Clemson to an 8-0 start and a No. 3 national ranking in 2000 before finishing with a 9-2 regular-season record and a No. 14 final ranking. The regular season concluded with a 16-14 victory over a top-25 South Carolina team. A 50-yard pass from Woodrow Dantzler to Rod Gardner is regarded as one of the most-exciting plays in Clemson history. The following year, Dantzler went on to become the first quarterback in Division I history to reach 2,000 passing yards and 1,000 rushing yards in a single season.

Bowden also won ACC Coach-of-the-Year honors in 2003 when he led the Tigers to a 9-4 record. That season, the Tigers won their last four games, including a 26-10 win over No. 3 Florida State. Clemson defeated South Carolina 63-17 in the regular-season finale and completed the season with a 27-14 win over No. 6 Tennessee in the Peach Bowl. Clemson finished the year in the top 25 of both polls as well.

Bowden finished with a 7-2 record against the Gamecocks. At the time of his departure, the 77.8 winning percentage was the best in school history among Clemson coaches who served the program at least five seasons. All seven of his victories were over Hall of Fame Head Coaches Lou Holtz and Steve Spurrier.

After a 3-3 start to the 2008 season, Bowden resigned on October 13, four days after a 12-7 loss at Wake Forest. He had a 72-45 record (.615) at Clemson for those nine-and-a-half seasons. Bowden never had a losing season, overall or in the ACC, during his nine complete seasons. He led the Tigers to eight bowl games.

Bowden now resides in Florida.

T.J. PARKER (#3) AND PETER WOODS (#11) COMBINED FOR SEVEN CAUSED FUMBLES IN THE 2024 SEASON.

BOWL HISTORY

Clemson has a rich bowl tradition. The Tigers have 27 bowl wins, tied for 11th most in history, and their 51 bowl games are 12th most. Their first bowl game was in the 1940 Cotton Bowl, when the Tigers defeated Boston College and Head Coach Frank Leahy 6-3.

The Tigers have played in a bowl game 36 of the last 40 years. That is among the top-10 bowl appearances since 1985. Clemson has also been bowl-eligible 26 consecutive years.

The Tigers have beaten some of the top programs in college football history in bowl games. The list of schools Clemson has beaten in a bowl game includes prominent programs Alabama, LSU, Miami (Fla.), Nebraska, Notre Dame, Ohio State, Oklahoma, Penn State, Stanford, Tennessee and West Virginia.

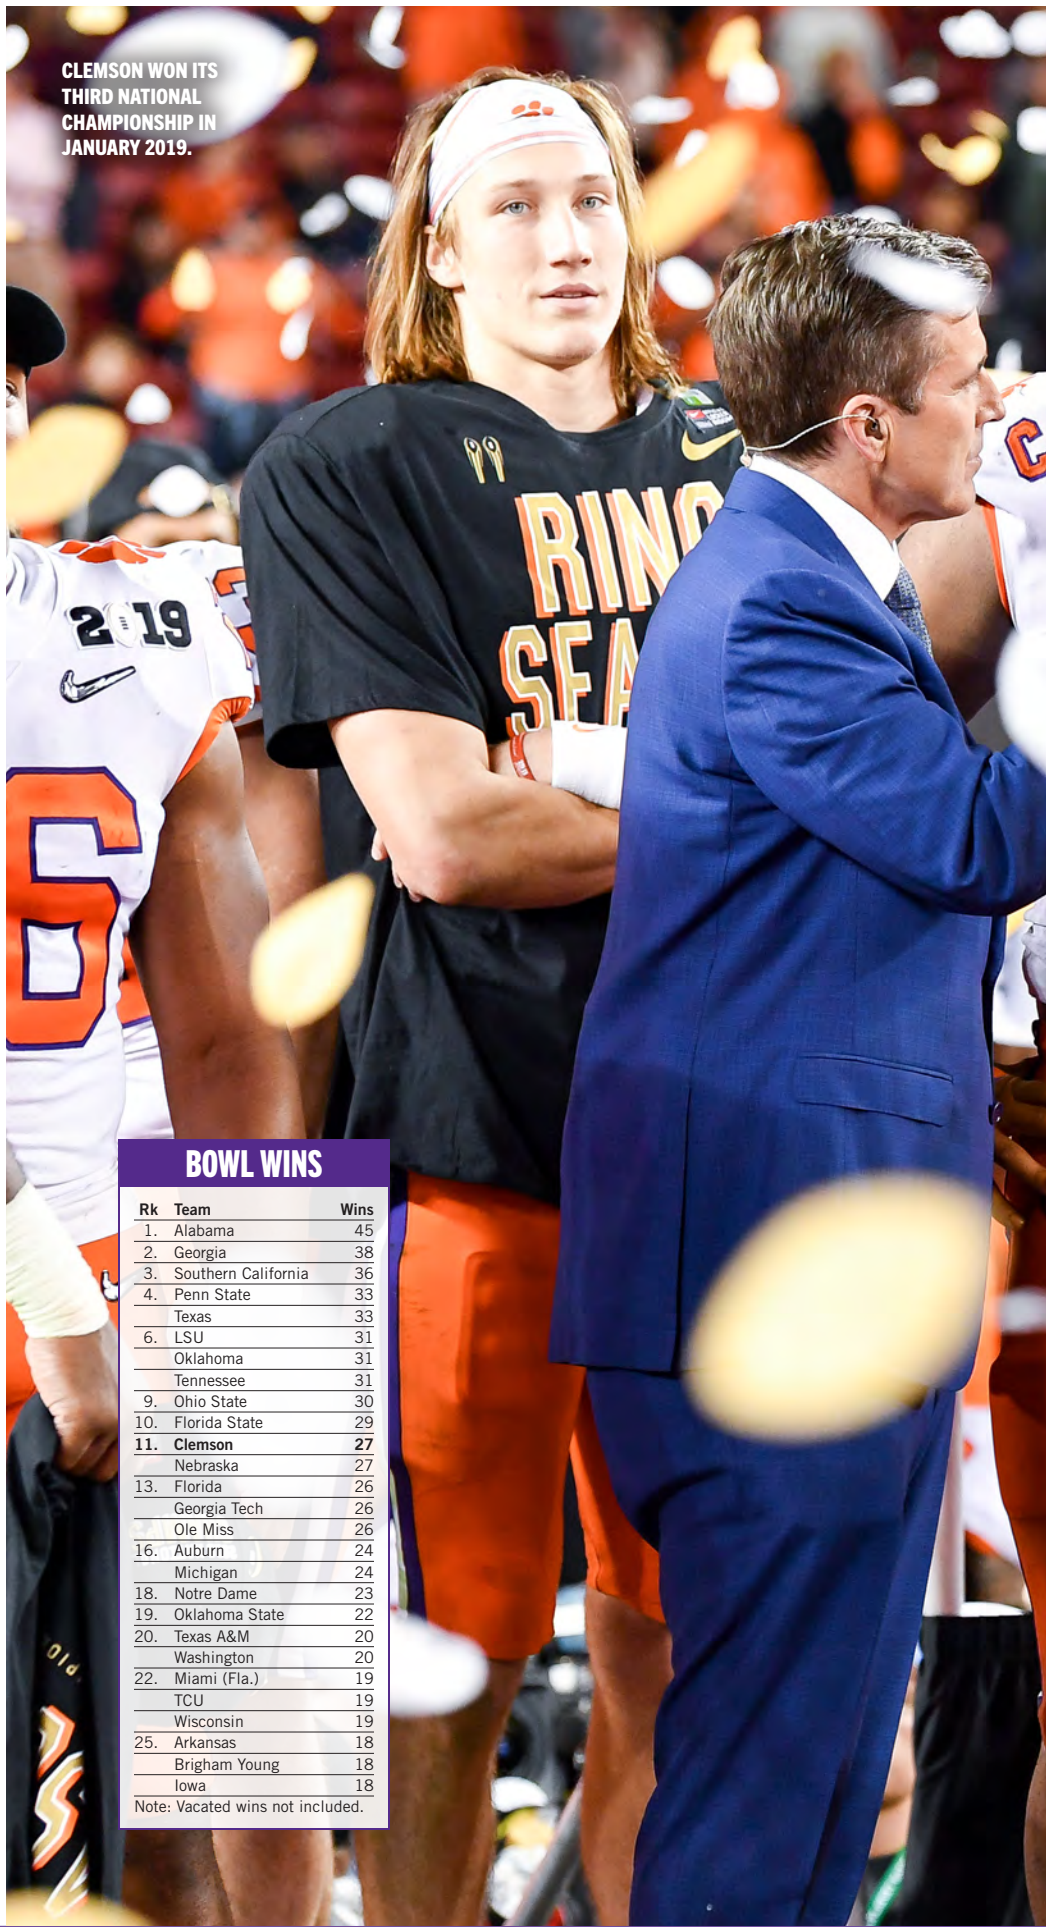
Clemson won its first three bowl games, victories over Boston College, Missouri and Miami (Fla.). The three head coaches Clemson defeated in those contests were Leahy, Don Faurot and Andy Gustafson, all three of whom are in the College Football Hall of Fame.

Seven different head coaches (Jess Neely, Frank Howard, Danny Ford, Ken Hatfield, Tommy West, Tommy Bowden, Dabo Swinney) have been victorious in bowl games for the Tigers since the 1939 season.

Overall, 14 of Clemson's 27 bowl wins have come against head coaches who are in the College Football Hall of Fame. The Tigers also have eight bowl wins over top-10 teams since 2012.

Clemson has achieved bowl wins over some of the greatest coaches in history:

- Frank Leahy when Clemson defeated Boston College in the 1940 Cotton Bowl.
- Joe Paterno (Penn State) when Clemson beat Penn State 35-10 in the 1988 Citrus Bowl. It was Paterno's largest margin of defeat in a bowl game.
- Woody Hayes (Ohio State) in the 1978 Gator Bowl, Hayes' last game as a coach.
- Barry Switzer (Oklahoma) in the 1989 Citrus Bowl, Switzer's final game as a college coach.
- Tom Osborne (Nebraska) in the 1982 Orange Bowl, which gave Clemson its first national championship at the end of the 1981 season.
- Don Nehlen (West Virginia) when Clemson downed the Mountaineers 27-7 in the 1989 Gator Bowl.
- Phillip Fulmer (Tennessee), who had over 150 career wins, in the 2003 Peach Bowl.
- Les Miles (LSU), who led the Tigers to the 2007 national championship, fell to Clemson 25-24 in the 2012 Chick-fil-A Bowl.
- Urban Meyer (Ohio State) in the 2014 Orange Bowl and 2016 Fiesta Bowl.
- Bob Stoops, who won a national championship in the 2000 season with Oklahoma, saw his Sooners fall in back-to-back bowl games, including the 2015 Orange Bowl.
- Nick Saban, who had won four national titles and was riding a 26-game winning streak, fell to the Tigers in the national championship game at the end of the 2016 season.
- Nick Saban for the second time at the end of the 2018 season, as the Tigers claimed their second national championship in three seasons with a 44-16 victory.



CLEMSON WON ITS THIRD NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP IN JANUARY 2019.

NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

STATE CHAMPIONS • ACC CHAMPIONS • FIESTA BOWL CHAMPIONS

The Tigers finished with a 14-1 record after defeating previously undefeated and top-ranked Alabama 35-31 in the CFP National Championship Game on Jan. 9. Clemson's 14 wins tied the FBS record for victories in a season.

Clemson was just the sixth national champion (since 1977) to play the nation's most difficult schedule the season it won the title.

Clemson defeated 11 FBS schools that finished with a winning record, including five that totaled 10+ wins and six that finished in the top 25 of the AP poll. Those schools were No. 2 Alabama, No. 6 Ohio State, No. 8 Florida State, No. 16 Virginia Tech, No. 21 Louisville and No. 24 Auburn.
